Bombs Rock N.Y. Offices

NEW YORK (AP) — Bombs exploded and caused extensive damage early today to the mid-Manhattan headquarters of three giant American corporations. No injuries were reported in the blasts, the second such attack on New York-based corporations in three months.

The explosions took place in the offices of the Mobil Oil Corp., the International Business Machines Corp. and the General Telephone and Electronics Corp. Each was evacuated after an anonymous caller warned of the impending blasts.

Bomb threats also were telephoned to the U.S. District Court buildings in Brooklyn and Manhattan Litton Industries Corp. and the mammoth New York Coliseum. All were being investigated by police.

Meanwhile, a group calling itself "Revolutionary Movement 9" claimed responsibility for the explosions in a special delivery letter to the United Press International news service.

The lettre said the explosions were "to attack and destroy the forces of death and exploitation and build up a just society. .. "

It said the bombed corporations were "enemies of all life" and profited from defense contracts.

The blasts were the latest in a series of bombings that have hit Manhattan skyscrapers and federal buildings. Five persons were charged in connection with a four-month sequence of bombings last November.

More recently there was the explosion of a Greenwich Village townhouse where police said members of a militant left-wing group were fashioning bombs and apparently bungled the job.

Police were reported checking any possible link between the

Senate Votes To Lower Vote Age Right To Ballot At Age 18

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted today to lower the voting age to 18 in all elections — federal, state and local. The vote was 64-17.

The action was taken on an amendment by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana to a bill to extend the 1965 Voting Rights Act for five years.

The effect, if the House approves it and the courts uphold its constitutionality, will be to extend the franchise to an estimate 10 to 11 million young people between the ages of 18 and 21 beginning with elections held after Jan. 1, 1971. Only Georgia, Kentucky, Alaska and Hawaii now permit persons under 21 to vote.

In a late action, the Senate defeated, 72-15, a move by Sen. James B. Allen, D-Ala., to make the age lowering effective only after the 1972 presidential election.

CITES CONFUSION

Allen, continuing to block a vote on the 18-year-old vote amendment to legislation to extend the 1965 Voting Rights Act, said that if it were adopted and later ruled invalid by the Supreme Court, the next presidential election could be thrown into confusion.

He asked the Senate to assume the court ruling came several days after millions of young people aged 18 to 21 had voted in the 1972 election.

"What sort of confusion would reign?" he asked. "Who would be president?"

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., backing Allen's proposal to make the effective date Jan. 1, 1973, said the sequence of events Allen outlined could result in the 1972 presidential election being thrown into the House of Representatives.

Similar arguments against the 18-year-old vote amendment of Mansfield, D-Mont., had been made earlier by Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, the GOP leader, and Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., ranking minority member of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

SHARP DEBATE

Mansfield's amendment stirred up sharp debate centered around whether the voting age can be lowered by an act of Congress or whether a constitutional amendment is required.

Allen earlier sided with senators who contend Congress has no power under the Constitution to lower the voting age.

Supporters had said the amendment is the quickest way to lower the voting age and decide its constitutionality by the courts.

Ex-Educator Due Top Draft Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon plans to nominate Curtis W. Tarr, an assistant secretary of the Air Force, as the new director of Selective Service.

Tarr, assistant secretary for manpower and reserve affairs, is a former president of Lawrence University in Appleton, Wis.

He would succeed Gen. Lewis B. Hershey who retired as draft director on Feb. 16.

Tarr's selection ended a long search by the administration for a successor to Hershey, who has become a manpower consultant to Nixon.

Tarr was asked by newsmen at the White House if he intended to follow in the long-established Hershey pattern.

Declaring that "man has to be an individual," Tarr said he had no intention of copying the life style or philosophy of anyone.

Tarr was president of Lawrence University from 1963 until his Air Force appointment in February 1969. He was also chairman of the Committee on Local Government Finances and Reorganization which was established by the Wisconsin legislature to study ways of improving state and municipal governments.

Nixon Calls For Domestic Council

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon called today for establishment of a new domestic council to formulate policy and creation of an office of management and budget to replace the Budget Bureau.

In a special message to Congress, Nixon summarized his plan for rrevamping of the Executive Office of the President:

"The Domestic Council will be primarily concerned with what we do; the Office of Management and Budget will be primarily concerned with how we do it, and how well we do it."

Nixon said he was acting because the machinery available to him to manage the federal bureaucracy "has not kept pace" with governmental growth.

"We in government often are quick to call for reform in other institutions," he said, "but slow to reform ourselves. Yet nowhere today is modern management more needed than in government itself."

And, he concluded that the place to begin moves toward improved management was in his own bailiwick, the Executive Office of the President.

Nixon said the proposed domestic council would "coordinate policy formulation in the domestic area," and added:

Reagan Files Official Papers, Pledges A Normal Campaign

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan filed his official reelection papers today and vowed to conduct a normal campaign despite one of the most tumultous starts in California political history.

"No band of storm troopers is going to prevent me from doing what I'm supposed to do for the state of California," Reagan said after paying his $982 filing fee at the old Los Angeles County Building.

Reagan also said kiddingly to Registrar-Recorder Ray E. Lee, "Say, I was in here about four years ago and I'd just like to complain about the job." He said he wanted "shorter hours."

The 59-year-old Republican faced two angry confrontations his first day on the campaign trail Wednesday—one at the University of California at Riverside and the other at the National Orange Show grounds in San Bernardino.

Reagan, at a Thursdy noon conference, praised campus administrators for suspending student militants who were arrested. He also said it was "significant" that at a campus with an enrollment of 5,400 students, only about 300 participated in the disturbance.

The demonstrators, Reagan said, used Hitler-like tactics but were not "symbolic of our youth today." He described them as "cowardly little Fascist bands."

The demonstrations involved demands for more state education money and Reagan said schools were his administration's top priority.

Treat Giver Nabbed As A Drug Suspect

A 30-year-old Santa Venetia man, suspected of giving neighborhood youngsters treats and gifts as well as puffs of marijuana, was arrested last night on drug charges after juvenile and narcotics officers raided his home.

Booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of possessing LSD and marijuana was David Malcolm Estep of 101 Hawthorne Way.

Juvenile officer Charles Prandi of the sheriff's department said that events leading to Estep's arrest started early yesterday morning when a 13-year-old Los Ranchitos girl was admitted to Kaiser Foundation Hospital for treatment of a bad LSD trip.

The youngster, hallucinating, shaking and speaking incoherently, had awakened her mother at 3 a.m., Prandi said. When she became rational after several hours at the hospital, juvenile officers interviewed her and she told them she had taken LSD about 11 p.m. on Tuesday, Prandi said.

The acid was in the form of a tiny dot on a small piece of paper which she said she put on her tongue. She told officers she had been given the drug by a 13-year-old Santa Venetia boy Tuesday afternoon.

The boy later told Prandi that he had taken two LSD tabs from Estep's house, the officer said.

Prandi said the youngster explained that he had been visiting Estep's home for several weeks and that Estep had shared marijuana cigarettes with him several times. The boy also told the officers that he had seen Estep breaking a kilo of pot down into lids and manicuring it.

One day, the boy said, according to Prandi, Estep received an envelope in the mail and said,

Police Seek Mystery Woman In Bomb Link

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) — A mystery woman was sought today by police investigating possible links between two bombings and the arson-riot trial of black militant H. Rap Brown.

Witnesses said the woman was in the Dorchester County Courthouse a few hours before a powerful explosive device blew a big hole in the building.

The blast early Wednesday followed by about 24 hours an explosion in a car on the outskirts of Bel Air—scene of Brown's trial—which killed two Negro men.

One has been identified as Ralph Featherstone, 31, a friend of Brown and his associate in civil rights campaign. The other man, according to other Brown associates was Herman Payne, 25.

In what State Police said was a development unrelated "at this time," they disclosed belatedly that 7,000 dynamite detonators had been stolen from an ordnance company located between the two explosion sites.

State Police said they were looking for a Negro woman, a former employee of the Ordnance Products, Inc., at North East, about 20 miles from Bel Air and 70 from Cambridge. They said the woman had lived in Wilmington, Del., and had a key to the plant when she was discharged recently.

Lt. Col. Charles L. Andrews, State Police commander of the district, said the theft took place between 4:45 p.m. Monday and 8 a.m. Tuesday.

Bishel Quits Over Interest Conflict Law

Gale E. Bishel, chairman of the Tamalpais Community Services District board, has resigned his post in protest of the new state law requiring incumbent officials to make full disclosures of their financial assets by April 15. Candidates must file by April 6.

Bishel, the first Marin official to resign rather than reveal his assets, said there was "absolutely no conflict of interest between my financial holdings and my position as a district board member." But he termed the disclosure requirement "an invasion of my privacy" and said he wanted "no part of it."

Calling the law "possibly unconstitutional" and verry vague," the chairman, who has served eight years on the district board, said he feels his financial holdings are "nobody else's business."

He said he "regretfully submitted" his written resignation to the board at its Tuesday meeting.

U.S. Combat Deaths Off; More Wounded

SAIGON (AP) — The total of U.S. combat deaths in Vietnam dropped to 88 last week, a reduction of 22 per cent from the previous week's three-month high of 113. But the wounded total jumped 72 per cent, from 465 to 803.

The U.S. Command's weekly summary of casualties raised the total number of Americans reported killed in action in Vietnam to 40,846 since Jan. 1, 1961. A total of 269,099 Americans have been reported wounded, and another 1,363 are listed as missing or captured.

The allied commands claimed 2,105 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were killed last week, bringing the reported enemy total for the war to 607,886. The Saigon government's battle dead exceeded the U.S. total for the 42nd consecutive week, with 343 men reported killed and 742 wounded.

The U.S. Command reported three American helicopters were destroyed by ground fire Wednesday, including an OH58 Kiowa observation craft, the latest model chopper to join the Vietnam war. It was the first Kiowa loss reported.

This brought to 3,348 the total number of helicopters reported lost in the Vietnam war since Jan. 1, 1961.

Three other U.S. Army helicopters were shot up Wednesday night—but not destroyed—while trying to rescue wounded men of the Americal Division during a battle 12 miles south of Quang Ngai City.

The U.S. infantrymen came under heavy mortar fire followed by a ground attack, U.S. headquarters reported. American infantrymen returned the fire and called in helicopter gunships.

Schools' 15 Pct. Ethnic Rule Killed; Courts Hit

COMBINED AP & UPI

SACRAMENTO — The State Board of Education voted 7-3 today to drop the 15 per cent racial imbalance guideline it established last year for California public schools.

It was done on the recommendation of Board President Howard Day of Long Beach who said there has been "distortion of our original intention through judicial decisions."

Day said, "It was never the intention of the State Board of Education as it existed in 1969 to have judges use our advisory guidelines as iron-clad rules of law."

New guidelines will be presented at a public hearing in May.

The old guidelines in general meant that when a school got 15 per cent or more out of balance racially with the rest of the district's schools, the district could redistribute students by shuffling attendance boundaries or by transporting students to other schools.

The board went on record as favoring the achievement of ethnic balance in public schools by means other than by compulsory busing.

Still, Day pointed out, "we must have guidelines which will

Marin GI Killed In Copter Crash

A 19-year-old Woodacre soldier was killed Sunday in South Vietnam, when a helicopter he was riding crashed from unknown cause at Quang Duc.

Spec. 4/C Wim Goeree, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius P. Goeree of 21 Madrone Avenue, Woodacre, was listed by the Army as dying "not as a result of hostile action."

According to the Army, he was a door-gunner in an assault helicopter unit stationed at Ban Me Thuot.

He entered the army in October 1968 and began his tour in Vietnam in December 1969. No other information was available.

Laos Urge Red Pullout As Essential For Cease-Fire

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) - Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma said today his royal Laotian government is "ready for a cease-fire," but North Vietnam must withdraw its troops before there is a cessation of American bombing in Laos.

The chief of state acknowledged in an interview that American bombing raids had been stepped up in recent months at his request in response to an increased North Vietnamese threat.

Souvanna was asked about a new peace proposal by the Communist Pathet Lao, calling for a cease-fire and an end to U.S. intervention in Laos.

"Let's not talk uniquely about aerial bombardment," the premier said. "We must also talk about the presence of North Vietnamese troops. The two things are tied together, on one hand the withdrawal of the North Vietnamese troops and on the other the stopping of the bombardment . . . .

Prince Souvanna agreed with President Nixon's statement that North Vietnam infiltrated more than 13,000 additional troops into Laos during the past few months, raising their total strength in the country to more than 67,000.

"So, because of the increase of these North Vietnamese troops in Laos . . . the government was obliged to ask for more aerial intervention."

Guerrillas Wound Six Israeli Gls

TEL AVIV (AP) — Arab guerrillas wounded six Israeli soldiers in a clash today at the fog-shrouded northern end of the occupied Golan Heights, the Israeli army announced.

A spokesman said after the attack that a patrol found the body of one Arab guerrilla and four mines, which were dismantled.

Arab saboteurs set off explosives in the occupied Gaza Strip for the third day in a row, hurling a hand grenade at an Israeli military vehicle.

The Israelis said four Arab bystanders were wounded in the blast at Deir el Balah but the vehicle was not damaged.

Israeli officers described the grenade attacks in the strip as "a campaign to disrupt the day-to-day life." Grenades injured 22 Arab civilians in the same town Wednesday.

Strike Stalls Vegas Strip

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The glittering marquees were dark. The rooms where the show acts go on were empty. The gaming tables were nearly deserted.

It was the first day of the first full-scale strike on the Las Vegas Strip.

The luxurious casino-hotels that line the Strip were still open, but only to give guests time to leave.

For the first time in 30 years, casino manager John Hughes pulled the money boxes from the craps tables of the Sahara Hotel and closed up the game. "I didn't think it could ever happen," he said.

About 14,000 bartenders, maids, waitresses and kitchen workers struck Wednesday in a wage dispute with the Nevada Resort Association, representating 16 Strip establishments.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Praise To Agnew

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has told big-money Republicans that Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, "the man nobody knew," is the pride of the administration, the most effective fund-raising speechmaker ever to hold the office.

Nixon, once vice president himself, praised Agnew for his off-stage performance in the councils of government, too.

"There were those who said when I chose him, 'Well, that proves the new President doesn't know how to choose men,'" Nixon said. "Well, if that is the kind of mistakes I've made, I'm proud of this one, believe me."

Agnew's emergence as the party's star political performer was among the themes woven into the campaign-year oratory at a black tie dinner that raised nearly $2 million for the GOP Wednesday night.

The party's leaders in Congress, then Agnew, then Nixon, needled the Democrats and spoke of high hopes for Republican gains in the House and Senate in the Nov. 3 elections.

Oil Slick Hope

OFF THE LOUISIANA COAST (AP) — Brisk winds blowing seaward brought hope today that a massive oil slick might spare coastal oyster beds and a wildlife refuge which is a winter home for hundreds of thousands of seafowl.

The slick escaped encircling booms and barges Wednesday when high seas broke up the protective chain which had been containing most of it.

The oil was spewing from wells on a Chevron Oil Co. platform, 30 miles out in the Gulf of Mexico, where a month-long fire was blown out with dynamite Tuesday.

A company spokesman said the fire would be reignited "if oil keeps moving to the oyster beds." The company also was ready if necessary to frighten the threatened birds away with explosive charges.

Barry Jr.'s Score

WASHINGTON (AP) — Quietly and without fanfare, Rep. Barry M. Goldwater Jr. nears the end of his first year in Congress sporting a higher conservative rating than his famous father.

"He hasn't gotten over it yet," the youngest Republican in Congress said of Arizona Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, whose voice of conservatism led him to the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

The 31-year-old Californian was referring in an interview to ratings published last month by Americans for Constitutional Action. Barry Jr. rated 91 per cent conservative on his 1969 voting record; Barry Sr. 90 per cent.

Does he resent comparison with his famous dad?

"No, I'm flattered," said Barry Jr. But he does not always agree with his father.

For instance Barry Sr. has introduced legislation to give 18-year-olds the right to vote.

"I'm not convinced," said Barry Jr.

Lamar Calm

LAMAR, S.C. (AP) — Attendance rose to 251 Wednesday at a Lamar high school and elementary complex reopened Tuesday under heavy police guard after a week's closure because of integration violence.

Supt. Cliff Severence said the increase from 76 present on Tuesday was "very encouraging." He said Wednesday's attendance included 40 whites and 112 Negroes in the high school and 25 whites and 74 Negroes in the elementary school.

Total enrollment in the two schools is about 1,000 pupils.

Two more men were arrested Wednesday, raising to 31 the number of white men arrested on riot charges. All have been freed under bond of $2,000 each for hearings.

Jet Phase Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — It is now official: the Pentagon will end production of the trouble-plagued F-111 aircraft at a maximum of 556 planes—less than a quarter of the number originally proposed six years ago.

Gen. James Ferguson, head of the Air Force Systems Command, told the Senate Armed Services Committee Wednesday the Pentagon will spend no money on F-111 production beyond the budget year ending in mid-1972.

This, he said, will round out payments for four F-111 fighter wings, although there is some doubt whether Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird will approve purchase of the final 40 planes of the fourth unit.

All but six test models among the 225 operational F-111s have been grounded for intensive X-ray and sonic inspection as a result of the crash of the 13th F-111 at Las Vegas, Nev., last December.

Unity Idea Praised

ST. LOUIS (AP) —Roman Catholic observers say the plan evolving here for a broadly united Protestant church would strengthen efforts toward eventual unity of all Christians.

"We see many things in this plan of positive value to our relationships with other churches and that would make the work of unity easier," said the Rev. John Hotchin of Washington, D.C.

The Rev. George Tavard of Princeton, N.J., a noted Roman Catholic theologian, voiced a "great deal of optimism" about the plan, particularly because it embraces so many denominations of such differing traditions.

Such a move toward unity of one section of Christianity "contributes to the ultimate union of all Christians," he said.

Blood Drive Set

A Corte Madera community blood drive will be held March 26 from 2 to 7 p.m. in a mobile unit of the Marin Blood Center at Tamalpais and Pixley streets. Persons having blood donor club accounts with the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank may make appointments at the center, 306 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

$30 Million Plan For Drug Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, announcing a $30 million increase in federal research and education efforts to fight narcotics traffic, says "drug addiction among school-age youth is increasing at an alarming rate."

In a statement issued Wednesday, Nixon said:

"Although appropriations for drug education and training have grown six-fold between fiscal 1969 and fiscal 1971, the situation calls for much greater effort."

He called for $135.6 million in education and research funds for the fiscal year starting July 1, up from $105.8 million in the current budget year.

One feature of the Nixon drug program will increase available money for marijuana research by the National Institute of Mental Health to $3.3 million in fiscal 1971, compared to $2.6 million currently.

Dr. Stanley F. Yolles, director of the institute, said researchers are convinced that marijuana "is not an innocuous drug" and can lead in some cases to toxic psychosis and disrupt patterns of thought, speech, and memory. He acknowledged, however, he knew of no documented case of the drug causing a single death.

When asked if marijuana represented a more serious problem than alcohol, Yolles said: "We don't have the answer as yet. Both drugs have negative effects."

Nixon announced plans to spend $3.5 million through the Office of Education to train teachers and other school personnel in the fundamentals of drug abuse education. When spread among all the states, however, grants to each will be quite modest, ranging from $40,000 to $210,000 each.

The President also has ordered the creation of a National Clearing House for Drug Abuse and Education "giving the public one central office to contact."

Ex-Sen. Homer T. Bone, 87, Dies

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Homer T. Bone, former U.S. senator and U.S. Circuit Court judge, died in Tacoma Wednesday. He was 87.

Bone, who was born in Franklin, Ind., and came to Tacoma in 1899, was elected to the state House of Representatives in 1922 and to the U.S. Senate in 1932.

He was reelected to the Senate in 1938 and later resigned to accept a judgeship in the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in San Francisco.

He served 10 years on the bench, retiring in 1954.

Senior Citizens To Run Museum?

The Pony Express Museum in Country Club Tract, which was donated to the county by the late Col. Waddell F. Smith, can be staffed by senior citizens of Marin and used as an educational, cultural and historical center for the public.

This suggestion came yesterday from Edward T. Ryken, executive director of the Marin Senior Coordinating Council, at a meeting of the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission.

Ryken said the center could be staffed by senior citizens and operated with little or no cost to the county. However, public tours through the museum would have to be on a scheduled basis, said Ryken.

Before any decision is made on the use of the museum, Commissioner Helen E. Newman declared, an appraisal should be made of the value of Colonel Smith's collection so that proper protection can be provided for the two-acre property. It is located at 75 Margarita Drive, San Rafael.

On a motion by Melton Ferris and a second by Mrs. Newman, the commissioners recommended that the Marin County Board of Supervisors have the property appraised before any other decision is made.

Mrs. Walter Zwieg of Kentfield, representing the Atheneum Arts Foundation, said her group is also interested in using the premises as headquarters. Ryken said he thought joint use of the Pony Express center quite possible.

Pierre W. Joske, director of parks and recreation, noted that the property is in a residential area, and its use as a public museum would require approval from the county zoning administrator.

Rec Panel Maps Out Joint Session Topics

Marin County parks and recreation commissioners declared yesterday they are criticized for inaction and yet are too often ignored by the county supervisors when they do act and make recommendations.

The commission, headed by Chairman Lothar Salin, agreed that this dilemma should be the number one topic when it meets with the Marin County Board of Supervisors at 9 a.m. on March 31 at the Civic Center.

The role of the parks commission was questioned by County Administrator Alan Bruce last September when he issued his report, suggesting cutbacks on the many commissions and committees in county government. The Bruce report questioned the usefulness of the commission and suggested it could be dissolved.

Commissioners decided that other items to be discussed at the joint meeting with supervisors would be the 1970-71 parks budget and a proposed tennis and swim center somewhere in the county.

Marin Park-Recreation Commission Also:

SYMPOSIUM—Agreed that a countywide symposium should be held some time in the fall to discuss with citizens the role of the parks commission and the future goals. Walter Odets and Michael Wolfe, who operate Alpha Photojournalists Cooperative of Mill Valley, presented a colored slide program on Point Reyes as a sample of what could be used at the symposium.

BOLINAS LAGOON—Asked Joske to recommend to the county supervisors that the county complete the acquisition of shoreline property at the northwest end of Bolinas Lagoon. The county has already acquired shoreline property on both sides of the lagoon, but about 30 more acres remain in private ownership at the intersection of Shoreline Highway and the road leading into Bolinas.

NEW MEMBER—Welcomed Leroy M. Gerner of Novato, who succeeded Elizabeth Davies on the commission.

MARATHON—Frowned on the proposed Golden Gate Marathon, which is scheduled to be run on Memorial Day from Paradise Beach Park to San Francisco's Marina Green. Commissioners said there are too many drawbacks, including street congestion, particularly on Memorial Day.

Joyrider Given 10 Days In Jail

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court yesterday sentenced Don Borges, 30, of Belmont, to 10 days in jail for joyriding.

Borges had earlier been accused of felony car theft but pleaded guilty to the reduced charge in December.

He and another man, Donald Lee Humes, 30, of San Francisco, were arrested Oct. 19 after California Highway Patrol helicopter followed them in the stolen car from Mount Tamalpais to West Marin where they crashed four miles east of Bolinas. Borges was then evacuated in the copter to Marin General Hospital, where he was treated for injuries suffered in the crash.

Humes earlier completed a jail sentence.

Car Theft Case Sent To Probation Office

Steven Scott Schuster, 18, of 78 Graceland Drive, San Rafael, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of stealing a car Feb. 17.

His case was continued until March 25 for a report from the probation office whether he is acceptable to juvenile court.

Red Teacher Case To Court

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The California Supreme Court took jurisdiction Wednesday in the case of Angela Davis, the admitted communist who was dismissed from her teaching post at UCLA.

The high court said it would conduct hearings on the attempts of the University of California Board of Regents to fire Miss Davis.

Miss Davis was dismissed by the regents last fall. No date was set for the hearings.

Earlier Wednesday in Los Angeles, Superior Court Judge Richard Schauer denied Miss Davis' motion to compel the regents to "define their issues."

Candidates Night Slated In Fairfax

The Fairfax Lions Club, Human Needs Forum and the League of Women Voters will sponsor a candidates night, March 30 at 8 p.m. at Manor School in Fairfax.

According to Paul Mills of the Fairfax Lions Club all seven Fairfax City Council candidates expect to appear.

New Park's Admission Fee Argued

Should admission be charged to the county's newly acquired park at McNears Beach?

Marin County parks and recreation commissioners yesterday discussed this and other questions on the use of the new park but postponed decisions until the next meeting on April 8.

On Tuesday, the Marin County Board of Supervisors voted to buy the 24-acre property for $535,000.

Pierre W. Joske, director of parks and recreation, reported that the park will be opened up as soon as possible. "We hope to have it ready for the annual Marin Aquacade in June," said Joske.

AUTO FEE PROPOSED

Because of the existing pool, two tennis courts and three buildings on the property, maintenance will be expensive, said Joske. He suggested that admission be charged at $1 per car from November through April and $1.50 per car from May through October. He said charging each pedestrian or by person would require too much staff time, whereas an automatic gate could control cars.

"Wouldn't that set a precedent?" asked Commissioner Helen E. Newman. "Should we charge here and not at Paradise Beach Park?" She said she would prefer charging for the use of the pool and tennis courts.

"I think we should either charge for all parks or we don't," said Chairman Lothar Salin. At his suggestion, the commissioners asked Joske for a more detailed report on cost of maintenance, the type of activities planned, and anticipated revenues. Joske will bring in his report on April 8. A name for the new park will also be discussed at that time.

USE OF FUNDS

Joske suggested that revenue from this or other county parks be set aside for the park acquisition fund.

On a motion by Commissioner Melton Ferris, the commissioners voted 4 to 1 to send this recommendation to the county supervisors:

As a matter of principle, funds generated by park use should be returned to the land acquisition fund or to a park improvement fund.

Albert J. Boro, the lone dissenter, argued that other decisions should be made first before a recommendation is made on what to do with revenue. Questions such as charging of admission and the anticipated cost of maintenace should be answered first, said Boro.

Blood, Sweat, Tears Top Grammy Winners

NEW YORK (AP) — A nine-man rock group, a pop song and a machine that looks like a small computer did better than any individuals when 44 Grammies were awarded for the best recordings of 1969.

Three Grammies apiece went to the rock group Blood, Sweat and Tears, the pop song "Games People Play," and the album "Switched-on Bach" which is performed on the Moog Synthesizer, a computer-like machine that can sound like any instrument in an orchestra.

Winners of the Grammies, statuettes shaped like gramophones, were announced Wednesday night.

"Blood, Sweat and Tears," the group's second LP, combining rock, jazz and classical music, won as the best album of the 1969 contest year. Group member Fred Lipsius won the arranging award for the group's hit "Spinning Wheel." "Variations on a Theme by Eric Satie" won for BS&T in the best contemporary instrumental performance category.

"Games People Play" was named song of the year and best contemporary song, with two Grammies going to writer Joe South. Saxophonist King Curtis's playing of the song won for him in the rhythm 'n' blues instrumental performance category.

"Switched-on Bach" was named the classical album of 1969, the best solo instrumental classical performance and the best engineered classical recording.

Crosby, Stills and Nash were acclaimed best new pop artists of 1969.

Peggy Lee won the best female vocal performance Grammy for "Is That All There Is?" and Nilsson won as best male vocalist with "Everybody's Talkin'," written by Fred Neil, in the movie "Midnight Cowboy." Composer John Barry's instrumental theme for "Midnight Cowboy" won as best theme tune.

A couple of other tunes also did well.

"A Boy Named Sue" won "best country song" for its writer, Shel Silverstein, and "best country male vocal performance" for Johnny Cash. Cash also won that category last year, for "Folsom Prison Blues." This year he won a second Grammy, for best album notes, those he wrote for Bob Dylan's "Nashville Skyline."

"The Love Theme from (the movie) Romeo and Juliet" won "best contemporary performance by a chorus," as performed by Percy Faith's group, and "best instrumental arrangement" for arranger Henry Mancini. Mancini has won in that category five times previously during the 12 years Grammy awards have been given by the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences.

Newsday Hinted Merger Target

NEW YORK (AP) — The Times-Mirror Co., publisher of the Los Angeles Times, says it has been holding merger discussions with Newsday, Inc., publisher of the nation's largest suburban newspaper.

A high source in Los Angeles confirmed a published report that officials of the Times-Mirror Co. had signed a letter of intent to purchase Newsday, a Long Island newspaper, for $75 million.

The report, published in today's New York Times said, however, that individuals close to the negotiations have reported that minority stockholders in Newsday are balking at the prospective sale.

Four Hurt In Auto Accident

Four persons were treated at Marin General Hospital for neck sprains Monday following an auto accident on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Lagunitas Road, Ross police reported today.

The hospital said Jess W. Waters, 23; Leslie M. Waters, 21; Deanna Palmer, 19; and Eve Segro, 50, all of 1333 Fourth Street, San Rafael, complained of neck pains.

The Ross Police Department, which was unaware of the accident until today, said it occurred at 7:40 p.m. when an auto driven by William G. Isetta of 45 Mapel Avenue, Fiarfax, reportedly ran into the rear of the foursome's auto, which had stopped for a red light.

School Merger Study Panel Being Supported

The Mill Valley Human Rights Commission last night supported creation of a committee that would look into possible unionization of the Sausalito and Mill Valley school districts and areas of "mutual concern" between the two entities, according to commission chairman George R. Pohlmann.

Sausalito School District officials gave official endorsement of a unionization study at a meeting of the Mill Valley board Monday. The Sausalitans favored formation of a joint committee to look into merger possibilities.

In other matters last night, the commission was briefed by William Lewis, a member of a citizens committee supporting passage of a June 2 referendum that would enable construction of 600 low-income housing units in Marin, and discussed treatment of youths confined at Juvenile Hall and summer employment, but took no action.

Stereo, Radio Thefts Reported

Stereophonic equipment and a radio with a total value of $281 were stolen from two cars in San Rafael since Tuesday, police reported today.

Stereo equipment valued at $129 was taken yesterday between 2 and 7 a.m. from a car owned by Dale J. Willey of Hamilton Air Force Base Barracks 424 and parked in front of 23 Fairfax Street, police said.

A $50 radio and $102 stereo equipment were stolen between 6 p.m. Tuesday and 6:30 a.m., yesterday from a car owned by Gwynteh A. Dahl and parked in her carport at 255 Canal Street, according to police.

Perry Mason Creator Gardner Dies At 80

TEMECULA, Calif. (AP) — Erle Stanley Gardner, the lawyer-turned-writer who created Perry Mason, is dead at age 80.

His office, announcing his death Wednesday, said only that he did not recover from an illness for which he was hospitalized earlier this month. Other sources said he had cancer.

His wife, the former Jean Bethell, his long-time secretary before their marriage, was with him at the end at his 3,000-acre Rancho del Paisano in a hilly area southeast of Los Angeles. He had lived there more than 30 years.

Spectacled, stentorian of voice, usually deadpanned in expression, the maestro of mysteries rose at 4 a.m. to dictate a daily average of 20,000 words into recording machines.

With the help of eight secretaries, he often produced six books a years.

A 1968 book, "70 Years of Best Sellers," termed Gardner history's biggest selling author. As of 1969, Gardner's publisher, William Morrow & Co., said 167 million of his books had been sold in the United States alone with uncounted millions more sold in foreign lands. They were translated into 23 languages.

Of Gardner's 142 books, 80 were Mason mysteries. His second string was a series about Bertha Cool, a woman detective, and her right-hand man, Donald Lam, written under the pen name A. A. Fair. Other Gardner pseudonyms included Carleton Kendrake and Charles J. Kenney.

Seventy-five Gardner books sold more than a million copies each. Thirteen were nonfiction, chiefly travel stories.

Gardner's last two books sold more than a million copies each. Thirteen were nonfiction, chiefly travel stories.

Gardner's last two books, recently published, were "Host With the Big Hat," an account of a visit to Mexico, and "Cops on Campus and Crime in the Streets," which he called observations "by a concerned citizen."

Gardner gave much time and effort to the Court of Last Resort, a nonprofit project dedicated to freeing wrongly convicted persons.

Born in Malden, Mass., Gardner traveled the country in his youth with his father, a mining engineer. They settled in California.

At 21, without university training, Gardner read law books and passed the California Bar examination. Entering practice in rural Oxnard, he recalled afterward, he defended "vagrants, Peeping Toms and chicken thieves as if they were great statesmen ... I had clients from all classes except the upper and middle."

Spring Program In Rec Department

The San Rafael Park and Recreation Department is starting spring sports programs at Vallecito, Santa Venetia and Davidson Junior High Schools.

The after-school activities will include track and field, softball and archery. In addition, there will also be special Saturday activities such as cookouts, bike trips and a fossil hunt.

How to Alarm a Burglar

$2 Billion Annual Business

By Charles Howe

Burglars, the majority operating during daylight hours, plundered some 2 million homes and businesses all across the country in 1969, with every indication 1970 will be an even bigger year.

Perhaps $600 million in goods and cash was stolen, national police figures show, with an average break-in every 17 seconds of every day of the year.

As a result frightened citizens here and elsewhere have started installing burglar alarms creating a new business grossing $2 billion annually.

And insurance companies, which watch crime statistics the way a canny investor watches the Dow Jones ticker, have grown selective on who will — and who won't — get burlary insurance.

SELECTIVE

Insurance company spokesmen admit they are starting to deny coverage on a "selective basis" to some homes and firms that have been repeatedly burglarized.

However, if the householder or businessman asking for burglary insurance has an alarm installed by a "Grade A" firm so rated by the Underwriter's Laboratories, run by major insurance companies, the rate can be cut even further.

Types of alarms being installed abound, ranging from a $1.98 wind-up gadget that emits a tinny whine all the way up to sophistacated "presence detectors" that trip an alrm in a huge warehouse if triggered by the movement of a human body.

One of the most popular alarms on the market — and it doesn't qulaity for an insurance rate cut yet — is the "dialer."

Wired to the telephone, it calls police with a prerecorded message announcing "a burglary or holdup is in progress" at a stated address when an intruder enters and triggers an alarm.

One of the largest firms distributing the dialer is American Sentry Systems, with offices here and in San Rafael. The company sells a basic alarm system for $295 upwards, with $1000 in free burglary coverage thrown in to boot.

Unlike many dialer firms, American Sentry maintains close liaison with police departments and would like to put out of business a number of similar organizations that install dialers improperly and refuse to do maintenance on them.

The latter groups — no one knows how many are in business — are the bane of police departments across the country. Indeed, some cities — Los Angeles and Oakland have made it virtually impossible for them to be installed by writing tough ordinances controlling installations.

The problem with dialers, police say, is that defective ones keep calling headquarters, tying up vitally needed switchboards and repeating inane messages that are, most frequently, false alarms.

In San Francisco, Lieutenant Mario Amoroso, head of the Communications Division, said he is studying restrictive legislation to prohibit most dialers — or at least stringently regulate their use.

Ideally, the dialers would be monitored by a station manned by the people who installed them as American Sentry now does — and unlike the hundreds of others now in operation in the city.

EXPERIMENT

One of the four Bay Area firms that have a Class A rating — that is, they have a central alrm station manned 24 hours a day and provide armed alarm experts who frequently arrive on the scene before police do — is Bay Alarm of Oakland.

Operated by Bruce and Everett Westphal and in business since 1946, Bay experimented with dialers and discontinued their use.

"They were too much trouble," said Everett Westphal, father of Bruce. "Moreover, poorly selling them has any practical alarm experience."

The Westphals maintain it takes years to train an alarm technician and decry the fact that in most cities — San Francisco among them — anyone can open a burglar alarm business, even a convicted felon.

About 70 per cent of the Westphals' jobs run from $150 to $500 "as a ballpark average," with equipment owned by the firm and a variable monthly service charge billed to the subscriber.

BURGLARY

Lieutenant George Dyer, head of the Burglary Detail here, admitted he had no idea how many burglar alarm systems of all types have been installed in the city in the past year.

A pragmatist, he said a good alarm system in any home would certainly reduce the risk of having valuables — and $200 is the average haul — stolen.

A $50 lock on the front door, a light burning at night and recording the serial numbers of credit cards and appliances wouldn't hurt either, Dyer added.

Failing all this, the lieutenant said, "get a dog that likes to bark."

Understudies Take Lead Roles In Paris Session

PARIS (AP) — When Nguyen Van Tien walked into the old Hotel Majestic this morning for the 58th session of the Vietnam peace talks, somebody shouted: "Where's Madam Binh?"

Tien turned and smiled. "She's home," he said.

The downgrading of the talks was continuing and no one seemed to care.

Tien was replacing Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh as the Viet Cong representative; North Vietnamese Ambassador Xuan Thuy was in the south of France, extending his boycott to 13 consecutive weeks and South Vietnam's delegation chief, Pham Dang Lam, was vacationing in Copenhagen.

U.S. Ambassador Philip C. Habib, whose title of "acting" delegation head riles the Communist side, was ready to continue his quest for a list of U.S. prisoners and a guarantee of their good treatment.

The U.S. delegate arrived at the session without a prepared statement, a tactic devised to provoke free discussion.

"This doesn't mean that I don't know what I'm going to say," Habib explained. So far the tactic has failed.

Nguyen Xuan Phong, the South Vietnamese replacement, read an 1,800-word statement assailing the Communist position, which he said "is full of blood, fire and hatred."

Nguyen Minh Vy, North Vietnamese delegate, accused President Nixon of plunging the United States into another Vietnam in Laos. He said this was in direct contradiction to "the Nixon doctrine" that promises "there will be no more Vietnams."

Alluding to statements by U.S. officials and Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma of Laos that North Vietnam has at least 40,000 men fighting in Laos, Vy said the Americans have "tried to slander" the north Vietnamese to justify their "aggression."

Extending Rec Program Is Sought

The Larkspur Parks and Recreation Commission last night heard a recommendation that the summer recreation program should be extended from six to eight weeks, but declined to take any action.

According to the recreation director, Harlan Barry, the board will consider the question at its next meeting April 8.

He said the request was based on the need for more specialized programs and instruction.

He said the board did, however, decide to proceed with a planned tot lot at Piper Park. The board will now seek an architect to prepare the preliminary plans.

Total cost of the project, Barry said, should run about $7,500 of which $2,500 has been pledged by the Larkspur Lions Club.

He added that the Larkspur Volunteer Fire Department has offered to supply needed labor for the lot.

"Here are my goodies," when he opened it. Inside the boy said, were sheets of paper with the LSD dots on them.

Tuesday afternoon, according to Prandi, the boy said he went to Estep's house but found Estep in the shower, so he went to the drawer where he knew the LSD was and took two tabs, one of which he said he gave to the girl.

Armed with a search warrant and accompanied by other officers, Prandi went to Estep's house last night and found him having dinner with a 12-year-old boy and an adult friend.

This boy also admitted having smoked pot with Estep, according to Prandi, who said both boys told him of having been taken for rides, bought hamburgers and once given a guitar by Estep.

In the house the officers said they found several ounces of marijuana stashed in different places and 41 suspected LSD tabs.

The friend, James Thomas May, 28, of 1495 Casa Buena Drive, Corte Madera, was also arrested when officers found he had suspected marijuana and pills with him.

The three youngsters were all reprimanded and turned over to their parents, Prandi said.

Estep, who said he was an employee of the Mare Island Naval Shipyard, posted $2,500 bail and will appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow. May posted $1,000 bail and will appear the same day.

Another man and a stewardess who live with Estep were not arrested.

Flower Show Is Set Next Week

The Peacock Gap Garden Club will present its third standard flower show next Thursday at the Peacock Golf and Country Club.

Floral arrangements, horticulture and educational displays will be exhibited in the banquet room from 3 to 7 p.m.

Information may be obtained from chairman Hazel Dean of 232 Riviera Drive, San Rafael.

Coffees Slated For Candidate Freed

Three get-acquainted coffees for David I. Freed, candidate for the Corte Madera Town Council, have been scheduled for next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Steven Saxe, 40 Windward Drive, will be hosts at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Griffin, 400 Summit Drive, will be hosts at 8 p.m. Wednesday, and Mr. and Mrs. Rocco A. Caravelli will be hosts at 8 p.m. next Thursday at Caravelli Home Furnishings, 504 Tamalpais Drive.

Pill Overdose Victim In Good Condition

$15,000 Grant For Mill Valley Foster Home

A $15,000 grant from the San Francisco Foundation will be used to open a second group foster home in Mill Valley for six wards of courts from throughout the Bay Area.

Children's Garden Inc., which announced the grant said the homes will avoid locking up the homeless youngsters with hard-core delinquents in the San Francisco Youth Guidance Center.

Three years ago the first foster group home was opened in Mill Valley, a center spokesman said. Four boys and two girls aged 9 to 12, live with houseparents Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Dietrich.

Suspect Hears Forgery Count

James Edward Wade, 26, of San Rafael, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on charges of credit card forgery.

He is accused of obtaining $150 worth of articles from two San Rafael stores on Dec. 18 by signing another person's name to credit card slips.

Preliminary Nod To Market Plans

The San Anselmo Design Review Committee last night gave tentative approval to preliminary plans for remodeling Guasco Market at 100 Center Boulevard, according to the city planning office.

Discussion of a proposed sign ordinance and election of a chairman and vice chairman were not held because of the absence of several members.

Bids To Be Prepared Park Construction

The Gallinas Village Community Services District board will meet at 8 p.m. today at the Santa Venetia Presbyterian Church to prepare bid specification for the Adrian and Rosal Park.

According to the secretary, Marguerite F. Clark, the preliminary plans have already been approved by the county.

Two Inmates Stabbed At San Quentin

Gonsalvo Hernandez, 24, was reported in good condition at the prison hospital with eight stab wounds in the chest, neck and legs. Jess Valenzuela, 22, was treated for superficial wounds, reported Wayne Bartels, associate warden for classification and treatment.

Bartels said two other inmates were being held as suspects, and attributed the attacks to the "Mexican Mafia," a group of chicano (Mexican-American) inmates. Names of the suspects were withheld pending investigation.

The attack came at 10:20 a.m. as Valenzuela and Hernandez left a disciplinary hearing in which they were charged with violating prison rules. The attack was in B section, the administrative segregation unit where problem prisoners are held.

Valenzuela was admitted to San Quentin in October, 1967, after being convicted in December, 1966 of battery on a police officer in Ventura County. Hernandez was convicted in October, 1963, for robbery in Santa Barbara and has been at San Quentin since July, 1967.

support and protect the desirable principle of desegregating our public schools."

The two votes against repeal were cast by Dr. John R. Ford of San Diego, a Negro, and Tony N. Sierra of Calexico, a Mexican-American.

Sierra wanted to keep the original guidelines until the new ones could be drawn up. But only he, Ford and The Rev. Donn Moomaw of Los Angeles voted in favor of his motion to do so.

Laurence Kearney, the board's legal adviser, said the guidelines were cited by Los Angeles Superior Court Judge Alfred Gitelson who last month ordered immediate integration of that city's schools.

Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, said that Los Angeles City School District attorneys had told his department that repeal of the guidelines would help their appeal of the decision in higher courts.

Gov. Ronald Reagan has blasted the judge's decision as "ridiculous" and pledged his office will help in appealing it.

Rafferty also presented a list of 16 alternatives to busing of school children to achieve racial balance. The board held the list for further study and took no action on it.

Petaluma Council Sets Special Session

The Petaluma City Council will meet in special session at 3 p.m. tomorrow to consider the request by Young America Homes for occupancy permits for houses in the Avondale subdivision.

The builders will ask for permission to occupy the homes although street improvements may not be completed until July.

Sausalito Trustees Set Staff Cut Talk

The Sausalito School District board will meet in closed session today at 6 p.m. in the district office, 630 Nevada Street, to decide which district employees must be discharged next year because of the district's financial troubles.

Following the closed session, the board is scheduled to hold an open meeting to reveal its decisions on personnel cuts.

No Charge Filed

No charge was filed yesterday in Marin Municipal Court against William Frederick O'Bayley, 22, of San Rafael who was arrested Wednesday on suspicion of possessing marijuana.

POLICY

gree would be a domestic counterpart to the National Security Council."

The new office of management and budget, he said, "represent far more than a mere change of name for the Bureau of the Budget."

He said that while the proposed new office would still help the President prepared the annual federal budget, that chore "will no longer be its dominant, overriding concern."

Summarizing the change in concept and emphasis he has in mind, Nixon said:

"The new Office of Management and Budget will place much greater emphasis on the evaluation of programmed performance: on assessing the extent to which programs are actually achieving their intended results, and delivering the intended services to the intended recipients. This is needed on a continuing basis, not as a one-time effort."

The current budget director, Robert P. Mayo, is expected to head the new office if Congrress goes along with the organization.

The President would be chairman of the proposed domestic council. It would include the vice president and most Cabinet members as well as the director of the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Nixon said experience with the Council for Urban Affairs which he created a year ago "has shown how immensely valuable a Cabinet-level council can be as a forum for both discussion and action on policy matters that cut across departmental jurisdictions."

Nixon said studies are continuing and declared that he expected to present other organization plans in the months ahead.

BOMBS

townhouse group and the earlier case. Anonymous letters to news media said the earlier bombings were blows against American big business, the government and the military.

The FBI joined police in investigating the bombings.

IBM, Mobil Oil and General Telephone & Electronics ranked No. 6, 7 and 21 respectively in the Fortune directory of the 500 largest U.S. industrial corporations based on sales in 1968.

At 4:30 a.m., police said they received another telephone call, with a male voice saying: "There are four bombs planted in the Park Avenue tunnel of the Penn Central Railroad which goes into Grand Central Station's lower level, due to go off at 4:30 to 5:30."

Police and fire apparatus rushed to the area, but by 6:30 a.m. there were no explosions.

The letter to UPI said the bombed corporations "profit from racist oppression of black, Puerto Rican and other minority colonies outside America from the suffering and death of men in the Amerikan (CQ) army from sexism,, from the exploitation and degradition (CQ) of employes forced into lives of anti-human work, from the pollution and destruction of our environment."

Motorist Robbed Of Camera Gear

A 21-year-old San Rafael man told sheriff's deputies that he was robbed of $855 worth of camera equipment by a hitchhiker who pulled a knife on him Tuesday, officers said today.

John Magnus Anderson Jr. of 368 Riviera Drive, said he picked up his assailant in San Francisco and when he stopped in a parikng lot at Gate 6, Waldo Point, to let the man out he was robbed.

He described the robber as a white man about 21 years old, six feet tall and wearing glasses with dark rims.

BROWN

whereabouts continued to be a mystery. He is accused of arson and inciting others to commit arson and to riot during 1967 racial disorders here in which 16 buildings were destroyed.

Brown's lawyer, William M. Kunstler, said he did not know Brown's whereabouts and was becoming "progressively more concerned" that his client might have become the victims of foul play.

Kunstler said he had not talked to Brown in 10 days.

After a meeting with Brown's wife in New York Wednesday afternoon, Kunstler said he was "more worried than ever."

He said Mrs. Brown might talk of her husband's disappearance at a news conference in Washington today. But the news conference was called off.

The trial was shifted from Cambridge to Bel Air, 68 miles north across Chesapeake Bay, because of fear that it might touch off further disturbances in this city of 12,000.

Kunstler has obtained postponement of further court proceedings until Monday.

"A pattern has developed in this case, and there may be more and more incidents if the trail resumes," Kunstler declared Wednesday.

Lt. Col. Thomas S. Smith of the Maryland State Police told newsmen the woman sought in the courthouse bombing "is only a suspect."

Smith declined to identify the state, or to release the name. Smith said the woman was white.

The bomb exploded in the ladies' restroom of the courthouse, blowing a 30-foot hole in the side of the building.

Smith said he had found no connection between the car explosion and the Cambridge courthouse blast.

Boy, 16, Booked In Two Thefts

A 16-year-old Santa Venetia youth has been booked into Marin Juvenile Hall on suspicion of committing two burglaries after sheriff's officers found him on the roof of a grocery store, officers said today.

Accused of breaking into the 7-11 Market at 292 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia, and a beauty shop next door was Richard Dale Nolen of 1049 Adrian Way.

Sheriff's deputies said they came to the market about 11:30 p.m. Tuesday in response to a silent burglar alarm. Inside the market they heard loud voices, they said.

Duputies unsuccessfully chased other suspects through heavy brush behind the store but found Nolen hiding on the roof, they said.

Boy's Paralysis Is Short Lived

Widespread rumors that a Redwood High School student was paralyzed after a fall in a shower today proved to be exaggerated.

Stephen M. Blake, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy S. Blake, first was unable to move his arms or legs after the accident at 8:30 a.m., according to Carmelito J. Cullen, school nurse.

He was taken by his mother to Dr. Ripley H. Hunter in San Rafael, who reported that the numbness Blake had noticed had disappeared by the time he treated the youth.

"He just fell and bumped his head and has no serious injuries," Hunter said. He added that Blake would be taken home by his mother.

Body Of Tacoma Man Is Found In Motel Room

The body of a Tacoma, Wash., man was found in his motel room yesterday, Corte Madera police reported.

Lester Gust Fiechtner, 41, died of an apparently self-inflicted bullet wound in the head, according to police.

Ale Larson, manager of the Meadowsweet Motel, called police at 4:40 p.m. after discovering Fiechtner's body. He said Feitchner checked into the motel Feb. 28, and had not been seen for several days.

Larson went to Fiechtner's room when he became concerned at not seeing him, and found the body lying on the bed, a .22 rifle in one hand.

Asst. Coroner Eugene R. Fontaine said Fiechtner had been dead approximately four days.

He is survived by a brother, Marvin, stationed with the 666th Radar Squadron on Mount Tamalpais. Funeral arrangements are pending at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

CLARA MORRIS

Funeral for Dr. Clara K. Morris, 80, former Petaluma osteopath, will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Oakland.

Dr. Morris died Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Royal Thompson of Lafayette. A native of Davenport, Iowa, she moved to southern California as a child and was graduated from the College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, Los Angeles.

She was married to the late Dr. Russell Morris and they jointly opened a practice in Petaluma in 1911. In 1926 Dr. Morris retired and the couple moved to Oakland.

After the death of her husband in 1944, Dr. Morris took refresher courses and returned to practice in San Francisco. In 1963 she moved to Bolinas, commuting to San Francisco four days a week.

She is also survived by two other daughters, Mrs. William Nisson of Petaluma and Mrs. Leslie Johnson of Walnut Creek; two sons, James R. Morris of Santa Rosa and Samuel M. Morris of Sacramento; 14 grandchildren, and nine great-grandchildren.

Prestige, Pollution Sidetrack Request

A request by Marin Municipal Water District Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger for authorization from the district's board to purchase seven vehicles for district use, ended up yesterday with a discussion of prestige and pollution, and action on the request deferred.

Seeger wanted to buy six work trucks and one town-style pickup truck for use by the general manager.

Board persident Robert G. Anderson asked Seegei why he was requesting a model that cost $100 more than a regular pickup, and was it simply for prestige.

Seeger said it was, but said that it was the model used by heads of other water districts and county departments.

Before Seeger got anything, prestigious or not, Jean Barnard, candidate for the Mill Valley City Council, asked if the board had considered purchasing vehicles wiich operate on liquid propane gas, which contains far fewer pollutants than normal gasoline.

Norman P. Higby, of 58 San Marino Drive, San Rafael, joined in and told the directors that the propane gas vehicles would be cheaper to operate.

After some discussion of the ability of a propane gas vehicle to climb hills—Anderson said they couldn't, Higby said they could—Seeger said he would review the purchase request and look into the possibility of using the propane, and the board moved on to other business.

The Marin Municipal Water Board Also:

DISPUTE—Postponed for 90 days action on a compromise settlement of a dispute between the district and Laurence M. Symmes Jr., of 309 Tamalpais Avenue, Mill Valley, over the ownership of a 100 feet of abandoned railroad right-of-way on the southern face of Mount Tamalpais. The request for delay came from representatives of the Marin Conservation League, who did not want the district to compromise its claim to the land.

BIDS—Accepted the low bid of $6,785 from the J. Malaspina Co. of Fairfax for the construction of a four-unit sealed vault toilet at Lake Lagunitas.

JANITORS—Called for bids on a contract to provide janitorial service for the district office and grounds.

TANK—Approved purchase of a 50,000-gallon redwood tank for $4,660 from Sauer Forest Products of Healdsburg. Sauer was low bidder on a similar tank in March 1969, and offered to sell this one at the same price.

FITTINGS—Approved purchase of specially fabricated wye and reducer fittings for the Smith Saddle booster from Sun Iron Works of San Rafael for $637.

PUMP—Accepted the low bid of $2,967 from Westco Pump Sales of San Francisco for the purchase of a booster pump for the Chapman booster station.

AIR TOOLS—Approved purchase of two clay diggers and one pavement breaker for $1,565 from I-R Equipment Co. of Oakland.

PIPELINES—Approved in principal pipeline relocation projects necessitated by additional construction on the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control project, and the installation fo another pipeline which had been planned for future construction. The projects will begin at College Avenue and end near the Ross Post Office, with the county paying $87,161, and the district paying $13,331 for the new pipeline.

FOUNDATION — Confirmed the awarding of a contract by Seeger to the Grover Wilson Co. for the construction of the foundation and other preparations for installation of a water tank on Indian Fire Trail. Grover Wilson had the low bid of $2,260 for the project.

PAYMENTS—Approved payment to the Sonoma County Water Agency for the district's share of the cost of preparing the Russian River water plan and also for the investigation of the Russian River stream bed. The district paid 25 per cent, or $1,704, for the planning, and 40 per cent, or $6,574, for the stream bed investigation.

SANITATION—Approved Seeger's suggestion that the district office act as a clearing house for information on proposals to unify southern Marin sanitation districts, and heard Herbert Leney, of 318 Golden Hind Passage, Corte Madera, urge the district to take the lead in an effort to unify all Marin sanitary districts so that pollution of the bay can be stopped.

IMPROVEMENTS — Authorized Seeger to release a preliminary draft of a district improvement program, so that the program can be discussed with city managers, councils, and fire chiefs, prior to being drafted in final form. The program, which Seeger called "the Bible for the future of the district," updates the district's 1965-75 master plan and itemizes proposed improvements through 1980 at a total cost of $21.5 million.

RIGHT-OF-WAY—Accepted a deed from Ida Marie Gross for a right-of-way on her property on Del Casa Drive, Mill Valley, at no cost to the district, and purchased rights-of-way on three adioining properties at the intersection of Olema Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Fairfax. The owners of the properties and the amounts received are: Elinor McArdle, $4,310; Aldo Simi, $580, and the estate of Roy Simi, $50.

MEADOW CLUB—Heard a report from Seeger that he is still in the process of obtaining the names of possible land appraisers to work on renegotiation of the district's lease with the Meadow Club. Norman Higby, told the directors that the district shoud be getting much more money from the club for the lease. Anderson explained to Higby that the board realized this and that is the reasos the appraiser will be brought in.

EXTENSION—Approved a pipeline extension to property on Kings Way, Mill Valley, with Hubertus S. Dallwitz of 49 Brighton Boulevard, Mill Valley, who will pay the $1,999 cost of the extension.

HOUSE—Authorized $2,000 worth of improvements to a district-owned house at Phoenix Lake, and agreed to rent the house to district recreation supervisor Rollie Barton for $50 a month. The arrangement provides the district with 24-hour supervision of the area.

CONFERENCE — Authorized Seeger, district legal counsel Robert W. Elliot, and one board member to attend the Irrigation Districts Association conference April 8-10 at Lake Tahoe.

Scare On Pill Blamed For Pregnancies

Marin County is beginning to reap a crop of unwanted pregnancies sowed by scaremongers who led an attack on birth control pills earlier this year, according to an official of San Rafael Planned Parenthood.

"We've had 17 or so pregnancies among girls under 18 who stopped using the pill," said Thomas A. Knight, executive director of the local unit.

He said more young women than ever are concerned with birth control, and that Planned Parenthood's teen clinic, which was started last September, has grown from a twice-a-month to a twice-a-week operation..

The organization charges a fee based on the patient's ability to pay, but no one is turned away for lack of money. Knight said several froms of birth control devices are available through the clinic, including the pill, diaphragms and interuterine devices (IUDs).

"New lifestyles are evolving," Knight said, "and this is reflected by the rising illegitimacy rate." Nine out of every hundred births in the United States are illigitimate, while in Marin County the figure is 12 per 100, he said.

Knight said that the county "has a tremendous need. Young women have been going to San Francisco for aid because we can't handel all of them here."

So great is the need for assistance to teens, Knight said, that Planned Parenthood, which has been aiding married women over 18 for years, is now sending such cases to the county's family planning clinics, conducted 11 times a month by the Department of Public Health.

Knight said Planned Parenthood's major problem is lack of funds. "We're entirely supported by public contributions," Knight said. Donations to the nonprofit organizations are tax-deductable.

Labor And The Lions Club: I-J Strike Issues Discussed

A Marin County labor official yesterday denied union responsibility or participation in strike violence that has plagued the county for two months, but refused to repudiate violence as a labor weapon.

The labor officials, Charles B. Weers, secretary of the Marin County Labor Council, who conceded he was unaware of the issues in the strike, took his stand at a luncheon meeting of the San Rafael Lions Club at the Elks Club.

Weers audience included several businessmen who have been targets of vandalism and threats because they advertise in the Independent-Journal, struck since Jan. 7 by San Francisco Typographical Union 21.

While denying any union responsibility for violence, Weers strongly intimated that it was the I-J and its security guards who instigated the violence, the I-J in order to discredit the union, the security guards in order "to justify their existence."

When first asked how union members felt about the violence, which has included widespread window smashing, Weers said, "We deplore it ourselves. No union member has any part of it." He added later, in reference to the striking typographers and their union sympathizers in Marin, "They're longtime residents and taxpayers and they're not about to go around and destroy their friends' property. You don't make friends this way."

This ultimately led to a query on whether he would state flatly that no violence, deplored by one Lion as "a disgrace," had been committed by unionists from outside the county as well. Weers said he would. The questioner then remarked, "You must have the powers of the Almighty to make a statement like that."

Weers acknowledged that union members had been telephoning I-J advertisers to "ask" them to cease doing business with the newspaper, saying this was "perfectly legal." But he denied any improper union conduct and sought, in a series of veiled charges, to blame the I-J for the strife.

After a Jan. 17 demonstration by 500 strike sympathizers, Weers asserted, "management was very disappointed that nothing had happened and they made sure that it would not be the case again." Of the riot a month later, "We know who ran the show, because we have friends in law enforcement."

Weers charged that the "armed guards have to justify their existence — so there will continue to be violence around San Rafael."

He also said the I-J "seemed to know all about" the Students for a Democratic Society demonstration, which drew between 125 and 175 persons to the I-J last Satruday. "I don't think anything would have occurred whether the police were there or not. I know how the rumor started."

He said it was "foolish" to assemble a force of about 400 officers for the demonstration because he didn't think the SDS "had anything planned."

Persons calling the Marin County Labor Council office in San Rafael last Friday and Saturday were furnished two San Francisco phone numbers of the Students for a Democratic Society, where, they were assured by the labor council, they would receive full information on the demonstration planned for that Saturday)

"Are you suggesting," a Lion wondered, "that there was collusion between the I-J and the police department and that news like this (of the planned demonstration) should be withheld from the public?"

"It might be well," said Weers.

The labor official charged the I-J with "trying to gain by force what it couldn't gain at the bargaining table. Norwin Yoffie (I-J general manager) wants to bring about change but he doesn't want to use the established lawful process.

"If you people condone this unlawful position, then you share the responsibility for what has happened and what will happen in the future."

Several club members repeatedly called upon the labor council to issue a public statement repudiating the violence, but Weers made no commitment.

He accused the I-J of failing to negotiate in good faith by ignoring a previous labor council invitation to discuss the dispute, refusing to submit to binding arbitration and by failing to send representatives to federal mediating sessions.

(The I-J sent representatives to both of the sessions called by federal mediators.)

Weers said the typographers were "not asking for anything new. Many items have been in the contract for over 50 years." He acknowledged he was unaware of the issues in the dispute, but offered to ask a typographers' spokesman to appear before the group if an I-J spokesman also were willing to appear.

Panel Defeats Pay-TV Change

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Commerce Committee has defeated a proposal that would make minor changes in a pay television system approved by the Federal Communications Commission.

The committee killed 19-14 a subcommittee-passed resolution calling for minor changes in sports programming in the FCC system. It then decided to consider a proposal to kill the FCC system entirely.

In issuing its pay television regulations, the FCC prohibited sports programs on pay TV that had been carried live on conventional TV for the two preceeding years. The subcommittee wanted to extend this period to five years.

There were 227,000 colonies of bees in Texas during 1968, a decrease of about 2,000 colonies from 1967.

Airmen Are Booked As Pot Suspects

Four servicemen from the barracks at Hamilton Air Force Base were arrested at 12:52 a.m. today on suspicion of various drug violations when Novato Police found them smoking in their car at the end of Malobar Lane in the Bahia subdivision.

They were booked into Marin County Jail with bail set at $250 each and were to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

A/1C John Curtis O'Neal, 21, was booked on suspicion of being present where marijuana was being used, possession of narcotics paraphernalia and possession of dangerous drugs; A/1C John Elvin King, 21, being where marijuana was being used, possession of marijuana, possession of narcotics paraphernalia and furnishing marijuana for use; Sgt. Robert Keith Sem 21, being in a place where marijuana was used, and possession of marijuana; Airman William James Wright Jr., 18 being present where marijuana was being used.

Car Theft Reported

Trent W. Anderson of 17 El Monte Lane, Sausalito has reported the theft of a 1968 white Volkswagen sedan, California license VXC 455. Anderson told Sausalito police the locked car was taken between Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning while it was parked on El Monte.

Petition Seeks Animal Birth Control

A birth control program for animals is needed to cut down on the number of unwanted and often abused puppies and kittens, according to a petition signed by several thousand Marin County residents.

Margaret Y. Goodyear of 28 La Verne Avenue, Mill Valley, submitted a letter to the Marin County Board of Supervisors, with signatures of 3,570 residents attached.

"Because dog owners already pay a tax, we think that a tax on cats might be the solution," said Mrs. Goodyear.

This is her proposal:

Have cat owners register their animals and get a simple receipt for the fee paid. This would have to be on the honor system because there is no practical way to enforce an actual licensing of cats, she pointed out.

Many clinics scattered throughout the county would be needed to spay the animals. Perhaps some agreement can be made with established veterinary hospitals for use of their equipment and surgeons. Part of the cost of spaying would be paid from fees collected and part by the animal owner.

Mrs. Goodyear said she asked for agenda time next Tuesday morning to appear before the board of supervisors to present her proposal.

Without some control, the county will be over-run with stray animals, each reproducing and adding to the problem, she warned.

"One female dog can over a period of seven years be responsible for 4,372 pups, assuming her offspring are also allowed to reproduce," said Mrs. Goodyear. "Cats are equally productive and much harder to control."

Historic castle-hotels also dot the countrysides of Belgium, England, Ireland, Northern Ireland, Scotland, the Netherlands, Italy, Portugal, Spain, Switzerland, and Sweden.

Stolen Auto Charges Denied

Peter Alphonse LaRocca, 19, of San Francisco, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a car theft charge stemming from a wild chase through West Marin Saturday.

A preliminary hearing was set for Tuesday.

LaRocca and two juveniles were first stopped by an officer in a reportedly stolen car near Point Reyes, but LaRocca and another passenger fled. They then reportedly took a car in Olema and were finally stopped several miles away.

Marin School Chiefs Pick A. G. Bacich

Anthony G. Bacich, superintendent of the Kentfield School District, was chosen president for 1970 yesterday by the Marin Association of School Administrators.

James A. Collins, superintendent of the Mill Valley School District, was chosen vice president and Charles E. McCully, superintendent of Shoreline School District, was chosen for another term as secretary-treasurer.

The administrators supported a proposal by the Marin County Family Advisory Service Committee to distribute circulars to al elementary school children in Marin to determine parental interest in child care centers. The group recommended the questionaire be shortened to get a greater response, reported former president John F. Plank, Supt. of San Rafael Schools.

Joanne Karlsrud, newly-appointed youth director for the Marin County Chapter of the American Red Cross, told the administrators of her plans to visit schools and encourage students to take part in Red Cross programs of service to the community.

Spring Adult Class Date March 30

Registration for spring quarter adult education classes at the College of Marin opened this week, the college has announce. Classes will start March 30.

Available courses include four languages, gardening and landscape design, business and investments, physical education, art and painting, photography, creative writing and rapid reading, shorthand, interior decorating and sewing.

There is also a program of trade and technical courses for apprentices working in trades and a special course on the ecology of the Bolinas area.

Students may register at the registrar's office or by mail. Brochures with application forms and class schedules are available at the community services office at the college, open from 1 to 5 p.m. and 6:30 to 10 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Fridays.

Michael James Is Ordered To Superior Court

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Michael R. James, 28, Marin's former New Careers program coordinator, was ordered yesterday in municipal court to appear for arraignment in superior court on March 31 on a charge of possession of heroin.

James was arrested Dec. 8 in San Francisco's Fillmore District. Arresting officers said he had several small balloons containing what appeared to be heroin.

James was taken into custody Feb. 20 on a warrant after he failed to appear for a hearing Jan. 13.

Following his arrest, James who had a previous prison record, was fired from his $11,808 per year job with Marin.

Probation, Jail On Pot Charge

Michael Allen O'Connor, 23, of Fairfrax, yesterday was placed on one year probation and ordered to spend 10 days in jail for a marijuana conviction.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court declared the offense a misdemeanor.

O'Connor had originally been charged with possessing pot for sale when arrested on Aug. 11, 1968, but had pleaded guilty to the reduced charge in December, 1969.

Battle-Tested Marine Outfit Sails Home

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — More than 1,100 troops of the 26th Marine Regiment sailed today for the United States and disbanding of the outfit that stormed the beaches of Iwo Jima and held off the North Vietnamese at Khe Sanh.

The Marines sailed aboard the helicopter carrier New Orleans for a 17-day voyage to Camp Pendleton, Calif. The rest of the 7,000-man regiment and its supporting units will leave by ship and plane during the next week.

Industrial Outlay Expected To Climb

WASHINGTON (AP) — Industrial spending for new plants and equipment is expected to total $83.6 billion this year, a government survey has revealed, a 10.6 per cent increase over last year.

Economists say the figures appear to indicate that businessmen apparently accept economic forecasts that predict a slow first half for 1970 and a more prosperous second half.

Capital expenditures for 1969 totaled $75.5 billion.

SPEAKER — San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto will be a featured speaker Saturday at a forum on county transit problems sponsored by Marin's Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Civic Center. His topic: "Responsibility of a core city in solving urban transit problems."

Budget Of $20,000 Is Approved

The San Rafael Meadows Flood Control advisory board has unanimously approved the $20,000 fiscal 1970-71 budget recommended by Marin County Public Works Department.

However, the advisory board, headed by James R. Blum, said it was not satisfied with the 27-cent per $100 assessed valuation property tax rate. The current rate is 20.5 cents.

Feeling it was too low, the board said it intended to push for a higher tax rate to meet current drainage problems.

According to Charles E. Murphy, a flood control engineer with the public works department, the board said it would ask the San Rafael Meadows Homeowners Association and other interested parties for their feelings on an increase.

Murphy said the board is seeking an increase as high as $1 per $100 assessed valuation so improvement of the drainage system could begin in five years. According to Murphy, a preliminary study has shown that the zone will need $120,000 to start improvements. The zone, even with the maximum tax rate of $1, will need five years to collect that amount, he added.

New Attack On Union Crimes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, declaring present law is insufficient to keep labor unions free of criminal influence, has asked Congress to increase the list of crimes for which union officials can be barred from holding office.

Mitchell's proposal would add the crimes to the act which forbids officers, agents or employes from holding a union position for five years after conviction of certain crimes.

Among those suggested by Mitchell were kidnapping, forgery, perjury, mail and wire fraud, violation of the 1959 Landrum-Griffin Act or the Taft-Hartley Act.

Drawings, Photos

Drawings by Bea Bernardi, photographs by Michael Bry and paintings by Yuri Schwabler are being featured in a group showing which began this week and will continue through March at the Sausalito Art Center, 630 Nevada Street. The center is open daily from 10 a.m.

SONOMA STATE COLLEGE

New Role For A Library

By BONNIE BARD

The Sonoma State College library which opened this semester is a monument to the changing concept of libraries—that of a resource center rather than a storehouse for books.

An open house will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday to show it off to the public.

The two-story building of grey concrete blends with other campus structures and will one day rise to three stories when more state funds are available.

Completed late last year at a cost of $1,650,000, the building contains 110,000 volumes and will bulge with more as Librarian A. S. Pickett spends the $294,000 earmarked for book acquisitions this year. Last year he received $113,000.

Much of the first floor is devoted to faculty offices, most of which were opened in the fall to allow instructors to escape the cramped conditions in their individual departments.

A spacious lobby for study or quiet chats is also provided on the first floor as well as library offices, card catalogs, bibliography section and circulation department.

Intermingled with the conventional book stacks and study tables on the second floor are specialized resource areas which offer equipment and services to meet the demands of college study in the 1970s.

Adjacent to the reference offices is the phonolistening area where there are 22 listening stations. Students can chose from among 6,000 phonorecords or tapes to hear anything from opera to Shakespeare.

In addition to the listening stations, there are individual booths where language students can conjugate verbs or practice pronunciation without disturbing others. Listening rooms with headsets to accomodate groups of students provide space for collective study.

Recognizing that not all persons study to the best of their capacity in intense quiet, small rooms ring the second floor where several can study together and discuss the material or if space permits, can be used by one person who finds his studies have driven him to talking to himself.

The microfilm room carries 70,000 microfiche and microfilms as well as reader-printers. The collection includes the education resources information center for use by education majors.

Realizing that not all class work revolves around books, the library planners included a student work area which, when completed, will provide facilities not usually included in student housing.

Typewriters are available for writing term papers and reports along with copying machines, paper cutters and enough space to spread out materials for assembling. Lockers for storing projects are also provided.

The interior of warm wooden paneling and soft, recessed lighting has proven popular with students as a gathering place between classes and for study.

Also pleased with the new quarters are library employees like reference librarian Barbara Biebush who was happy to escape the old location in the confinement of Stevenson Hall.

"The comparison is overwhelming," she said, "But it won't be long until we've outgrown this space too."

COMPOSITIONS IN PRIVATE — Enjoying the privacy and quiet of the student work area in the new library in Kathy Hancock of Sebaspotol who tries out a new score on the electronic piano. The trial and error of composing is reserved for the ears of the composer through the headset.

BOOKS MAKE A LIBRARY — The Sonoma State College library is geared for the future, including the reference section, shown above, with the 5,000 bound volumes and microfilm, bound to grow in the next few years. (Independent-Journal Photos by Bob Hax).

STUDY SPACE — Individual desks and study tables line the walls and encircle book stacks on the second floor of the library. Frank Hejtmanek of Santa Rosa continues his study as reference librarian Barbara Biebush searches for more material for his term paper.

CENTER FOR RESOURCES — The new Sonoma State College library, awaiting a third floor in years to come, will be open for public tours Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. As the campus master plan is developed, the building will stand at the most central location.

PHONOLISTENING—Sonoma State students don headsets for study or a musical background for afternoon naps in the photolistening room in the new library. The collection includes music, foreign languages, plays and short stories.

Commuters Delay Policy Statement

A policy statement to limit activities of the Golden Gate Bridge District was presented to a gathering of about 100 members of the Golden Gate Commuters Association last night, but was not adopted pending further study by the membership.

Meeting in the Marin County supervisors' chambers at Civic Center, the assemblage listened without comment as Harry C. Rogers of San Rafael explained the proposed policy.

The policy calls for a vote by residents of counties which are primary users of the bridge for any expenditure by the bridge district other than operation costs.

It also calls for a reduction in commuter fees from $10 to $5 from 25 round trips; a reconstitution of the board of directors so its members proportionately represent the users of the bridge; that in planning commuter transportation the directors integrate Marin commuter systems with other Bay Area commuter facilities; a single authority to supervise all transportation systems, and equality of cost and convenience of systems for Marin commuters.

The final statement calls for the association's inclusion in planning the commuter transportation facility.

Rogers said the policy is aimed at stopping the district from spending $40 million on a ferry system, to insure that Marin County's needs are met, to see the public is properly informed, and to call attention to $30 million in the bank which is $8 million more than the bridge board needs to pay off its bonds and make essential repairs.

The bridge board, which already had power to operate buses, was given authority last year by the state Legislature to use commuter revenue to build a ferry system.

The commute association contends ferry and bus systems will not adequately meet commuter needs, but will drain funds which could be used for an efficient system.

Leaders of the group also said they had gained a footing in the district's long range transportation study, which must be completed by the district and presented to the Legislature during the spring of 1971.

Tom E. Burke of Sausalito said he and five others had been named to a citizens advisory panel to present community needs and issues significant to the study.

Quick Senate Action Seen On Seashore

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON—A bill to authorize an additional $38 million to complete acquisition of Point Reyes National Seashore should win Senate approval next week and be on its way to the White House, according to a spokesman for Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District.

Clausen is an author of the bill, which would hike the authorization from $19 to $57 million. The $19 million has been expended, but of the 54,000 acres originally designated as seashore boundaries, almost 31,000 still remain in private ownership.

The bill, as reported yesterday by the Independent-Journal, cleared the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee. The bill, which already has passed the House of Representatives, was amended by the committee to empower the secretary of the interior to condemn property within the seashore.

The amendment, asked by the Interior Department, was designed to compel sale when negotiations fail, and to bar uses incompatible with the seashore, Clausen's office said. The original 1962 legislation that created the seashore specifically barred the power of condemnation.

Assuming the Senate approves the bill, the House "most probably" will concur in the amendment without a conference, the spokesman said. If so, the bill should be on the President's desk for his signature by the end of next week or the beginning of the following week, he said.

The authorization bill then will be followed, as promised by President Nixon, with the administration's $7.5 million supplemental appropriation to begin additional acquisition this fiscal year.

Debris Collection

The Tamalpais Community Services District will sponsor a debris collection Saturday from 7:30 to 11:30 a.m. Debris collection trucks will be located in front of Tamalpais Fire Station No. 1, 309 Poplar Street.

Pumper-Tanker Purchased At $49,285 Cost

A 500-gallon pumper-tanker was purchased last night for $49,285 from Van Pelt Co. of Oakdale, lowest of five bidders, by the Novato Fire District board.

The tanker has a pumping capacity of 1,500 gallons per minute when hooked onto an auxiliary water supply, according to Fire Chief Jack Kidder.

The Novato Fire District board also:

DRILL—Authorized use of the drill grounds on Atherton and Olive avenues for an all-day training meeting on April 6. This will be a program put on by the state Division of Forestry to all training officers in Marin County fire departments on methods, operation and tactics for use of hand tools for fighting grass and brush fires.

PROMOTIONS — Promoted Lts. Charles R. Onorato and Walter J. Nolan to captains effective April 1. They will receive a pay increase from $885 to $910 per month.

SEMINAR—Authorized Onorato to attend a seminar on fire alarms in San Mateo April 6-10.

ADJOURNED—Adjourned to 7:30 p.m., March 25 at the main fire station.

Petaluma Boat Works Visited By Councilmen

The Petaluma City Council staged an impromptu and casual inspection yesterday of Peter Pracchia's boat construction building, whose use permit will be considered at the council meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Councilman David W. Brainerd said that Fire Chief Roscoe A. Benton had offered to walk through the building on the Petaluma River at D Street with the council and that the offer was accepted yesterday afternoon.

Brainerd telephoned invitations to Councilmen Fred V. Mattei and Philip L. Joerger to make the inspection to see if conditions council set with the use permit had been met. A council quorum was established when Vice Mayor John E. Cavanagh Jr. learned of the inspection from a reporter and also attended.

Pracchia, who was not notified of the impending visit, conducted a tour of the old building, saying he had met nearly all the conditions set down by the council.

He said that all electrical wiring had been replaced as well as broken windows. "The major problem now is sewage," Pracchia said, explaining that the building restrooms empty directly into the river. "I want a clean river as much as anybody," he said, noting that only the high cost prevented him from connecting with the D Street sewer line.

Fire Chief Benton said that although the council had deleted a sprinkler system as a requirement, the boat building operation still included many fire hazards.

Pracchia said that if he were able to use the operation as he wanted—as a school—he would have greater control over the housekeeping habits of the boat builders and would see that flammable materials and debris are kept to a minimum.

Boat builders working in the building told the councilmen that they, too, were concerend about fire safety and took all possible precautions so that their costly investments would not be destroyed.

Joerger told Pracchia he felt his operation was a definite asset to the community. "The boat builders blend right in with the river atmosphere," he said.

The large building was once a busy freight station when steamers made regular trips up the Petaluma River.

Pracchia, who leases the building from the Southern Pacific Railroad, said the structure was sound, but wanted to make sure his use permit was safe before putting any more money into improvements.

Auto Stolen

A cream colored 1967 two-door Pontiac with license UHV777 was stolen between 11 p.m. Tuesday and 9 a.m. yesterday from a used car lot at Dexter Pontiac, 1504 Fourth Street, San Rafael police reported today.

Shoreline Civic Center Favored For Sausalito

The Sausalito Planning Commission last night recommended changes in the central waterfront plan which would earmark a city hall and library site along the waterfront.

Commissioners, completing a review of 30 changes in the plan proposed by the city council, tossed in the recommendation because the city has a chance to acquire waterfront property.

The site would be in the area recently offered to the city by Sausalito Properties: Six lots east of Bridgeway between Litho and Napa streets.

Commissioners recommended that a paragraph be added to the plan specifying that area for public use such as library, city hall, waterfront park, recreational use and open space.

Planning Director H. Eric Borgwardt said in this way the plan would reflect the intent of the city to acquire the land for public use.

The city council has indicated it would ask voters to approve a $570,000 bond measure on the June 2 ballot fo finance purchase of the land, but hasn't yet acted.

The present diagram locates the library and city hall, on the inland side of Bridgeway along Litho Street, near Caledonia Street.

Commissioners also agreed that the plan diagram should designate the area now occupied by parking lot No. 1, adjacent to Vina del Mar Park, as park area.

This would be in line with the city council's proposal that areas outboard of Bridgeway be used primarily for boat harbor, waterfront commercial and public park, or remain as open water.

Commissioners again tackled the issue of where to locate the pierhead line, marking the outer edge of development, and reached an impasse.

They voted 3-1 to rescind their previous recommendation that the pierhead line be curved somewhat in the shape of a cove, rather than be a straight line along Railroad Avenue, an underwater street.

Commissioner Violetta Automn, who favored a pierhead line that followed the present configuration of the shoreline, dissented. Commissioner John M. Davis was absent.

They tied 2-2 on a motion to endorse the city council's proposal for a straight pierhead line along Railroad Avenue.

Chairman Robert L. Nissen and Commissioner Thomas H. Gildersleeve voted for it and Commissioners Virginia Pasquinucci and Autumn opposed.

When they were unable to come up with any recommendation on a pierhead line, it was agreed that commissioners would present their views to the council individually.

Commissioners also agreed boat harbor use should be designated north from the sandspit to Litho Street, on an optional basis for the landowners who elects not to use his development credits inboard.

A council recommendation that there be an increase in the limit for floor space on inboard dry land sites from 50 to 55 per cent of the lot size was rejected.

Commissioners voted 3-1 to maintain the 50 per cent limit with chairman Nissen dissenting.

After the vote, attorney Leon Schiller, representing waterfront property owners, walked out, apparently disgruntled, after contending the original proposal was for 80 per cent.

Other changes on the plan diagram recommended by the commission were:

Removing the parking designation from the sandspit area, and the parking storage area along Princess Street, near Bridgeway, and designating a hillside strip, 70 feet wide and 300 feet long, west of Bridgeway, north of the central commercial area for a planting buffer.

The commission adjourned until next Wednesday at 8 p.m. at City Hall.

Phone Cable Discovery Will Delay Guardrail

Discovery of underground telephone cable along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Greenbrae where a long-sought pedestrian guardrail is scheduled to be built will force the Marin County Board of Supervisors to issue new bids on the project, the Greenbrae Property Owners Association was told last night.

Secretary Beth M. Reilly said that John A. Russell, chairman of the traffic and safety committee, reported that the cable would interfere with holes for supporting posts, and that much of the digging now will have to be done by hand.

Two identical bids of $19,434 were opened Dec. 28 by the board of supervisors for 4,100 feet of guardrail on the north side of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

New invitations to bid will be issued in about three weeks, Mrs. Reilly said.

The property owners' group has fought for the guardrail for nearly five years since two school girls were killed and a third injured by a car that struck them on the sidewalk in January 1965.

State Loses On Pollution Suit

SALINAS (AP)—The state has lost its first try for a court order and fine against a local governmental agency accused of water pollution.

Monterey County Superior Court Judge Stanley Lawson dismissed Wednesday the state's suit against the Seaside Sanitation District.

The judge ruled the state had failed to prove its contention that Seaside was polluting Monterey Bay in violation of a cease and desist order issued Dec. 12 by the Central Coastal Regional Water Quality Control Board.

The first vertebrate animals known to have made earth their home were primitive armored fish.

Thank you

On behalf of all the employees of the Independent-Journal, we wish to express our gratitude for the hundreds upon hundreds of phone calls, messages and letters from the citizens of Marin and from others throughout the Bay Area who have taken the time to convey their unqualified support of us during the unfortunate set of circumstances that have plagued us due to the strike of the San Francisco Typographical Union, Local 21, against the Independent-Journal.

We are grateful to the general public for the support given our advertisers. And to our subscribers who have so loyally continued to take the I-J.

This encouragement and support still further justifies and reinforces our determination to continue the daily publication of the I-J during these times of harrassment, intimidation, and the continuing destruction of our property. We regret that the citizens and merchants of Marin County have also been made victims of these unlawful acts and threats.

To those who have sent us voluntary, and in some cases anonymous, contributions to help pay for damage inflicted, we wish to express our deep appreciation. We choose not to accept such contributions for our own use, but we will contribute them to the start of a fund to pay for damages suffered by businessmen throughout Marin. Thank you.

ALMANAC

This is Thursday, March 12, the 71st day of the year with 294 to follow.

The moon is between the new phase and the first quarter. The morning stars are Mercury and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1938 Germany invaded Austria.

In 1963 the U.S. House of Representatives voted to give former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill honorary citizenship in the United States.

A thought for the day: President Franklin D. Roosevelt said, "There is no indispensable man."

Seven Alumni Named For National Honor

Seven alumni of Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary at Strawberry have been selected to appear in the 1970 edition of "Outstanding Young Men of America," a seminary spokesman has announced.

They are: Rev. Murray Boyd of Fresno; Rev. Robert L. Chew of Los Angeles County; Gary Collins of Riverside County; Rev. Walter Crabtree of Fresno County; Billy Jack Green of Jackson, Miss; Rev. Jack B. Johnson, Odessa, Tex. and Rev. Jack Shelby of Butte County.

If you live a clean and blameless life you may avoid doubtful contracts, but you must still contend with the evil that other men do. Some day a malicious opponent will make a sneaky opening lead against you, and in your innocence you will welcome the lead instead of fearing it.

LOW TO DUMMY

West led the deuce of diamonds, and South delightedly played low from the dummy. This generous opening lead solved all of his diamond problems.

East won the first trick with the king of diamonds and returned the seven of diamonds for his partner to ruff. West switched to hearts, and South had to lose a heart and the king of trumps. Down one.

"I could have gone down two," South announced with quiet satisfaction. "A bad player would have trouble with this hand."

WORRY NOT NEEDED

If you're worried about South's education you can sit back and relax. Since North had a fine vocabulary and very few inhibitions, South had every chance to learn where he had gone wrong.

South should take the ace of diamonds at the first trick and should immediately lead the ace and then a low trump in the attempt to draw trumps without delay. West takes the second trump and leads a heart, but South should put up the ace of hearts and draw the last trump.

QUEEN LEAD

Declarer leads the queen of diamonds to force out the king, and can later ruff a diamond in the dummy to set up his long side suit. The rest is easy.

Probation Of Two Years On Firearm Charge

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — James W. Tamburini of San Rafael has been placed on two years' probation by a federal district judge for unlawful possession of a firearm.

Judge Alfonso J. Zirpoli granted the probation Tuesday after Tamburini pleaded guilty to the charge. On Monday the judge dismissed an indictment of Tamburini for possessing stolen property.

Tamburini and his wife, Lynn K. Tamburini of 242 Solano Street, were arrested Nov. 5 outside a bunker at Fort Cronkhite, from which 52 guns from the Thoresen collection had been stolen in four burglaries.

An indictment of Mrs. Tamburini for possessing stolen property was dismissed by a federal judge in January.

Baptiste Bests Womack In Wooing Civic Affairs Panel

By WAT TAKESHITA

The Marin Council for Civic Affairs last night endorsed Arnold Baptiste for the post of supervisor of district 5 (North Marin) after quizzing two candidates for an hour and a half.

On a motion by Michael R. Peevey, himself a candidate for John F. McCarthy's Fourth District Senate seat, a dozen voting members of the MCCA endorsed Baptiste by a unanimous show of hands. The council members also voted to raise $500 for Baptiste's campaign.

Baptiste, 35, and J. Wayne Womack, 41, are running for the post to be vacated by retiring Supervisor William A. Gnoss.

Chairman Margaret Azevedo called for no speeches and opened the meeting to informal quizzing from the audience of about 35 at the Hall of Justice.

Womack and Baptiste split sharply on their attitudes toward County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker and on the so-called "forced annexation" of urbanized areas to cities.

ZUCKER

Question: Would you have fired County Planning Director Zucker last year?

Baptiste—Would have voted to retain Zucker.

Womack—Philosophy of planning would be a fair question, but asking about an individual is not a pertinent question, said Womack. When pressed further, Womack said he admires Zucker as a planner but as personalities "we don't see eye to eye."

'FORCED ANNEXATION'

Question: Do you support the Local Agency Formation Commission policy of forcing annexation to a city if a property owner or developer wants to get other services like sewer service?

Baptiste—It is morally wrong to force annexation. The present method is divisive and administratively burdensome.

Womack—It is a controlled type of development, not forced annexation. It is annexation which permits a developer to share the fair responsibility of the expense of governing the area.

WEST MARIN DENSITY

Baptiste—Would have supported the lower density recommended by the planning commission.

Womack—"Offhand, I would say I would have endorsed lower density per acre." But higher density of usable land may be necessary in certain areas to provide housing for the people.

HOUSING

Question: How would you lower the cost of housing?

Baptiste—There is too much reliance on the property tax, the most regressive of all taxes. Should push for legislation to shift the load to other sources, perhaps income tax.

Womack—High taxes are not unique to Marin. One way to lower cost is higher density per acre. Another is improved construction methods such as prefabricated homes.

Baptiste—Higher density will not necessarily reduce cost of homes. Row houses on the Peninsula did not lower cost; just gave developers more profit. Answer may lie in cluster homes and townhouses.

COMMISSIONS

Womack—Supervisors should support to the best of their ability the decisions of commissions they appoint.

Baptiste—Commissions need continual evaluation because priorities change. Supervisors and commissioners should decide independently. It does not necessarily follow that appointee should think the same as the supervisor.

PLANNING

Question: What is the main job of the county planning department?

Womack—Set up master plans, review them annually. Serve the public by making themselves available and telling citizens what they can do, not just what they can't do.

Baptiste—Work on long range advance planning and follow through. Should plan for transportation, tourism, service-oriented economic base. Marin does not want heavy industry, only light industry.

Womack—Planning is only a strong guide. No one can predict what is going to happen 10 years from now. Planning must make space and housing available for people. Some light industrial must be planned to provide employment.

HOUSING AUTHORITY

Question: Should the staff of the Marin County Housing Authority and the Marin Redevelopment Agency be separate?

Womack—Do not have facts to comment.

Baptiste—They should be separate, one administering public housing for all the county and the other the redevelopment of Marin City.

TIDAL WATERWAYS

Baptiste—Tidal waterways ordinance to protect the shoreline is vital.

Womack—Endorse the concept but do not know the contents of the proposed ordinance to support it flatly.

MEMORIAL AUDITORIUM

Womack—Do not have the facts to comment.

Baptiste—Auditorium functions should be separate from fairgrounds. Instead of once-a-year use of fairgrounds, varied uses should be explored.

CITY-COUNTY PLANNING

Both agreed close coordination between cities and the county is essential.

CITY-COUNTY SERVICES

Question: Are you satisfied with how the City-County Services Committee is functioning?

Baptiste—They have made recommendations to correct tax inequities, but there has been no action.

Womack—Definite action has been taken to correct inequities in the sharing of county fire protection cost. Creation of the committee was a step in the right direction.

Bridge Speed Limit Hike Wins Favor

Increasing the speed limit on the Golden Gate Bridge from 45 to 50 miles per hour was unanimously recommended today by the bridge district's building and operating committee.

Gen Mgr. Dale W. Luehring said the speedup should do away with the confusion that causes traffic to congest at the north approach to the bridge where the speed limit changes from 55 to 45 miles per hour.

In other business the committee invited the New York engineering firm of Ammann and Whitney to submit a proposal to perform engineering services to replace the suspender ropes.

The firm recommended in January that the district schedule $10.5 million in repairs over the next decade, including $7,090,000 for new suspender ropes.

Dist. Engineer Robert E. Shields recommended that the replacement of the suspender ropes and connections, as well as replacement of some structural members in the San Francisco approach, be begun as soon as possible.

The committee also approved use of the bridge for a Memorial Day marathon race from Tiburon to San Francisco. The committee, however, rejected the requested use of the west sidewalk which is used by bicyclists and recommended instead on the east sidewalk which is used by pedestrians.

Richard W. Perry of San Francisco, director of the race, told the Independent-Journal that the shift of sidewalks may spoil plans to run the race through the lower parts of forts Baker and Barry.

He said the race committee would consider appealing the recommendation to the full bridge board.

The committee also viewed spectacular slides of a test floodlighting of a bridge tower in a progress report on the proposed floodlighting of the bridge. The San Francisco architectural firm John S. Bolles reported it would have its final report ready next week.

All committee recommendations must be ratified by the full bridge board.

Purchase Of Equipment Set

The Kentfield Fire District board approved the purchase of $300 of safety equipment at its regular meeting last night, according to Fire Chief Kenneth T. Kamp.

The items to be purchased include six pair of protective pants and b oots.

Kemp said the board also continued its review of regulations, but reached no decision. The rules cover such things as job descriptions, uniform regulations and department administration.

The board will hold a special meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. to continue discussion on the regulations.

Corte Madera Council Hopefuls Differ On Future For Tidelands

Development of Corte Madera's tidelands is a major issue, candidates for the Corte Madera Town Council agreed today but an incumbent and a challenger clashed on whether existing plans are adequate.

Challenger David I. Freed said the town should make a complete study of the tidelands east of Highway 101 to insure the area is preserved for public access.

There is an existing Westshore plan for 277 acres of the tidelands, incumbent Harold B. Wagstaff responded on station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" program.

The Westshore plan, which has been approved in concept by the town, proposes some 300 townhouse dwelling units, an industrial park, a golf course, a marina and possibly a motel-convention center. The 270 acres lie north of the Mariner Cove development and east of the railroad right of way in the tidelands.

Freed said the Westshore plan was the proposal of one property owner, and a plan for all the tidelands should be made by the town, not private owners.

Wagstaff said the Westshore plan conforms to the town's general plan, and said public access to the shoreline will be guaranteed because development plans must be approved by the Bay Conservation and Development Commission as well as the town.

Five of six candidates running for three seats in the April 14 election appeared on the program. Mayor Edward W. Colthurst had car trouble and was unable to reach the station.

Herber C. Leney supported the Westshore plan, and listed bayfront development, pollution, flood control, recreation and tax relief as problems to be met.

Incumbent Holmes S. Norville called the last four years among the most successful in the town's history, and cited improvements in flood control, a tax rate held below $1 per $100 for three years and public works improvements.

Challenger Patricia Friend said the town council has done a good job, but said, "women's ideas are different from men's, and women's opinions should be heeded."

She said she had no preconceived ideas, but promised to preserve the future of "a dignified and beautiful town."

Wagstaff pointed to the town's progress during his tenure on the council, including the Westshore plan, a joint city-county library which is planned and the master flood control plan now in progress.

Freed said the council has done well, but criticized the town's commissions as being unresponsive. He said the town has moved too slowly to hire a recreation director and develop programs for senior citizens and teen-agers.

He also recommended a town transit study be made to mesh with expected countywide transportation plans, and said more attention is needed to paths and pedestrian traffic.

The candidates offered a wide range of ideas about zoning when questioned by the radio audience.

Leney favored changing zoning to help the business community and improve the tax base, but opposed any "cheapening our city" by substandard construction or multiple dwelling districts in the wrong areas.

Freed had proposed new zoning to allow cluster development or multiple dwellings to preserve open space.

Mrs. Friend opposed plans for a service station at a proposed Gemco store on Paradise drive, and said "we don't need any more gas stations in Corte Madera."

Norville cautioned that any changes must be carefully considered, since "a bad change would have ramifications for 50 years."

Candidates fielded a few loaded questions with aplomb. One asked Freed if he was the Ira Freed who was arrested along with the Hallinan brothers during sit-ins in Berkeley.

Freed said his middle name is Irving, not Ira, and that he was never arrested. He later said his highest grades at Berkeley were in Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps classes.

Another question asked Leney if he had not drawn up "an illegal contract" to set up his church's nursery school.

He drew the contract, Leney said (he is a retired attorney), but it was "all above board." A contract was needed to establish the school, he said, and the accusation was in error.

At 9 a.m. next Thursday, candidates for the Mill Valley City Council will appear on Sounding Board, moderator Kitty Oppenheimer said. Today's program will be rebroadcast at 10:05 a.m. Sunday.

Veteran Lawmakers To Seek Reelection

OAKLAND (AP) — Two veteran Democratic assemblymen from the Bay Area, Robert W. Crown of Alameda and John F. Foran of San Francisco, have announced they will seek reelection.

Crown, who was chairman of the Ways and Means Committee from 1961 to 1969, will be after a ninth term. Foran, chairman of the Transportation Committee, is running for a fifth two-year term.

Math Conclave Set At San Rafael High

Marin County junior high school students attending the Junior High Math Conference Saturday at San Rafael High School will be offered 24 lectures from which to pick two which interest them most, according to Donald T. Hourigan of the Marin County Math Council.

The program, scheduled from 9:30 a.m. to noon, features junior high school students teaching other students various concepts in mathematics.

A $200,000 Sewer Line Is Approved

The Ross Valley Sanitary District last night approved plans for phase two of a $200,000 sewer to run beside the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control channel.

The 39-inch line will run from College Avenue in Kentfield to Lagunitas Road in Ross, Ralph C. Noah, manager, reported.

The sewer will be built in two stages with work beginning this year, Noah said.

A siphon pipe that interferes with the Marin Caunty Flood Control project on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Lagunitas Road will be replaced, Noah said.

The $15,000 cost of placing a pipe beneath the channel will be paid by the flood control district, Noah added.

John Jenks, an engineer from Palo Alto, will speak on legislation that sets up standards for treatment plants at a special meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the dsitrict office, 11 Library Place, San Anselmo.

Federal Aid Being Sought

The Shoreline Unified School District board last night approved an application for $3,800 in matching National Defense Education Act funds for counseling and guidance, according to Supt. Charles E. McCully.

The Shoreline Unified School Distrcit board also:

ADULTS — Approved the College of Marin teaching an adult course in painting and drawing from 7:30 to 10 p.m., Tuesdays, starting March 31.

ANNUITIES — Passed a resolution authorizing payroll deductions for tax sheltered annuities for employees.

COUNTY BOARD — Heard McCully report that the Marin County Board of Education would meet at 8 p.m., April 6 at the new Tomales High School for the first time.

CLOSED MEETING — Held a closed meeting to hear charges against a teacher, but took no action.

ADJOURNED — Adjourned to 8 p.m., April 8 at the administration office.

Petaluma Alters Fees For Young Swimmers

Increased rates for teen-age recreational swimming and for the swim club were approved last night by the Petaluma Recreation, Music and Parks Commission.

Commissioner Fred V. Mattei said the commission should be concerned about the increasing deficit in the pool operation. He said that the city should not attempt to make a profit or break even, but should at least try to maintain a steady level of income.

Clyde Nelson, an attorney, represented the swim club and asked that rates not be increased too much because the club provides a service for many young people.

The club has paid the city $150 for pool use, but after a brief caucus with club members, Nelson offered the commission a new fee system that would include $1 for each dues-paying member. He estimated the summer membership will be between 150 and 175.

The commission accepted the offer and will recommend approval by the city council.

In comparing recreational swimming fees with those charged in other cities, the commission found that most have junior rates for teen-agers while Petaluma charges one fee for ages 6 through 17.

A resolution setting a junior fee was approved including a charge of 35 cents for youngsters between the ages of 13 and 17 rather than the 25-cent children's rate. Other fees were not changed.

The Petaluma Recreation, Music and Parks Commission also:

PARK USE—Received an opinion from City Atty. Edouard E. Robert that parks could be used for commercial ventures, such as art shows, if the use is complimentary to the overall park use. He said that there are no legal restrictions unless set by the city council.

FROLIC—Agreed to sponsor the Frolic of the Rabbits on March 28 as an Easter treat for youngsters, but said it would review the event to see if the $1,000 expenditure is worthwhile.

Cuts Suffered In Window Leap

A 31-year-old San Francisco man was treated at Marin General Tuesday for minor cuts on his hands and feet sustained when he jumped through the closed front window of a San Rafael florist shop, police reported today.

According to police, Larry Lee Larrau was spotted walking on Second Street at 10:45 p.m. yelling, singing and jumping up and down. When a patrolman stopped him and asked for identification, Larrau continued singing and threw his wallet into the air, police said.

Larrau then walked into the street and stopped traffic until the patrolman persuaded him to return to the sidewalk. Moments later he ran from the officers and jumped through a window, landing inside the Flower Nook at 1314 Second Street, police said.

Charge Not Yet Filed Against Motorcyclist

No charge was filed yesterday in Marin Municipal Court against Henry Iver Seiler, 18, of Kent Woodlands who was arrested Saturday on suspicion of possessing heroin. The district attorney's office said that the substance found in Seiler's pocket has not yet been analyzed.

Seiler was stopped by an off-duty drug agent in Larkspur after he was seen driving his motorcycle erratically.

Wide Differences In Antipollution Costs

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

SAN FRANCISCO—Sharp differences in cost estimates for industry to meet new regulations proposed by the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District erupted yesterday at a district hearing on the regulations.

At issue in the dispute was the cost industry faces in installing and maintaining instruments in smoke stacks to alert the district to pollution.

Richard H. Berby, supervising process engineer with Kaiser Cement and Gypsum Corp., presented estimates that showed even "medium to small" industries facing costs of over $1 million for the instruments—estimates that quickly were discounted by the district's chief administrative officer, D. J. Callaghan.

Berby's estimates assumed measuring instruments would have to be installed in every stack of every industry, but Callaghan said this never was intended by the proposed regulations. The instruments would be required only in "major" stacks, and then only at plants suspected of approaching the limits of legal emission of pollutants, Callaghan said.

Berby, for example, figured that a cement plant would need instruments on some 50 stacks, at a cost of $22,200 each, but Callaghan said only about four or five would need the instruments.

"So your cost figures go out the window," Callaghan told Berby.

Berby, speaking for the Bay Area League of Industrial Associations, also objected to the district's proposal that there be continuous monitoring of plants subject to installation of the instruments. He termed the proposal "an inefficient use of our time and yours." Instead, he suggested monitoring only when violations occur.

Dr. Milton Feldstein, the district's director of technical services, argued that continuous monitoring was the only way the district would be able to assure compliance with its regulations.

But Berby drew strong support from the chairman of the committee hearing the proposals, the ad hoc committee on instrumentation. Chairman Joseph D. Coons suggested that the new regulations provide that Callaghan "may" require continuous monitoring, dropping the word "shall" from the proposed language.

Coons, a former employee of the district who has also represented the Bay Area League of Industrial Associations in his capacity as a consulting engineer, said that such a change would give Callaghan the "discretion" he needed.

None of the other three advisory council members present objected to Coons' proposed change, which with others was referred to Callaghan for review. The proposal is to be taken up again by the committee at 10:30 a.m. on April 10.

Committee member Philip J. Eldredge, though he later joined in the unanimous vote to send the regulations back for staff review, argued unsuccessfully for their immediate adoption.

"Let's write the rules hard and fast, and if they (industry) can't meet them, then we can consider modification. The time has come to solve the problem, and not just sit here and drag our feet," Eldredge declared.

Current district regulations require only ground level monitoring of sulfur dioxide, and then only in certain cases. The new regulations would require in-stack monitoring for all major contaminants.

The regulations were proposed by the district staff to meet the problem of increasing industrial emissions, and would be applied first to new and expanding industry. They would be applied to all existing industry eventually, Callaghan said.

40 Strep Cases

Forty cases of streptococcus infection, 27 of gonorrhea, two of infectious hepatitis and one each of salmonella and mumps were reported in Marin County last week, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, health officer.

ENGLISH STUDENTS

Finding A Wider Outlook

BY JOAN LISETOR

About the only thing exchange students Joy Whitty and Sue Bell have found wrong during their seven-month's stay in Marin is that they have gained weight.

Both are from Blandford, England, one of two European cities participating in a three way exchange student program with Redwood High School. The other city is Preetz, Germany.

Joy and Sue were friends in Blandford, a village 107 miles southwest of London with a population of about 3,000. Having known Redwood students living in Blandford made the transition from English countryside to Marin living easier for them, the girls agree.

JOY IS staying with the Jan Smekens family in Greenbrae. One of the Smekens' daughters, Eva, stayed with her family last year, and accompanied Sue and Joy on the student charter flight which brought them to New York in August. Joy and Eva visited with the American girl's relatives in Connecticut and Michigan, and Sue came straight to Marin to stay with the Richard Congreve family in Tiburon.

Joy, who is 18, finished the English equivalent of high school last year, but 17-year-old Sue will have to spend another year in comprehensive school, since the last two years in England are devoted to preparing for examinations.

"I have learned a lot about philosophical subjects since I've been here," Sue says. "Everything I have learned is not simply preparation for an exam."

"English schools are too structured, and they make you decide too early what you want to study," says Joy. "You always know what's coming when you walk into a class."

SUE ADDS, "Here you don't know what to expect when you walk into a class. It makes you more interested, and you want to learn. It gives you a chance to learn about yourself; I think I've gotten to know myself since I've been here."

The girls say that the American students they have met have a wider outlook than the average English student.

"I had never heard of pollution until I came here," says Sue, "and I never gave thought to the world's problems."

"We have grown up and become more aware since coming here," says Joy.

THE GIRLS participated in an exchange week recently. Sue attended Lowell High School in San Francisco, and Joy stayed with a family in Alta and attended nearby Colfax High School. They discussed the sharp contrast between schools.

"I walked into classrooms at Lowell and told the teachers I was an exchange student from England," Sue explains. "They would say, 'That's nice, you can sit over there.' "

"I was such a novelty in Colfax," says Joy. "They entertained for me, and I spoke in classes and for women's groups."

"WE DECIDED to form a club because the parents were doing all of the work, and there has been a good deal of interest in the club's programs. We are helping the adult club raise funds so that more students can participate in the exchange program," she says.

They are sponsoring a rummage sale with the adults tomorrow and Saturday at the high school. Other projects involve promoting student interest and introducing new exchange students to the community.

Joy says she was a bit muddled by her new environment, especially since it was her first separation from her twin sister but being made to feel so welcome has caused her to gain confidence.

The girls will return to England in July, and Joy says she hopes it will be late in July because she isn't anxious to go.

"I do miss family and friends," she says, "and wandering in the open spaces, but I love it here; it's been the fastest year of my life."

"And the best," says Sue.

Irish Nuns Recall St. Patrick's Day

By MAYBELLE SPECKMAN

All the nuns teaching at Our Lady of Mt. Carmel School in Mill Valley have reason to be especially interested in St. Patrick's Day.

First, all were born in Ireland. Second, they are delighted at the prospect of having more resources to work with as a result of the St. Patrick's "Blarney Blast" dinner-dance being staged Saturday at the Outdoor Art Club by the Parent-Teacher Group as a fund-raising event for the school.

The sisters, whose order of the Daughters of Mary and Joseph is the only one in Marin to have abandoned traditional nuns' habits for clothes of their own choosing, are Nora Murphy, a native of Cork; Hanna Herlihy, born in Kerry; Catherine Moloney, in Tipperary; and Kathleen Flynn, in Langford.

AT THEIR charming convent across the street from the school the sisters told something of what St. Patrick's Day means in Ireland.

It is a national holiday held annually throughout Ireland on March 17, they say, and because it is also a holy day of obligation, observance of the day is more religious than it is in this country, where it is mostly an occasion for parties and marches.

Emphasis is on religion in Ireland, they explain, because it is a day of thanksgiving for St. Patrick's bringing of Christianity to the country.

The day is also observed with parties and merrymaking as it is in America, but the difference, they point out, is that in Ireland real Irish customs are followed.

THE GAY celebration consist of an Efis, or gala competition in dancing and singing held at various places throughout Ireland.

"Wearing of the green" they trace to Irish people's custom of wearing freshly picked shamrocks, originally a religious symbol with the shamrock rrepresenting the holy trinity and its individual sections standing for the Father, Son and Holy Spirit. Girls also wear green ribbons in their hair.

As for why the day has become so popular in this country, they think the reason is the greatest number of Irish immigrants living here.

All of the nuns have either been in Ireland recently or plan to go there for a visit in the near future.

Sister Catherine Moloney says she found the country on her last visit more prosperous and with more modern conveniences than it used to have, and the young people very much like those in America except that there is no "generation gap." This is because Irish families are so close that the children have great respect for older persons. There is no youth rebellion except in the northern part of the country around Belfast, she says.

SISTER HANNAH Herlihy stressed that the cause of the trouble there is fundamentally political rather than religious, as many people in this country believe.

Speaking of their modern dress, the nuns say that they are very happy with it because it causes much less work and because it seems to break down barriers between them and lay people.

They wear whatever style clothes they like and are very grateful to the women of the parish who have made the dresses for them.

Isetta-Hulmer Vows Set

The engagement of Marilyn Rae Hulmer to William Gerald Isetta of Fairfax has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Hulmer of Napa.

Marilyn is the sister of Jim Hulmer of Santa Rosa and Mrs. Roland Phillips of San Jose, and she is the granddaughter of Mrs. Saima Ahola of Albany.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Napa High School and the University of California and she attended American Beauty College in Napa. She is a merchandise assistant with the Emporium in San Francisco.

William is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Isetta of Fairfax and the brother of Michael Isetta of Fairfax, Andrew Isetta of Reedley, Mrs. Robert Alten of San Anselmo and Mary Virginia, Eleanor and Joannie Isetta of Fairfax.

William is a graduate of St. Joseph's High School and the University of San Francisco and did graduate work at USF and Sonoma State College. He is a teacher and baseball and basektball coach at Marin Catholic High School.

Mrs. Alan F. Schroeder Is Elected Pi Beta Phi Leader

Mrs. Alan F. Schroeder of San Rafael has been elected president of the Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club of Marin. She succeeds Mrs. Francis T. Fogarty of Greenbrae.

Mary Schroeder is the wife of Dr. Alan F. Schroeder, a radiation therapist at the Claire Zellerbach Saroni Tumor Institute in San Francisco, and the mother of three children, Jeanne, 11; Tom, 9; and David, 2.

A native of Wisconsin, Mrs. Schroeder was graduated from Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill., and is active in the Marin branch of the American Association of University Women. She is also active in the Girl Scout program as an assistant leader of a junior troop in San Rafael. Other volunteer work includes teaching reading and art appreciation programs in San Rafael.

Mrs. Schroeder is known in Marin for her work in the art of contemporary decoupage. She also enjoys needlework, golf and bridge.

Assisting Mrs. Schroeder for the coming year will be Mmes. Jack Murdock, vice president; Robert K. Prothro, corresponding secretary; William T. Lane, recording secretary; Thomas Toldrian, treasurer; Robert L. Bandettini, publicity chairman; Dan Anderson, Settlement School chairman; H. A. Orrick, representative to Panhellenic; John Shiner, rush information chairman; Robert Joy, magazine chairman; and Murray Peterson, ways and means.

Most Frenchwomen Spurn The Midi Despite First Lady's Endorsement

By JOAN DEPPA

PARIS (UPI) — Madame Claude Pompidou may be ready to wear the midi but the mass of Frenchwomen are not—and they have the full support of their menfolk.

The wardrobe worn by France's First Lady during her American tour caused as much comment at home as it did in the United States. A full 68 per cent of her countrywomen say they are sticking with short skirts.

Nor do Frenchmen agree with President Georges Pompidou that longer skirts "add mystery to love." A full 84 per cent say they want the women they escort to wear short skirts.

THERE MAY be plenty of long skirts in the haute couture houses but only a few pretty mademoiselles are trying the midi-look. The fashion writer who proclaimed in January that Paris girls wouldn't be caught dead in miniskirts must have been confused by all the drooping hemlines in the high fashion houses.

Girl-watchers still see plenty of leg and thigh on the wide boulevards and winding streets of the French capital. Plenty of short skirts and dresses are being sold in Paris boutiques.

French women's magazines counsel their readers to try the midi with extreme caution and not to be upset over the so-called battle of the hemlines.

"WHY MAKE long or short a subject of irritation?" asked the editor of the weekly magazine Elle.

"The Couturiers themselves did not issue an ultimatum. On the contrary, it is a whole spectrum of possibilities they propose for you to choose from," Elle told readers in its special issue on the 1970 spring-summer collections — which gives more space to Emmanuel Ungaro's miniskirted line than to any other designer.

Marie-Claire, a magazine devoted to counselling young house wives on keeping their husbands happy, called short skirts "the real style of today and everyday, the style without problems."

Design Dishes

Make way for something unusual in dishes. A budding young artist in the family can draw the design on dishes. Or you can have several made of a set of personal art plates. Or, choose a theme and utilize the talents of the entire family. The possibilities are almost unlimited thanks to a kit containing special paper and ink, enough for 50 plates. When the creations are ready, return the patterns to the manufacturer and the designs will be molded into plastic plates.

How many times have you had it happen? Perfect little coat. Just can't find the right dress to go under it. Maddening, isn't it? We think so. So we're particularly happy to report on a number of new Easter clothes that are all neatly put together for you. There are coats with their own dresses. Dresses with their own jackets. Even suits with their own shirts. So you don't have to be a hop bunny this year. You just have to see us this year. And ask to see our Very Collected Collection.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Wonderful Parents Have Given Her Everything But Their Faith

DEAR HELEN:

This is a plea to my mother, perhaps to an almost universal mother, who worries needlessly:

I have been blessed with two wonderful parents who have given me everything in their power. They sacrificed so that I might have braces. They sent me to Hawaii. They provided an excellent college education. I am grateful. I owe them a lot and have tried to repay by adhering to their beliefs and moral values, even though I disagree with a few.

I don't smoke pot; in fact, I'm very much against it.

I don't abuse sex; in fact, I'm quite puritanical in regard to it.

I work hard in school, and I am straight.

I write poetry. One of my poems was written after a dear friend and I went to a church to pray together, and I was expressing the sacred feeling I had gotten from this experience. My mother found the poem distasteful, because my friend was a man.

I am a loner and I enjoy staying at our shore house alone so I have an opportunity to walk the winter beach and reflect upon what beauty is left in the world. My mother accuses me of being weird and promiscuous because of this.

I have only one request. Upon graduation from college, I'll be leaving, so that my parents will finally be able to enjoy their life together. But, until that time, I pray that my mother will accept me as I am, trust me and, above all, make a sincere effort to understand me. I might not be exactly what she had hoped, for I'm no saint—that's sure—but I'm me and I'd be so very happy if she'd just once believe in me. — OF A DIFFERENT TIME

DEAR DIFFERENT TIME:

You and your mother — perhaps that almost universal mother — are then and now. You'll understand each other only if each comes a little into the other's world. But how can you, when you're both so busy defending your time that you won't concede another era also merits praise?

These words are mostly for your mother, as you have already conformed to her world. But conforming isn't accepting. Perhaps if you'd let her know you see the worth in some of her values, she'd see much more worth in yours. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm a 15-year-old girl who had a lovely experience: I work for a while with seven mentally retarded children. Could I try to share it with you?

Roger's cute smile — he's forever smiling. His love poured out to me the minute I saw him — and mine to him. Debbi's urge to help all she can. She does an excellent job, too. Glen, who loves to play tetherball and is so happy to have a partner. Connie, the little mother with her brood of dolls. When you tell her she looks pretty, she glows. Larry: He loves to be held and cuddled. Jerome: Him and his husky, lovable laugh. And, last of all, there's Mark, a 14-year-old midget, who sat alone and was content with his own world. I loved these children very much and I tried my hardest to be fun and make them laugh.

When you've worked with kids like these, you don't laugh at them, you smile and say, "God, thank you for making them happy." For they are. I pray they'll have happiness forever.

When teens think of volunteer work, I hope they try homes for the mentally retarded. Volunteers are needed here — and the work is so rewarding. — SOMEONE WHO CARES.

Fat Cat To Munch High Off The Hog?

PETERSHAM, England (UPI) - Joseph, a five-year-old gourmet cat, has inherited 300 pounds ($720), but it may not be enough to finance him in the style of living to which he has become accustomed.

The will of Joseph's elderly mistress, Agatha Higgins, specified the money was to assure he continues his daily menu of fish, rabbit and cream. The 28-pound tabby has a distinct preference for cream instead of milk, the will said.

"This is for my dear cat, Joseph, who has been my affectionate companion and for whom it is my desire that he should be assured of a happy home when I shall be gone," Miss Higgins said in the will. She turned Joseph and the money over to Marguerite Chorley, a longtime companion.

"I don't know how I'm going to manage," she said. "He won't touch milk and insists on the best himself"

TWO OF America's first five women aquanauts, Ann Hartlane and Alina Szmant, both 23-year-old graduate students at Scripps Institution of Oceanography, will stay 14 days in and around a 50-foot-deep habitat in the Caribbean this summer as part of Tektite II underwater living experiment.

Lady Aquanauts Eager To Dive

By RONALD HUTCHERSON

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Two of the nation's first five women selected for an aquanaut program view their scientific backgrounds, rather than their sex, as their most important qualification.

Except for underwater work requiring "brute force," the women think they will be equal to men, they said at a news conference at the Scripps Institution of Oceanography.

The two Scripps graduate students, Mrs. Ann Hartlane and Alina Szmant, both 23, were named Tuesday to participate in Tektite II, a series of underwater missions involving the government, private industry and universities in a research program headed by the Interior Department.

THEY AND three other women will spend 14 days in July moored in about 50 feet of water off Great Lameshur Bay, St. John Island, U.S. Virgin Islands. They will study the escape behavior of coral reef fish and stimuli causing them to flee from approaching objects.

The women, both veteran divers, will be among the first group involved in saturated diving techniques that will qualify them as aquanauts.

"We will show that women are capable of participating in this type of project," Miss Szmant, originally from Dayton, Ohio, said.

The only disadvantage the 5-foot-5, 125-pound Mrs. Hartline cited was "any task that requires brute force."

SHE SAID she was "glad to see a chance for women even to be considered for a research project." It showed firms involved were willing to consider women for the work, she added.

"The projects are scientific, and in that sense men and women are equal depending on their scientific training," she said.

Mrs. Hartline received a bachelor's degree in biology from Stanford University in 1967 before starting work at Scripps, a branch of the University of California at San Diego.

The 5-foot, 110-pound Miss Szmant moved to Santiago De Cuba with her family in 1956 and to Puerto Rico in 1961. Before entering Scripps in 1966 she was awarded a biology degree by the University of Puerto Rico.

OTHERS NAMED to the five-woman team were Dr. Sylvia Earle Mead, 34, of the Farlow Herbarium at Harvard University, Dr. Renate S. True, 33, of Tulane University and Margaret Ann Lucas, 22, a graduate student at the University of of Delaware.

Tektite II, beginning April 1, will involve 62 scientist-aquanauts spending a record two months conducting research while living isolated on the ocean floor.

Tektite II divers will live in a five-man habitat and underwater research laboratory containing living quarters, furniture, plumbing and other life support equipment. The habitat was made of two 18-foot cylinders joined by a tunnel.

The project will contribute to man's knowledge of the psychological and physiological factors associated with missions in an isolated, hostile environment, according to a Tekite II announcement.

Among objectives were acceleration of the development of ocean science and technology, providing impetus for a national man-in-the-sea program, evaluation of new diving equipment for undersea research and conducting biomedical studies and operational procedures needed to extend saturated nitrogen diving to 100 feet.

Pamela Stephens Will Be Wed To John Sharrett

A family dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Stephens of Cotati was the occasion for the announcement of the engagement of their daughter, Pamela Jean, to John Sharrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Sharrett of Rohnert Park.

The couple will be married when John returns to the United States in October, 1971.

Hang Wollens

Always hang woolen garments immediately after wearing. Wool fibers are elastic and light wrinkles usually will stretch out overnight. You can quickly steam away more firmly set wrinkles from packing or wearing by hanging the garment in the bathroom while you take a hot shower. Properly-shaped hangers are a must for maintaining shoulder lines.

ON THE AGENDA

St. Patrick's Day Dominoes Scheduled By Marin Chapter

Sunday will be a day of dominoes at the Holiday Inn in San Rafael as the third annual St. Patrick's Day mixed doubles domino tournament sponsored by St. Dominics Chapter of Social Service of Marin starts at 11 a.m.

Proceeds from the day long tournament will go to the Catholic Social Service of Marin. A buffet luncheon will be served, and Mrs. Fred Acciari of San Rafael is reservations chairman.

PART OF THE proceeds from the performance of "The Blood Knot" Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in Brown's Hall, Mill Valley, by the Homestead Players will go the Sausalito School District Parents Group for purchase of musical instruments for Sausalito schools.

All proceeds from a champagne get-together after the performance to meet the actors will also be used for this purpose.

Chairman Mrs John Robinson of Mill Valley says that donations of cookies and hors d'oervres are needed.

Resevations chairmen are Mmes. Joel J. Kudler of Sausalito, Royce McLamore of Marin City and Louis Levy of Mill Valley.

Mrs. Robinson said that Martin Luther King School students will have the chance to attend the play free at other performances.

MILL VALLEY'S Millwood Unit of Marin Foundation will host its 17th annual dinner and barn dance at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley Saturday. A cocktail party at 7:30 p.m. will be followed by dinner and dancing until 1 a.m.

Unit members planning the event include Mmes. Henry Eckhard, chairman, and John Finn III, John Gatfield, Lee Johnson, Francis Keane, Melvin Klyce, Kenneth Stevens, Walter Stewart, William Witt and Ralph Tierney.

"LET'S DO Our 'Spring Thing' With Fashion," will be presented Saturday by the John Reed Parent-Teacher Association at the Rohnert Park Junior High School auditorium at 1 p.m.

Lunch will precede the show, which will include children's fashions. Mrs. Lucille Jewell is director, coordinator and commentator.

MEMBERS OF the Marin Mannequin League will model when the San Francisco designers present an Easter fashion show Saturday at Stonestown Shopping Center in San Francisco. The league turns over all of its modeling fees to charities.

THE FIRST SOCIAL event of the year for the Petaluma

Golf and Country Club will be a bridge dinner, preceded by a champagne hour at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at the clubhouse.

Co-chairmen for the St. Patrick's Day dinner are Mr. and Mrs. George Riis, Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Musser and Mr. and Mrs. William Abbey.

Reservations chairmen are Mmes. Musser and Abbey.

BLEESD SACRAMENT Womens Guild will have a rummage sale Saturady from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sunday from noon to 4 p.m. It will be held at the parish hall, 160 North San Pedro Road, San Rafael.

SHAMROCKS FLOWN from Ireland will be presented to persons who attend the 15th annual St. Patrick's Day dinner Saturday at Star of the Sea Church parish hall in Sausalito.

A traditional dinner of corned beef and cabbage will be served from 6 to 8 p.m. by members of the church's Men's Club, which sponsors the event.

THE PETALUMA Soroptimist Club will present "Spring Fashion Fantasy" on Saturday at the Green Mill Inn in Cotati preceded by a 1 p.m. luncheon.

Committee members are Mmes. Walter Zoppi, chairman; Henry Nommsen, co-chairman; Jessie Mitchell, Norman Sieve, Edward Picray-, Ralph Pelton and Andrew Hogya.

Reservations chairmen are Mrs. Zoppi and Mrs. Nommsen, both of Petaluma.

ST. VINCENT de Paul and St. James Catholic Churches of Petaluma will sponsor the St. Patrick's Day dance Saturday at 9 p.m. in the multipurpose room of St. Vincent High School.

Refreshments will be available, and a buffet supper will be served at 11 p.m.

Thomas Griffin, chairman, will be assisted by committee members William Giacomini, refreshments; Larry Souza, decorations; Michael Costello, awards; Mrs. Vern Johnson, press; Mmes. Jack Rappa, Richard Ferris, Norman Prouix and Kenneth Nehmens, buffet; Joseph O'Brien, coordinator; Mrs. Souza and Richard Costa, tickets.

Tickets are available also from committee members and at either rectory during regular office hours.

"BLARNEY BLAST" is the theme selected for a St. Patrick's Day dinner-dance to be sponsored Saturday by Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Parent-Teacher Group in Mill Valley.

A cocktail hour at 7:30 p.m. will open festivities in the school auditorium, and dinner, dancing and entertainment will follow. Irish coffee and plans for a sing-along will add to the informal atmosphere.

Chairmen are Dr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson. Mrs. Jerry Knowles and Mrs. Paul Vogelheim will transform the auditorium into an Irish country pub for the occasion.

Assisting the chairmen are Mmes. John Preisinger and John Erdman, food; Dr. Frank Yanni, beverages; Paul Vogelheim, entertainment; Mrs. Leonard Asiano, donations and prizes; Mrs. Angelo Perone, cleanup; and Mrs. Gerry Mertens, invitations and publicity, which will include posters made by seventh and eigtht grade students.

Reservations chairmen are Mmes. George Monardo and Ralph Kellogg.

LOCH LOMOND Yacht Club will celebrate St. Patrick's Day with a traditional corned beef and cabbage dinner Saturday night. A cocktail party will precede the dinner, which will be followed by a songfest of popular Irish ditties. Mrs. Robert Blakeslee of Corte Madera heads the committee.

THE LATEST fashions and entertainment will be featured when Mrs. Cyrille C. Raymond of Novato presents her dance students and their mothers in "Spring '70" at 1 p.m., Saturday, at the Non-Commissioned Officers Club at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Proceeds from the benefit will be applied to funds to build a library at Marindale School in memory of Susan Stranzl.

Susan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stranzl of Corte Madera, presented a check to Marindale School, hoping a library could be built in memory of Susan who died at the age of six in 1967. Susan, muscular dystrophy poster child in 1965, was in a wheel chair and loved to read.

Mrs. W. E. Waldrop will be commentator at the fashion show and committee members are Mmes. B. T. Theisen, Dale Cutler, Ronald Tashjian, Edward Pennington and David Ditto, all of Novato.

ST. SYLVESTER'S Women's Guild will present a spring boutique and art auction Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the parish social hall, 1115 San Pedro Road in San Rafael.

Featured in the boutique will be Easter novelties, gifts and a display of plants. A children's booth, food booth and attic treasures will be included.

THE COLLEGE of Marin Alumni Association plans their annual dinner-dance for Saturday at the San Rafael Elks Club with cocktails beginning at 7 p.m.

Proceeds will go toward the Paul "Dutch" Clymer Alumni Scholarship Fund. Clymer, dean of instruction at the College, will retire this year after 32 years as an instructor, coach and vice president.

PRESS GUIDE IS AVAILABLE

A new guide for press chairmen of organizations which are interested in getting news to the Marin Women's Section of the Independent-Journal is now available at the San Rafael main office and the Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma I-J offices.

The booklet, "Getting News Into Your Newspaper," is issued as a service of the Independent-Journal Women's Section to assist press chairmen for women's organizations.

The booklets at the San Rafael office may be obtained from the switchboard on the main floor.

MARY C. SOMERS

Mary Somers To Be Wed On May 9

Plans for a May 9 wedding are being made by Mary Carolyn Somers of Sausalito and Wayne Richard Edmunds of San Francisco.

The couple's engagement was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Somers of San Jose. The sister of Mrs. Paul Rogers of Tiburon and John Robert Somers of San Jose, Mary was graduated from Abraham Lincoln High School in San Jose and was the first woman graduate of the University of Santa Clara. She is a teacher with the San Anselmo school district.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Edmunds of San Francisco. A graduate of Polytechnic High School, he attended San Francisco State College and is employed with the Standard Oil Co. of California.

Hosiery Goes Colorful With Opaques, Sheers

Pantyhose continue in importance in newer versions. The texture for spring is sheer, delicate and cobweb-like or finely ribbed.

The pastel color palette for hosiery is as yummy as petal pink, peach fuzz, honey blond and bluebell. Black and navy are the important darks.

The semi-opaque hose and pantyhose come out with pin stripes or a single pattern running in a stripe the length of the leg.

The panty girdle with detachable stockings takes the prize for more control in holding up stockings, more color coordination and more practicality plus a little tummy control.

Knee-high know-how comes into the picture with semi-opaque and textured knee socks for pants and sporty dresses and skirts for spring.

Richard T. Born To Wed Kathleen Marie Boomer

April nuptials are planned by Kathleen Marie Ann Boomer of Larkspur and Richard Thomas Born of Novato, whose engagement has been announced by her mother, Mrs. Robert Jay Davison of Larkspur.

KATHLEEN BOOMER

A graduate of Palo Alto High School, Kitty attended College of Marin and is employed with Blue Shield in Fairfax.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence George Born of Novato are Richard's parents, and he has a sister, Karen Louise Born. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Cummings of Santa Rosa are his grandparents.

DREAM ENGINE—Artist Henry Rasmusen uses both direct and indirect painting techniques to create mysterious landscapes and objects such as this unusual device in his show at the Mill Valley library gallery.

ART REVIEW

Works By Rasmusen Suggest Mysticism

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Poets, mystics and dreamers of dreams all have something in common with Henry Rasmusen. Above all, his exhibit this month in the gallery of the Mill Valley Library in Old Mill Park, projects a gentle depth and sensitivity.

This building of mood comes mostly from Rasmusen's method of indirect painting — the transfer of pigment from a sometimes textured surface, onto paper by pressing the paper into it. The assortment of things such as cloth and string and the density and depth of the paint are all responsible for the myriad variations and subtleties within his work.

The resulting dots, pocks, streaks, feathers and spikes become the delicately detailed rocks, foliage and sky in his usually suggested landscapes.

"Dark Dreams" is like a scene in purgatory, layered and brooding, its inner-glowing golden details heavily hung with black. "Mediterranean" is intensely the opposite, sun-baked and bright, a ribbon of vivid blue radiating above an intricate pattern of hotly pale terrain. Or the artist's work may suggest other strange but natural things such as gnarled trees, deserts and cliffs.

Rasmusen's designs may incorporate overall intricate patterns or they may be built from a few simple shapes such as "Spring Thaw," in which a corrugated mass of paint, a more elaborately surfaced area and a shape of flat blue are set in definitive contrast with one another.

In the library exhibit the most noticable innovation in the artist's work is his addition of directly painted color. Many paintings in this show reflect the old brooding palette which placed such emphasis on mystery. But there are also many new things here, particularly the vibrant "Sahara" and "Structures" in which burning purples, pinks, greens and ruddy reds express a hot, explosive inner energy rather than the former dark reserve. In either case, Rasmusen gets a lot of mileage out of a supposedly simple technique.

For a long while indirect painting, monoprinting and the like have drawn amateurs looking for instant soul and painterly detail in their art. But they seldom understand or use the full magic of the technique and consequently, seldom manage Rasmusen's power or grace. Looking around the gallery, the individual depths, truths and nuances Rasmusen appreciates are easily seen and in the end they become the measure of the artist.

Abortion Law Repeal Urged

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Medical Association is urging repeal of all legal restraints against abortions by licensed doctors.

The CMA House of Delegates approved by overwhelming voice vote Wednesday a resolution declaring that abortion should be governed strictly by "sound clinical judgment and informed patient consent."

The CMA resolution is the first formal declaration by a state medical organization urging abolition of criminal penalties against abortions performed by licensed medical practitioners.

Dr. George K. Herzog of San Francisco, chairman of a special study committee created a year ago, said the goal of his committees' resolution is to leave the decision on abortion to the patient and her physician, without review by third parties.

California's 1967 therapeutic abortion law, a pioneering liberalizaton statute drafted by State Sen. Anthony Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, requires review of each abortion case by a hospital committee.

Last Monday Beilenson introduced bills to achieve the purposes of the CMA declaration. The House of Delegates directed that copies of the resolution be sent to all California legislators and all accredited hospitals in the state.

The CMA resolution declarred that no doctor or hospital holding moral principles against abortion should be compelled to participate in such an operation

It aslo asserted that abortions never should be performed "on demand or merely on the basis of social and economic pressures or human convenience."

On Christmas Day of 1855, the Royal Canadian Rifles, stationed in Kingston, Ont., cleared snow from the harbor, tied skates to boots, borrowed field-hockey sticks and an old lacrosse ball and began a new game—hockey on ice.

Jet Is Home From Havana Minus Six

MIAMI (AP) — A United Air Lines jetliner forced to fly to Cuba by an armed hijacker described as an American Negro returned to Miami Wednesday night minus six of the 106 persons originally aboard.

Those who stayed in Havana were the gunman and a woman and four children, believed to be the hijacker's family.

The United Boeing 747 jet, bound from Cleveland to Palm Beach, Fla., was commandeered near Pittsburgh. The hijacker agreed to a 32-minute refueling stop in Atlanta before ordering the plane to the Cuban capital.

Passenges said the man was a tall Negro dressed all in black.

Capt. Peter Gallant, the plane's pilot, said the man had little to say, except that he wanted to go to Cuba.

'The Giant Turtle' At Redwood High

Students of Redwood High School will present "The Giant Turtle," a two-hour collection of poems, songs, musical passages and dances, at 8 p.m. today in the school's Little Theater.

The show, which will include passages by e.e. cummings and Lawrence Ferlinghetti, also will be presented tomorrow and Saturday at 8 p.m.

Schrade Again Before Jury; Third Check Probe Tonight

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The grand jury inquiry into a lobbyist's $5,000 payment last June to Sen. Jack Schrade took on marathon proportions today as Dist. Atty. John Price called for a third session tonight.

The San Diego Republican declined comment after appearing before the grand jury in the second night of the inquiry Wednesday.

Schrade said he appeared voluntarily, but answered all other comments with, "I have been admonished by the district attorney not to make any statement."

Schrade, recently elected president pro tem of the Senate, did say he expected the inquiry to vindicate him.

The senator was on the hearing room floor for more than 3 hours. But, said, Price, "he didn't spend three hours on the stand."

Robert L. Lofts, attorney for the California Association of Thrift and Loan Associations, also appeared at the Wednesday session. He answered repeated, "No comment, no comment," as he left the courthouse.

The controversial check was issued by the association a month before Schrade voted in a Senate committee in favor of a bill supported by the loan companies. The measure later failed to pass on the Senate floor.

IS RACE THE PROBLEM?

Saga Of A Black Marin Job-Seeker

By DAVID DIETZ

Dorothy Moreland needs a job. If she were to place an ad in the newspaper, it might read "Clerk-typist, 45-64 w p m, 5 years' experience, some key-punch, eager worker, seeks position in Marin."

Nothing fancy, mind you, just a job to replenish the sagging finances of a moderate income family new to Marin. The prevailing clerk-typist wage, Mrs. Moreland says, is $400 a month, which is what many Marinites make in a week—and then some.

Mrs. Moreland, 28, black, San Rafael resident, wife of a Corte M a d e r a policeman, mother of a 5-year-old son, has been looking for a job for more than three months. She can't find one, despite the assistance of three employment agencies and at least 30 job interviews.

She claims the problem is race. Black may be beautiful, she says, but not to Marin businessmen.

"Every job I've gone for I've been qualified and everyone has complimented me on my work background, but I always come in a close second," Mrs. Moreland said bitterly the other night, seated in the comfortable family apartment in the Canal area. "The only reason I can see is Marin County. It's difficult enough for the average person to make it, but if you're black. . ."

Like most other newcomers on low and moderate incomes, the Morelands have discovered the anguish of trying to keep pace with Marin's super-charged living standards. What's worse, they contend, the conditions give rise to strong antiblack sentiment.

The Morelands are not poor, and don't seem to be close to it, despite a financial squeeze, but as George Moreland, 36, puts it:

"My salary alone ($727 a month) is no way to live in this county and if she doesn't get a job soon, we're going to go by the boards. The only way we can make it is with her working." He said most of the family savings of $1,500 had been expended since the family's arrival last summer.

The Morelands came to Marin from Champaign, Ill., where he had been on the police force more than six years and she worked for the University of Illinois. Their son, Mark, has a respiratory problem—"He g e t s pneumonia when other children get colds," said Moreland—and the couple was advised by a physician to take him to a warmer climate.

Although Moreland said he was generally pleased with his new job, the couple otherwise indicated they didn't like the rest of what they found in Marin—high cost of living ("at least 40 per cent higher," says Moreland), lower wages and, above all, an absence of blacks, especially working blacks.

Said her h u s b a n d, "Other places, you always see blacks out working for the water company, telephone company, electric company—jobs that require only an average intelligence—but not here." The climate, he said, seems geared to "keep everybody who's in Marin City, in Marin City."

Mrs. Moreland charged that an antiblack feeling surfaces everywhere. "You go to the store and the kind of looks you get are, 'My goodness, what are you doing here. . .?' "

On her struggles to find a job, she said: "The only difference between Marin and Mississippi (her birthplace) is that there they're honest about it. I'd rather be called a nigger. . . .than have all these things going on and hanging you up."

She said her message to the people of Marin is, "I just want someone to give me a chance to do what you do."

Mrs. Moreland formerly held a typist's job at McGraw-Hill Book Co. in Novato, quitting in November after two-and-a-half months, but she declined to discuss her reasons for leaving.

However, Edward McGuire, her supervisor at McGraw-Hill, said he felt that Mrs Moreland, whom he called a "very intelligent woman", was capable of more challenging work, was underemployed for her ability.

Pat Kelly, an employment counselor with Snelling and Snelling, one of the agencies through which Mrs. Moreland has been working, blamed stiff job competition for much of Mrs. Moreland's problem.

"The county is not exactly abundant with these jobs," she said. "There are so many super qualified women with a lot of experience willing to work for a low amount of money to stay in the county and nine times out of ten, the one who has the most experience is the one who gets the job."

The counselor said she would agree with Mrs. Moreland "to a certain extent" that race is a factor, but "it's not as much as she thinks it is. I think she's just super and I've had excellent reports from the people she interviewed with."

M o r e l a n d said his wife could have had jobs in San Francisco and Richmond "but there are jobs here. . .and I don't feel she has to commute if she doesn't want to."

Meantime, their son is attending a private school in Corte Madera with a flexible instruction schedule that would permit Mrs. Moreland to take him to school and pick him up if she found work. Moreland is not always available because of staggered working hours and police instruction at Santa Rosa Junior College.

The person who eventually hires her may be making a token gesture, Mrs. M o r e l a n d said, "but I'd be glad to be a token. I'd be glad to be a token somewhere."

Ross General Emergency Staff Tested

The efficiency of the emergency staff at Ross General Hospital was tested yesterday in a disaster drill sprung by the administrator, San Anselmo police, two ambulance companies and the Marin Chapter of the Red Cross.

A mock multiple automobile accident at San Anselmo's hub was reported to the hospital at 9:10 a.m. by the Marin County Communications Center, alerted by police shortly after 9 a.m.

The eight volunteer "victims" from the Red Cross were transported to the hospital in ambulances provided by United and Doctors ambulance services, according to Dr. John C. Siemens, hospital administrator.

By 9:50 a.m. all eight had been examined and directed to surgery, X-Ray or the intensive care unit for treatment, Siemens said.

The drill demonstrated that additional supplies were needed in the emergency room, and more complete records should be kept, Siemens said.

Youth, 17, Booked On Marijuana Probe

Gary Bruce Zonza, 17, of 32 Edison Avenue, Corte Madera, was booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall yesterday for investigation of marijuana possession after B e l v e d e r e police found three cigarettes believed to contain the drug in his auto during a routine traffic stop.

Zonza was arrested when police stopped him at 10:25 p.m. for failure to obey a stop sign at the intersection of Mar West and Tiburon boulevard and saw the cigarettes in the car's ashtray.

Sausalito Foot Patrol Is Urged

Sausalito needs a police foot patrol downtown seven days a week, members of the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce decided yesterday, and agreed the cost of adding the necessary men to the city's police force should be paid, for the most part, by the business community.

The businessmen's request, in the form of a resolution adopted after Sausalito merchants met yesterday for the second time to discuss possible solutions to the city's problems, will be presented to the city council Tuesday, according to Raymond L. Roy, chamber president.

Roy expressed the consensus of the meeting when he said the city's businessmen feel the patrol is the only way to enforce existing city ordinances against littering, panhandling and other problems plaguing Sausalito merchants.

According to Councilman Robin Sweeny, the only council member to attend the two study sessions, Police Chief James D. Wright has estimated three additional policemen, at a cost of approximately $30,000 a year, will be needed to provide the daily patrol.

Mrs. Sweeny told the group the chief said recruitment and training of the needed policemen w o u l d take about two months, just in time for the city's peak tourist season. How to finance the beefed up patrol was discussed, but no decision was reached. One man suggested an increased business license tax and most of the 25 merchants present agreed. No one objected.

Most businessmen rejected increased property taxes as a means of revenue, but indicated they felt some support should come from residents since they, too, will benefit from a downtown cleanup.

Flood-Hit Farm Hands Win Food Stamps Plea

A federal judge yesterday issued a temporary restraining order aimed at helping farm workers in Marin and 13 other Northern California counties who wee rrput out of wok by the winter floods.

The order was issued by U. S. District Court Judge Robert F. Peckham in San Francisco as a result of a suit brought by California Rural Legal Assistance of San Francisco.

Ralph Avascal of Marysville, one of the attorneys for Rural Legal Assistance, said the ruling requires the department of agriculture to relax its rules on food stamp purchases so that farm workers temporarily unemployed or underemployed as a result of the floods can get adequate nutritious food at reduced cost.

"I don't think there is very much application in Marin," said Avascal. He said he is not acquainted with local conditions in Marin but suspects that Marin's damage was mostly in roads and bridges rather than on farms.

Avascal said he does not know of any specific cases in Marin where the judge's ruling would apply.

New Life For Petaluma Poultry Lab

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—The poultry and livestock diagnostic laboratory in Petaluma will remain open for at least another year, the state Department of Agriculture announced today.

Dr. W. W. Worcester, chief of veterinary laboratory services, said that although no funds have been budgeted for the 1970-71 fiscal year, money will be made available, partly through a new fee system for services.

Worcester said that the fee schedule has not been fully developed, but that it is proposed that the users fee provide one-third of the operating costs. He said the remaining funds will come from within the department by shuffling the budget.

A bill to permit the fee charge has been introduced in the Assembly. Worcester said the fees will include a minimum charge and then be graduated depending on the amount and type of services required. An earlier plan to charge no fees for diagnosing a disease or investigating an animal health problem has been dropped, he said.

Worcester said the department had reconsidered closing the Petaluma facility when it received hundreds of protest letters from i n d i v i d u a l s and groups in the 15-county North Coast service area.

Clothing Is Sought For Navajo Children

The Indian Club at Redwood High School is collecting clothing for Navajo children in Arizona. It hopes to finish the drive by March 20 and ship the clothes to the 6-to-8-year-olds by Easter.

Pickup of donations may be arranged through Jerry Jones at the school, or the clothing may be brought to the school.

Finch Panel Urges Old Mint Become Branch Of Smithsonian

A special committee appointed by Robert W. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare, held yesterday that the old Mint in San F r a n c i s c o should become a w e s t e r n branch of the Smithsonian Institution.

Only if regents of the Smithsonian turn it down should the historic structure make way for a downtown campus for San F r a n c i s c o State College, as urged by Dr. S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley, college president, said the committee.

Use of the historic structure for a Smithsonian Institution branch was suggested by the California State Numismatic Society, a coin collector organization.

Angelo Turrini of San Rafael, a director of the society, said today that hundreds of copies of an Independent-Journal editorial last Sept. 24 endorsing the proposal were mailed to senators, congressmen, committee members and others interested in the fate of the mint. "That editorial really did it for us," he said.

Turrini reported the idea was first suggested by Gordon Hunt of San Diego, a numismatic society member. It was endorsed by the California society, then by the American Numismatic Society, Canadian Numismatic Society, and American Banknote Society. The money collectors had a natural interest in the fate of the mint through their hobby, he explained.

In its report to Finch yesterday, the committee said the mint should "remain in the public ownership in the form of a historical use . . . The suggestion that it be used by the Smithsonian Institution, a f t e r rehabilitation, in our opinion is exciting and if realized would be the highest and best use for the citizens at large."

It said final decision should be delayed to Dec. 1 to allow time for Smithsonian response. If regents of the Smithsonian turn down the mint, the application of San Francisco State College should be accepted, said the report.

Dr. Hayakawa called the committee recommendation "nonsense."

The building at Fifth and Mission streets was completed in 1874 and served for generations as one of three mints coining United States money. It was declared surplus after being replaced by a more modern structure on Market Street 24 years ago.

Alcatraz Depot Hours Are Told

The Alcatraz Supply Depot, organized by San Rafael High School students to gather supplies for Indians on Alcatraz Island, will be open t h r o u g h March 23, according to Lynn Bagley, student worker at the center.

The center at 536 Third Street is open Monday through Saturday to receive donations on pickup service at homes is available on weekends for large donations.

The c e n t e r originally was scheduled to close next Monday, but the drive has been extended one week.

Hub Policy On Summer School Near

San Anselmo's summer school may be one of the first casualties as the San Anselmo School District board starts whittling to strike a balance in the squeezed 1970-71 budget.

The board will discuss whether to keep or drop summer school this year when it meets at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Red Hill School library.

Like most shool districts, San Anselmo is caught in a squeeze between rising costs and taxpayer reluctance to approve higher taxes.

The district is involved in deficit spending now, Supt. Stephen L. Parodi said, in that some of the money now in reserves will be used.

The board decided last year, Parodi said, "that we have to treat our personnel right on salary, so we might have to consider whether we can continue some of our programs. . . Summer school, the music program, transportation of pupils might need curtailing."

Parodi is to present the board a first draft of the 1970-71 budget Tuesday.

Last year, the district held a 22-day summer school session at a cost of $15,000. The classes included academic courses, remedial work and several new programs not available during the regular school year, such as outdoor education, French cooking, multi-ethnic education, drama and others.

Teachers were granted 9 per cent salary schedule raises last year, and 5 per cent the year before, while the district budget rose from $1,632,670 in 1967-8 to $1,836,000 in 1968-9 and $1,917,971 in 1969-70. Meantime, two bond issues failed, one for $950,000 in fall of 1967 and the other for $510,000 in June, 1968.

U.S. Involvement In Laos Still Not Perfectly Clear

President Nixon is to be commended for giving the American people a much more candid report on U.S. involvement in Laos than either of his predecessors had done since President Kennedy sent the first handful of "advisers" there in 1961. But he did not quite make everything perfectly clear.

In his statement last week at his "winter White House" on Key Biscayne, Mr. Nixon said that:

All American involvement in Laos had been in response to requests from the government of Prince Souvanna Phouma. He listed requests for "supplies and munitions" in 1962, "increasing our training and logistics support" and "certain interdictory (air) missions against invaders" in 1964.

When he took office in January, 1969, said President Nixon, "We thus had a military assistance program reaching back over six years, and air operations dating over four years."

THEN HE DECLARED that, as of now, "these are the facts":

"There are no American ground combat troops in Laos. . .

"The total number of Americans directly employed by the U. S. government in Laos is 616. In addition, there are 424 Americans employed on contract. . .

"No American stationed in Laos has ever been killed in ground combat operations. . .

"In addition to air operations on the Ho Chi Minh Trail, we have continued to carry out reconnaissance flights in north Laos and fly combat support missions for Laotian forces when requested to do so by the Royal Laotian government."

"CONTINUING TO FLY combat support missions" sounds a little more ominous when it is made perfectly clear how many such missions this means. Mr. Nixon said nothing about that. But Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., claimed the U. S. is flying 12,500 to 15,000 bomber sorties per month in Laos.

Although Mr. Nixon said "no American stationed in Laos has ever been killed in ground combat operations," it was promptly reported that a U. S. Army captain was killed there in February, 1969, while returning enemy fire. A White House aide said the captain was not "killed in combat" because he was in a headquarters attacked by the enemy "10 miles to the rear of the expected line of contact."

The White House then admitted that 26 American civilians also have been killed in "hostile action" in Laos. And there have been some 400 reported American deaths in air operations in Laos.

When these figures are considered along with those given by the President, the picture of U. S. involvement in Laos does not look quite the same. But it is still not perfectly clear.

ONE IS REMINDED, unhappily, of a speech by Lyndon B. Johnson on Sept. 28, 1964, during his campaign for the presidency, in which he said of Vietnam:

"We have lost 190 American lives, and to each one of those 190 families this is a major war. . .We think that losing 190 lives is bad, but it is not like 190,000 that we might lose the first month if we escalated the war."

We have now lost nearly 50,000 lives in Vietnam. We have lost more than 400 in Laos. It makes little difference whether they were in "ground combat," "ground hostile action," or aerial operations.

We hope Mr. Nixon will keep this perfectly clear, in his own mind.

"I, too, Was Once a Handsome Prince," Said the Frog. "Until That Evil Witch . . . Say, Fella! You're Starting to Croak!"

MARQUIS CHILDS

One Thing Made Clear In Laos: Reds Can Win Despite Bombers

WASHINGTON—The men who stalk the corridors of power five or six days a week, whether they are pro-administration policy on the war or anti, have one thing in common. They do not know what comes next in Laos.

For an inquiring reporter it was never harder to find the answers than it is today. The President has recited most of the facts about Laos, although not all — a significant omission being the extent of B-52 bombing sorties. The only conclusion from those facts is a desparing one.

Hanoi has been able to infiltrate into Laos large numbers of troops equipped with modern weapons, many of them apparently of American origin. That force is capable of moving with little resistance against territory, including the capital of Vientianne, that has never been taken by the communists despite years of the seesaw conflict.

WHAT THE PRESIDENT did not tell — what he could scarcely have told under the circumstances — was the dispirited state of the royal Laotian army and its auxiliaries. They were routed at the Plain of Jars, according to an intelligence evaluation that carefully sifted reports from all sources, because they were weary after months of conflict, they had suffered heavy losses, and, it must be added, except for the Meo tribesmen, they do not like to fight.

What is to stop the 67,000 North Vietnamese from taking the country? The answer is nothing, if they choose to do so. Four or five years ago sending in an American force might have been conceivable. That is what Lyndon Johnson did when he was told in 1965 that South Vietnam was about to fall to the communists.

That course is surely inconceivable today. It goes directly contrary to the policy of the Nixon administration in withdrawing United States ground troops from Vietnam — the phased withdrawal that is the center piece of Vietnamization. Nor in view of the intense interest that Sen. J. William Fulbright, Sen. Stuart Symington and others have focussed on Laos is an imperceptible slide into "another Vietnam" likely. Secy. of State William P. Rogers has given the foreign relations committee his earnest assurance that congress will be consulted in advance — not informed after the event — of any further commitment.

ALTHOUGH the far right and Vice President Agnew put him down as the villain, Fulbright is a reasonable man. Things are going better than they did under the Johnson administration, he says, but they are not good enough.

He agrees with the conclusion of Townsend Hoopes' book, "The Limits of Intervention," that a phased withdrawal will not work. So long as the Thieu government stands athwart the effort to achieve a broad political base, there can be no settlement of the Vietnam conflict and no end to the American involvement.

The stark, staring reality of Laos and its return to Vietnam could be a blessing in disguise, heavily disguised as Winston Churchill said in response to that comment at a desperate point in World War II. There is the proof that Hanoi can mount force if not in one place then in another, despite all the hundreds of daily sorties flown by American big bombers. The answer can only be a political settlement that frankly acknowledges this grim reality.

THIS IS WHAT critics such as Fulbright are saying. They are speaking without rancor, knowing full well how very difficult is the decision that one man alone, the President of the United States, must make.

A consensus on a way out of Vietnam and Laos should not be impossible.

Lower Vote Age? No, Raise It To 30

In looking back over the years I've arrived at the conclusion that instead of giving the vote to the 18-year-olds it would be more to the point to raise it to 30 years. Over 50 per cent of the voters don't know what for. Of course the teeners know it all.

. . .Part of the recent riot trouble can be laid, I think, to leniency on the part of our judges. Anyone participating in a riot, if a student should be expelled without recourse from school, and civil rights taken from them. Adults five years in prison. Our present laws leave too many loopholes for the guilty to crawl out through. I think Judge Hoffman was right. Sock'em.

And in conclusion I want to give the Independent-Journal employees from top to bottom a pat on the back for the way they have delivered in the face of adversity.

Bouquets For Boy Who Calls For Pay

Wonder if this will be known as the "verbal and/also material brick bat" age?

It is kind of like the wind—one cannot see where it comes from, or know where it is going, but one can see the trees move if one is looking and listening.

Today I would like to hand a bouquet of "remember you forever" flowers to a young gentleman who touches my life each month asking for money.

He is polite, courteous, happy, has an eagerness of youth, and a great understanding and compassion if I don't have the money that day. I do not know his background of home, beliefs, or hobbies. I see him when he comes to collect for my Independent-Journal. In him I also see the hope that is, was, always has been, and always will be in this our Land Beautiful.

'You Don't Report The Good Things'

I'm writing to tell you why I'm against your newspaper, the I-J.

I'm against it because some of the things that are printed in your newspaper are a little far-out from the real story. And you don't report enough good things that people do around here, you just print things that are bad. So the people that read the I-J or any newspaper for that fact, just find out what's bad and their minds seem to go negative about people, politics, teenagers, drugs, and other things. There's too much bad in this world and hate, the newspapers don't help this situation out at all. I don't like reading the paper because it's not helping me out any to read about what's bad in this world and not what's good (as for young people, they don't all protest). Lots of people over 30 label kids hippies if they're sloppy or long-haired, which is not right at all. The main reason for this is because they hear and see on the news (TV) and in the papers about the kids that protest for what they think is right (it's not always right). The main thing is that people that do this, most, don't know that in a sense they are being "brainwashed" just by reading the paper or listening to the news.

Sonoma State College Defended

I am a graduate of Sonoma State College, and as such I cannot help but answer your "Editor's Notebook" of March 7, which is misleading at best, and filled with lies at worst.

1. You state that a popular and successful athletic director was fired for no good reason. How do you know? Personnel matters are private according to state law. I can only judge according to my own experiences with Mr. Helgeson. In those experiences, I found his most distinguishing characteristic to be that he is most undistinguished as an educator.

2. You state that the administration and the faculty has failed to utilize the facilities to the fullest possible extent. I would point out that at Sonoma State College, the facilities are in use over and above the standards set by the chancellor's office.

3. You state that the redesignation of 3-unit to 4-unit classes did not add "one whit of content or time" to courses. First of all, only some classes were redesignated. Second, many instructors do require more work. . .

4. You state that there are no campus codes or rules governing student behavior. This is just plain untrue. . .

5. You state that the primary reason for cutting off enrollment was an effort by faculty to show citizens that they should not have voted down funds sought for state college expansion. This is maliciously false. College facilities are overstrained. . .

6. You claim that the college is unresponsive to local needs because leaders are "outsiders who have other interests and commute to and from the school from distant points outside the locale the institution is supposed to serve." Again, Mr. Craemer, you are wrong. Sonoma State College was designed to serve a six-county area. I venture to say that all of the college leaders live within that service area. . .

You go on to blame Dr. Nichols for a mess that does not exist. You state that, in order to avoid a violent confrontation, the present administration gave way to every demand from faculty and students. The threat of violent confrontation has never existed on this campus. . .

Britschgi Bill Would Ban The Markets' Ounce Of Blood

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO, (CNS)—Assemblyman Carl A. Britschgi, R-San Mateo, is one of those legislators who has the interests of the every-day consumer at heart.

Britschgi is introducing a bill, AB 704, which hits at a little-recognized practice which costs the Calfornia consumer millions of dollars annually in such an insignificant manner that he hardly realizes this amazing chisel.

(A companion bill has been introduced in the Senate by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael—Editor.)

BUT THERE IS a story behind the story. And it's a story of progressing technology, adoption of which is costing the California consumer all these millions of dollars, without compensating benefits.

In the old days, say 50 years ago, there were no wrapped, packaged meats to be obtained off a supermarket meat counter. The butcher sliced off the meat, weighed it out on a paper a little heavier than tissue, then wrapped it up in butcher paper, and the customer paid the bill.

Then there developed the supermarket, where this procedure couldn't be used for several reasons, among them being that the number of butchers diminished, and customers waited on themselves.

Consequently, a package was needed, so the paper companies developed a molded tray, and wrapped the meat in the tray with a piece of cellophane for a cover.

The porous paper trays absorbed the excess juices, which generally evaporated off, and the consumer did not pay for these juices.

THEN TECHNOLOGY further advanced the container with a coating of plastic which is non-absorbent. As the juice drained from the meat, it remained in the container, with the result that when it was weighed on the butcher's scales, it remained as a part of the net weight of the beefsteak, or what have you.

Some estimates run as high as $36 million a year that goes down the kitchen drain through the use of the plastic container, which is not a small sum to have siphoned off literally "down the drain" in the American home.

It all goes to show that advances in technology and the use of new products is not always in the best interest of the public.

TRY AND STOP ME

A young Lothario, tootling through North Westchester with a new recipient of his adoration, had a rear tire blow out near Katonah and, too lazy to change tires himself, clanked into a garage to have it done for him. The mechanic on duty took one look at the tire, another look at the Lothario, then socked him in the jaw. "Maybe this will teach you a lesson," he muttered. "Now stop taking out my wife!"

U.S. Redeems Promise By Rhodesia Pull-Out

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Aanlyst

At a conference of American ambassadors to African countries last Feb. 18, Secretary of State William P. Rogers declared the United States is and would continue to be identified with the freedom aspirations of black Africans living under white minority rule.

He declared it to be the "unfinished business" of the emergence of Africa.

At midnight on March 1, the all-white minority government of Rhodesia served the last of its 80-year-old ties with Britain and declared itself a republic under a contsitution frankly designed to perpetuate the rule of 228,000 whites over nearly five million blacks.

And, less than two weeks after Rogers' apparently straight-forward declaration of policy, the United States found itself faced abruptly with a problem it had known was coming but on which it had not yet reached a decision.

IT CONCERNED the U.S. consulate at Salisbury, the Rhodesian capital. The consulate, its staff reduced from 27 to six, had continued to function despite U.S. support of the United Nations ban or trade with Rhodesia because of that country's racist policies.

The decision came this week, on Monday, March 9.

It was a move which the State Department itself had advocated with the support of Paul O'Neill, U.S. consul general in Rhodesia, but had been opposed by others in official Washington on the grounds that the consulate was essential to protect the interests of 1,100 Americans there and as a listening post in southern Africa.

Among the advocates of a status quo were some congressmen and others with substantial business interests in Rhodesia. But to the black Africans it was a denial of the very policy for which the United States had declared its support, and to the British it was a source of acute embarrassment.

BRITAIN HAS asked the UN Security Council to instruct all members not to recognize the new, self-declared republic.

There are other factors less pleasant. One is the comparatively minor threat from terrorist guerrilla forces infiltrating from nearby Zambia. Another is the heavy hand with which the government deals with its internal opposition. It led one union leader to describe Rhodesia as a "police state."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By ALAN JONES

A Girl In Germany Puts Great Haircut Issue Into True Focus

Some of the most sensible words anyone has said yet on the infamous high school hair vendetta came from a former student at Sir Francis Drake High School, now living in Germany.

Gabriela Scholter recently received back issues of the Jolly Roger school paper, and then wrote this to the editor:

"I'VE JUST FINISHED reading my way through one and a half years' worth of Jolly Rogers. . .Reading them, one after the other, I am impressed greatly with the preoccupation you have with freedom: be it hair styles or dress regulations. . .

"Many exchange students say that going alone to a foreign country changes you inside in ways you can't even grasp yourself. I'm no exception. And one thing that has occurred to me is that freedom isn't an end in itself: what is important is freedom for, not freedom from what.

"Since September of '68, I've been attending a private school here in Stuttgart. . .you probably know about European schools already. One thing is different here, though. We have no dress or hair restrictions, no hall passes, no grades and computerized records.

"I CAN ALMOST hear sighs of envy. But it's strange: that doesn't matter in the least. Most of my classmates act exactly as if they were being repressed, stifled and smothered by all this anyway. They don't think, or even want to think (creatively or otherwise).

"That made me think, and one thing that occurred to me is this: maybe all that isn't quite as important as we think; in any case, if these kids here can be dull in spite of their 'advantages,' then an individual who is truly searching for really human values should certainly be able to find them in spite of 'disadvantages.' And something that convinces me of this is the poetry being written by Russians in concentration camps in Siberia right now. In 'free' America you don't hear much about it. . .but in Europe it's partly available, depending on how well it was smuggled out.

"If there are human, creative, beautiful things inside of you, let them come out in spite of the crewcut or the skirt. . .and if you feel that you can only do this with long hair and a pair of jeans, then maybe there isn't really anything inside you worth letting out.

"I'm not saying that boys should have short hair and girls should wear skirts. . .but I'm saying it doesn't really matter much one way or the other. Think about it, just once . . .It really does depend on you, and not on . . . the district's decision of the hair question. .

"And if you spent a little of the time it takes to protest so loudly really thinking seriously about a fellow human being, perhaps you could make this world a tiny bit better by adding a positive instead of a negative thought"

Sometimes it's hard to believe that anyone in this part of the world has his head screwed on straight. There is no such doubt about Miss Scholter. What a pity that no one will pay any attention to what she said!

New Education Look Is Topic

Dr. Wilson C. Riles, deputy superintendent of public instruction and a candidate against Dr. Max Rafferty for state superintendent of public instruction, will introduce a panel discussion on "New Directions in Education" at 8 p.m. next Wednesday in Olney Hall at the College of Marin.

Other panelists include Anthony G. Bacich, superintendent of the Kentfield School District; Stanley Friese, deputy superintendent of Marin County Schools; Charles Lavaroni, assistant professor of education at Dominican College; and H. Leonard Richardson, headmaster at Katherine Branson School.

The free discussion is sponsored by the Education Corps of Marin.

Slides Are Required For Fair Exhibitions

Jewelry makers, potters, metal and leather workers, glass blowers, print makers and sculptors interested in space in the demonstrations and sales area of the Marin Art and Garden Fair, to be held July 1-5 in Ross, will have to submit four colored slides of their work by April 15.

The slides will be required, according to Marcelle McCoy, fair manager, to assure the high quality of the crafts items for sale, and to promote a diversification of media.

A committee of three will review the slides and make selections by May 1, according to Mrs. McCoy. Slides may be sent to the fair at P.O. Box 437, Ross.

The theme for the 25th and final fair at the Ross fairgrounds is "The Best of Our Years." It will recreate exhibits by blue ribbon and best-in-show award winners over the past quarter century.

Coffee Art Auction

The Terra Linda Art Association will hold its annual Irish Coffee Art Auction March 21 at 8 p.m. at The Meadows, 919 Lea Drive, Terra Linda. Al Newman of KSFO radio will serve as auctioneer. Paintings, sculpture and pottery will be on sale.

22 Children From Napa State Take Marin Tour

Emotionally disturbed youngsters from the Children's Center School at Napa State Hospital—long a target of complaints that children there are victims of neglect—visited Marin today, as a result of efforts by concerned teachers at the institution.

The 22 children rode the Tiburon ferry and toured Sausalito, where they lunched at the Boat House as guests of the restaurant management, according to Woody Mizelle, a teacher at the school and one of the organizers of the outing.

Mizelle said five staff members drove the students, aged 12 to 15 years, south.

The teachers, he said have paid about half the expenses of the Sausalito and two previous trips, because no public funds are available.

Mizelle said that he hoped such field trips as this could become a continuing program at the hospital that he hoped interested citizens would contribute to the teachers' effort.

Leg Men Of America, Unite! If Skirts Go Down, Don't Look

WASHINGTON—We are told by those people who make the fashion rules that hemlines are going down this year whether anybody likes it or not; the so-called midiskirt will replace the miniskirt, and there isn't a darn thing men can do about it.

But there is a small group fighting back. Known simply as LMA, which stands for Leg Men of America, this group has vowed to destroy the midi and all it represents.

MANNING SAID, "It's outrageous. The midi is an affront to every Leg Man in the country."

"How many Leg Men would you say there are in the nation at this moment?" I asked.

"There are at the present time 61,935,263 men who could qualify as Leg Men, not counting our armed forces abroad.

"These men represent every economic, religious and cultural group in the nation, and they have no intention of standing by and seeing hemlines go down below the knees."

"BUT WHAT CAN they do?"

"We are serving notice through the press media that if women go along with this ridiculous fad, they will lose the interest and admiration of the majority of the male population in the United States."

"That's a tough threat."

"We intend to stand by it. The days when the French, Italian and American dress designers can declare where they will put the hemline on the leg are over. We will decide."

"BUT HOW?" I protested.

"You're not going to look?"

"You heard me. We are sending out orders to Leg Men all over the country that they are not to look at a girl wearing a midi."

"Will the Leg Men obey the order?"

"WHY NOT?" said Manning. "There is nothing to see anyway.

"When women wore the miniskirts, millions and millions of man-hours were spent, pleasurable hours I might add, looking at the legs that went with them.

"The women responded by walking straighter, smarter and sexier. When seated, a woman wearing a mini could hold the attention of any man in the room. And we all know the thrill the mini brought to fellow drivers, particularly when the girl in the miniskirt was driving a minicar. But with the midi there will be absolutely nothing for a man to look at, and those wasted man-hours will be used to increase the gross national product, which will probably contribute to inflation."

"THEN IT'S NOT just fashion but economic ruin you're predicting for the country?"

"Correct," said Manning. "The dress manufacturers who have covered the knee will have a lot of explaining to do."

"Mr. Manning, if your no-look campaign succeeds and all the Leg Men in America refuse to eye any female wearing a midi, how long do you think it will take to get women back to the mini?"

"Not very long. Once a woman realizes that no one is looking at her, she will immediately lose interest in the midi-length hemline. To speed up the process the Leg Men of America will finance instant shearing booths in all the major cities where a woman can stop and have her midi cut off to mini length painlessly and free of charge."

Novato Group Names Officers

Other new officers include Herman Spaeth, vice president; Frank Schott, treasurer, and Ina Tullinen, secretary.

The board discussed the possible construction of a picnic area on school property at the end of Ignacio Boulevard, according to Mrs. Tullinen.

No date was set for the next meeting of the board, she said.

Ozawa Takes Leave On Stravinsky Wings

By JAMES E. WILLIAMS

SAN FRANCISCO — For the past six weeks musical sparks have fairly flown at the stately Opera House on Van Ness Avenue.

Again last night the same thing was evident as Seiji Ozawa, conductor-designate of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, directed the ensemble in an all-Stravinsky program.

While the first half of the program might have been a cold kettle of fish for some, Ozawa rekindled the audience in the second half with a masterful reading of Le Sacre du Printemps (The Rite of Spring). The 34-year-old conductor again displayed his maturity and insight into what is Stravinsky's most powerful composition.

OZAWA EFFECTIVE

With a flick of the wrist to the brass and percussion, flutter of a finger to the woodwinds, especially the bassoons and full sweep of the baton to the violas and cellos, Ozawa got the desired effect. It was almost like seeing Le Sacre brought back to life as a ballet.

Stravinsky shocked the public when the ballet was premiered in Paris in 1913; its harshness still remains alien to some. But isn't spring the beginning of beauty coupled with the sometimes violent struggle for survival? Let's hope Ozawa brings this Stravinsky back again in the not too distant future.

Ozawa opened the program with the composer's Greeting Prelude, a byplay on the well-known tune "Happy Birthday" on the 80th birthday of Pierre Monteux, the late, beloved maestro of the San Francisco Symphony.

NORWEGIAN MOODS

Following the little half-minute opener, Ozawa presented still another side of Stravinsky — Four Norwegian Moods, which the composer himself — according to the program notes — placed among "my abortive film music" of the early 1940s. In these, the orchestra's revitalized woodwind and brass sang with clarity.

The first half closer was probably something of a surprise to most, including myself. It was L'Histoire du Soldat (The Soldier's Tale). While written much later than Le Sacre there is the same byplay — often in small passages. In it are heard the tango, waltz and ragtime.

It is the story of a soldier, who, when returning home on leave, is accosted by the Devil in disguise.

NARRATOR USED

Ozawa used Walter Matthes, a native San Franciscan, as the narrator, who has also appeared with the Marin Symphony. To weave the story to the music, the conductor selected seven of his first rank men to execute the difficult passages. All were extremely effective, especially concertmaster Jacob Krachmalnick; Roland Kohloff, tympanist, and Philip Fath, principal clarinetist.

With the program repeater Friday night, Ozawa's current six-week stint will be concluded until next year. Next week Karel Ancerl, noted Czech conductor, will be on the podium until retiring music director Josef Krips returns in April.

Barcelona Gets Picasso Works

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — Pablo Picasso has donated about 800 of his works to Barcelona's Picasso Museum, the mayor of the city announced today.

The mayor said the gift consists of paintings, drawings, sketches and engravings Picasso made at the start of his career when he studied and lived in Barcelona.

The gift was delivered to the city by a nephew and a niece of the 88-year-old painter who live in Barcelona and have been custodians of the works, a spokesman for the mayor said. A native of Malaga, Picasso has lived in France since early in the century and has not returned to Spain since Generalissimo Franco came to power.

Two of the most valuable works in the collection given Barcelona are large paintings, Science and Charity, which Picasso painted at 15, and First Communion.

Summer Rec Program Set

Marinwood Park and Recreation Commission has established its summer recreation program and has approved opening the community pool March 14.

According to recreation director William A. Gordon, the membership fees for pool use this year will be $35 per family and $17.50 per individual.

Paintings By Four Artists On Display

Paintings by artists John B. Wasley, Elizabeth Cresap, Marni Myles and Kathy Stark, members of the Terra Linda Art Association, are being displayed this month at American Savings and Loan Association, 550 Las Gallinas Avenue, San Rafael.

The exhibit is open Mondays through Thursdays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and to 6 p.m. on Fridays.

Group To Seat New Officers

Henry J. Robboni, of Boyes Hot Springs, will be installed as president of the Plumbing, Heating and Cooling Contractors of Marin and Sonoma at the group's annual Plumball at 7 p.m. Saturday at the Marin Country Club.

Other new officers are: Juan Ferrer of 20 Manzanita Way, San Rafael, first vice-president; William Davis Jr. of Santa Rosa, secretary, and Donald L. Ongaro of 38 Manor View, Fairfax, treasurer.

Officers of the group's women's auxiliary also will be installed Saturday. They are: Joan Scott of 2380 Eastman Lane, Petaluma, president; Iram Ferrer of 20 Manzanita Way, San Rafael, vice-president; Constance Baker of Santa Rosa, secretary, and Magdaline Wheeler of 87 Sidney Court, San Rafael, treasurer.

Manson' Erratic Behavior In Court Alarms His New Counsel

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An attorney appointed to defend Charles M. Manson on seven murder-conspiracy counts says he's thinking of asking for a psychiatric examination for his client based on Manson's erratic court behavior.

The 35-year-old Manson, long-haired leader of a hippie-style cult, threw his eyeglases and muttered incoherently Wednesday during a hearing along with two women members of his clan. They are among his co-defendants in last summer's slayings of actress Sharon Tate and six others.

Manson's comments included these to Superior Court Judge William B. Keene: "Are you going to shooot me? ... Why are you against me? ... In height, you're probably taller than I am."

Tossing his rimless glasses at Deputy Public Defender Paul Fitzgerald, attorney for codoefendant Patricia Krenwinkel, Manson said: "You take my glasses and I'll take yours and you may see the judge in a different frame than I do."

Manson's court-ordered attorney, Charles Hollopeter, told newsmen later that Manson "said some very nutty things. I was very disturbed and unhappy about it. I thought it was bad behavior." Hollopeter added that he was weighing the possibility of a psychiatric examination "based only on his actions today."

The incidents took place at a hearing at which Susan Denise Atkins, 21, received permission to hire a new attorney, 53-year-old Daye Shinn, who has been a frequent adviser to Manson and who represented the cult leader's recording company, the Family Jams, Inc.

Judge Keene told Manson, Miss Atkins and Miss Krenwinkel, 22, that he could conceive of "many, many conflicts of interest that could arise" if Shinn took over Miss Atkins' defense.

In addition to his more than 40 jail visits to Manson, Shinn had conferred with Miss Krenwinkel.

But when Keene asked the women if any had objections to Shinn representing Miss Krenwinkel, she and Miss Atkins said they had none. After a series of whispered discussions with Hollopeter, Manson told Keene "I have no objections."

Second Rights Panelist Resigns

Rev. Francis Geddes of the First Congregational Church in San Rafael will not seek reappointment to the Marin County Human Rights Commission when his two-year term expires this weekend.

In a letter to chairman James O. Quiett, Geddes explained that he cannot devotee adequate time to the commission because he is working on the low-rent housing project which his church is sponsoring on church property at 8 North San Pedro Road.

The resignation leaves two vacancies on the nine-member commission. George E. Higgins, industrial relations manager of Fairchild Semiconductor, resigned this week because he is transferring to a Fairchild plant in New Mexico.

SALESMEN!
You make more where the action and advertising are the greatest! Naturally your sales . . . and your commissions, are dependent on your ability to sell. But. . .a large part of your leads come through your broker's advertising and the activity generated by the firm you work for. Doesn't it make REAL SENSE for you to "GO WITH THE WINNER?" . . . the firm that month in and month out leads all others in sales, listings, leads. It doesn't cost YOU any more to go where the action is. . .where the money is to be made.
Naturally all inquiries will be kept in strictest confidence. Ask for BILL NELSON or BILL TIMMER at. . .

IF YOU ASK US
we'll tell you that we think this house is the best buy around. Slightly neglected, in need of some sprucing-up (but nothing major), this home could be a top investment for someone smart. On a hill, with sun and view with considerable privacy, but with a big level yard, and very close to everything. 2 bedrooms and a small den, a big living room with a brick fireplace, a big kitchen. Seeing is believing at a very low $22,950.

OWNERS KNOW WHAT THE LARGE FAMILY APPRECIATES MOST

The large room upstairs is much more than a "family room"—a separate teen or in-law quarters with oversize recreation room with wet-bar, 3 bdrms., 2 baths and deck. On the lower level is all elec. kitchen with 2 sinks, double oven, pantry and cupboards galore. Unique home-transferred owner—so you can benefit. 3 years old in a pastoral setting with fantastic view. In all—4 bdrms., 3½ baths, den and that big recreation room mentioned above. A great house for children! Exclusive at $48,900.

Here's a little Opel Kadett station wagon with the popular automatic transmission that we've used here at the company during the past year.

Just over 5,000 miles on this almost-new Opel wagon that hasn't a mark of wear anywhere. Light green with matching full vinyl interior plus all the Opel luxury extras like w/w tires, heater, clock, luggage rack, etc. The big engine with the automatic transmission really gives maximum performance but at economy prices.

This car has never been licensed and will carry the balance of the General Motors new-car warranty.

This car sells new for over $2600 but we'll sell this close-to-new wagon for only $1995. 9164995

Rally Set For Hub Candidates

A rally in support of San Anselmo City Council candidates Warren Perry and Lewis Stewart will be sponsored by Morningside Association of Residents to Stop Highwater (MARSH) at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Room 210 of Sir Francis Drake High School.

Gordon Chan, spokesman for MARSH, said the group was supporting the two candidates because "I believe they want to help us. Certainly the old Establishment has done nothing for us."

The group is seeking relief of floods which have plagued the Morningside Court area since it was subdivided in the mid 1920s.

Chan said the informal organization has no set membership but that 100 pamphlets announcing the rally were sent to residents of the area.

Murphy Denies Ethics Conflict

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., says his $20,000-a-year salary from Technicolor Corp. of Hollywood involves no ethical conflict and "I have no intention of letting this become a big issue."

Murphy, who seeks a second term and is California's senior senator, confirmed Wednesday that he is retained by Technicolor as a consultant, but estimated he spent only one-hundredth of his time in the work.

A would-be opponent, Rep. George Brown, D-Calif., said "I think this, unfortunately, is something Sen. Murphy should have revealed earlier in his political career, instead of letting it be revealed a week after he filed for reelection."

Weissich Will Be Shone Event Speaker

San Rafael attorney William O. Weissich, will be the featured speaker at an "Evening with Ray Shone" at 7 p.m. Friday at Rancho Nicasio.

Weissich is chairman of the Lawyer's Committee for Shone's Campaign for State Senator.

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

Doctor Series Prove To Be Popular Once Again

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) - Doctor series have, once again, proven to be durable television commodities. Three new ones were launched in September, and all of them will return for a second season.

ABC's "Marcus Welby, M.D." did so well that it was among the first series of the season to be resigned.

Among the three-actually it is 2½ because the medical segment of NBC's "The Bold Ones" shares the screen with two other story lines-Robert Young's Dr. Welby is the only one that can be counted as a solid hit. Much of its success is due to Young's sympathetic portrait of a wise and dedicated family doctor.

"Medical Center" on CBS follows the form, and pretty much, the traditional substance of the genre. There is some unwritten rule in TV writing that medical series must have an old doctor and a young doctor who are often in a conflict of ideas.

Dr. Welby is unquestionably the head man in his series, with James Brolin playing his swinging young assistant. E. G. Marshall and David Hartman of "The Bold Ones" play, respectively, the mature and the young doctors, but both of them usually are supporting players to the medical inventions and developments around which plots are built.

"Medical Center" plays it safe and down the middle .The star is the young doctor, played in sober, dedicated style by Chad Everett. Its emphasis is on human drama related to illness.

Wednesday night's hour was the story of an aging former football star facing surgery to correct a vascular condition affecting his legs. The point of the story was that it was not so much his legs that were bothering him as the fact that life was empty with the glory days behind him. It was a mildly interesting treatment in a series notable for its polished production and professional performances.

NBC's "Hall of Fame" series will present an Easter drama Friday night, an original play called "Neither Are We Enemies." It is set in the time of Christ.

Henry Denker, the playwright, is a specialist in the period. As a boy he studied to be a rabbi, and later had his initial success writing radio's biblical series, "The Greatest Story Ever Told."

The play is based on two men's different interpretations of the words of Jesus. Denker maintains that, because it deals frankly with animosity between Christians and Jews, the theme would not have been acceptable for television a few years ago.

WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO "CONSERVATION"?

Ecology seems to be the word, today. Channel 4 has been covering that field from all directions for years—consistently since the early sixties, when it was generally referred to as "conservation," or "over-population," or "pollution," or "bay fill."

At any rate, KRON-TV will bring the subject up to date—again—tonight. Be fully informed, watch...

Redwood Coach Confident About Tournament

By GARY TISCHLER

"I think we're as ready as we're ever going to be."

That's jolly Dick Hart talking about his Redwood High School basketball team, streaking with a string of 17 straight wins, owners of a 25-3 record and entrants in the tough, tough High School Tournament of Champions in the Oakland Coliseum arena.

The proof in the pudding will come to the surface tonight when the Giants, toughened just a little more on a series of game-type scrimmages, go against Catholic Athletic League champion Bishop O'Dowd of Oakland (27-7) at 6 p.m.

That game will be preceded by a game at 4:30 in which Wilson, the San Francisco Triple A champ goes against Amador, the East Bay Athletic League Champion.

At 7:30 p.m., Berkeley (29-0) and top-ranked in Northern California, meets Mission San Jose, the Mission Valley Athletic League champion. The first-round windup will see Castlemont (18-2) the Oakland Athletic League ch ampion, go against Hayward Athle tic League champ Arroyo at 9 p.m.

Redwood, 1970 edition, is generally considered by Marin County fans to be the Marin County Athletic League's most promising team yet, in terms of getting to the finals. But Hart, although the thought has probably crossed h is mind a few times, isn't in a mood to count his chickens just yet.

"We're going to take it one at a time," Hart said. "We have to win this one, and then the next one, before we can really think about the finals."

And this one could be very tough indeed. The Dragons of O'Dowd are no slouches. Twenty-seven are a lot of wins, and most of the seven losses came early in the season, since the Dragons have won 13 of their last 14.

"They're excellent shooters, from what I've h eard," Hart said. "They like to play a zone and I imagine they'll try to hold on to the ball if they get ahead. Height-wise, I think we're about even, although we may have a slight edge."

Hart will go with the group which has started for him more or less all season—veterans Jerry Piro and Roger Smith at forwards, John Boro and Charley Flynn at the guards and 6-foot-7 Bill Challender at center. Quick-fingered guard Tom Marker and sure-shooting Scott Trobbe are also expected to see a lot of action.

Flynn will be co-captain for the entire tournament, a deserving tribute to a fellow who has made something of an unnoticed but gutsy comeback. Flynn suffered a broken collarbone in the 1968 football season, and sat on the bench through last year's tourney, in a brace. This year, he's back as a starter.

Hart has kept the Giants busy in game-type scrimmages against College of Marin, San Francisco City College junior varsity and St. Ignatius. No scores were kept in the scrimmages but Hart was pleased with the workouts and the experience gained from them.

"I think our shooting is still good," he said. "And I honestly feel we can win tonight. We can't get too far behind against this bunch. But we can beat a zone .It's the kind of defense we have never used, either this year or last year. I think using it is almost like saying that the other team is better. I think we are, anyway."

This will be Hart's and Redwood's fourth trip to the TOC. The Giants were shipped in two games in earlier appearances, but bounced back to win the consolation title last year, after giving eventual champion Castlemont a big scare in opening-round play.

This time, the Giants are underdogs no longer, at least not officially. Whether they'll become top dogs or not remains to be seen.

JIM GILMARTIN

Marin Stars Twinkle Throughout The State

Dennis Good sure is his surname.

The former Tamalpais High and College of Marin swim star has indelibly etched his name in Chico State College and Far Western Conference record books in recent competition with two conference and three school records in backstroke, freestyle and individual medley events.

In pacing CSC to a mighty upset over U. C. Davis in the Far Western championships last weekend, Good, the team co-captain, qualified for the small college NCAA championships at Rochester, Mich. March 19-21, whert he hopes to garner All-American recognition. He was Marin County champ at Tam and All-American J. C. at Marin during his apprenticeship.

A LOT of locals will be pulling for Santa Clara in the NCAA basketball playoffs starting tonight against Utah State at Seattle because ex-Drake star Bob Tobin will be contributing his considerable talents to the Bronco cause. Tobin has seen a lot of action this season and has a field goal shooting accuracy mark of close to 50 per cent.

UNIVERSITY OF CAL at Berkeley has an all-Marin battery on its varsity baseball roster: Greg Tellis (Tam) pitching and Rocky Shone (San Rafael) catching. Last week Tellis beat Santa Clara, 2-1.

PITCHER MIKE TIMMEL, who made prep headlines at Terra Linda, struck out 12 in pitching Stanford's frosh-soph team to a 2-0 win over USF the other day.

ELSEWHERE ALONG the sports trail. . .

If you dig bowling oddities, try this one on for size: Marg Rediske of Novato picked up the 6-7-10 split, not once, not twice, but thrice in the Nave Lanes Hawaiian League Monday night.

MANAGER GENE MAUCH of the Montreal Expos, picked by many to finish last in the National League Eastern Division, says the Canadian Club's (hic) catching job is up for grabs among ex-Marin Catholic High star, John Boccabella, John Bateman and Ron Brand. Boc the Sock can also play first or the outfield.

CRAIG DI GRAZIA, 11-year-old Novatan, is easy to spot in a crowd. He has a new jacket embellished fore and aft with statistical data about the world quarter-midget auto racing record he set at Fresno last November, a memento from the sanctioning body. Craig, by the way, is off to a fast start in 1970 with fast time trophies at two meets so far.

IF YOU can't make it to tonight's Tourney of Champs at Oakland, Radio KTIM will air the 6 o'clock Redwood-O'Dowd game with ex-San Rafael High cager Phil Martino and Al Pasquinelli providing the vocal calisthenics.

Incidentally, I hope Redwood and its large contingent of rooters get an early start, what with Nimitz Freeway commute traffic being what it is at that hour.

Marin Supervisor Backs Golden Gate Marathon

The first Golden Gate Marathon, the West's answer to the famed Boston Run, deserves the official blessing of the Marin County Board of Supervisors, Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. declared yesterday.

Arrigoni said he will ask the board next Tuesday to endorse the marathon from Paradise Beach Park in Tiburon to the San Francisco Marina Green, scheduled for Memorial Day, May 30.

Richard W. Perry of San Francisco, race director, asked Arrigoni to seek endorsement from Marin County.

The Pacific Association of the American Athletic Union and the Runner's World Magazine are sponsorirng the Golden Gate Marathon. Perry said the race will start at 9:30 a.m. at Paradise Beach, and he expects 300 to 500 runners including several from Japan.

"Track officials have told me that our marathon is the talk of the year in various track circles," said Perry. "It is my feeling that within three years, the Golden Gate Marathon will rival the Boston Run as the most famous in the world. . .At the present time, the Boston Run is the largest single spectator event in the world, drawing approximately 500,000 enthusiasts. I am sure you can appreciate the economic benefits of such a large audience."

Runners will follow a scenic route from Paradise Beach down Paradise Drive, around the Belvedere Peninsula, along Tiburon Boulevard, around Strawberry Peninsula, under Highway 101 near Sabella's, back to Alto, left toward Mill Valley, cutting across marches to Richardson Bay Bridge, into Sausalito, across Golden Gate Bridge and ending up at the San Francisco Marina Green.

Seals Gain A Point On Stars

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Seals were a point up on the Minnesota North Stars today in their homestretch battle for fourth place in the National Hockey League's West Division and the playoff opportunity that goes with it.

The Seals concluded their season series with the Pittsburgh Penguins here Wednesday night with a 2-2 tie, while the North Stars were thumped by St. Louis 9-1.

Oakland meets the Philadelphia Flyers here Sunday afternoon, and after that game will have 10 left on its schedule, six of them at home. Among the 10 are home and away encounters with Minnesota.

The tie with the Penguins was the third this season in the series which Oakland won, three victories to two.

Keith McCreary made the goal in the third period to earn Pittsburgh the tie.

Carol Vadnais netted a 50-foot slap shot on a power play to tie the score at 1-1 at 10:23 of the first period. It was his 21st goal of the season.

FIGHT

In the second period Vadnais got into a fight with the Penguin's Bryan Hextell, and both players drew major and minor penalties.

Gary Jarrett's 10th goal of the season gave Oakland a 2-1 lead at 2:41 of the second period.

Rich Allen To Join Cardinals

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Richie Allen, told to show up or sit out, headed today for the St. Louis Cardinal's Spring camp "with a wining attitude."

The Cardinals announced late last night that Allen, one of baseball's stormy petrels, had agreed to terms and would fly here immediately to join the club.

Allen 28 only four days ago, said in Philadelphia his hometown, that he would be happy to join the National League Cards.

"This is the first time since 1964 that I'm leaving here with a winning attitude," said Allen, obtained from Philadelphia in a winter multi-player trade which included sending Curt Flood to the Phillies.

The Cardinals' announcement that Allen was ending his holdout came 12 hours after beer baron August A. Busch, the team owner, told a news conference: We are going to stick to the figure. He'll report or not play at all for the Cardinals. We are determined to stick and hold at that."

The Cardinals had set 10 a.m. Wednesday as a deadline for Allen to appear in camp. During his tempestous days with the Phillies, Allen was frequently among the missing.

Allen started out asking a reported $150,000 from the Cards for the 1970 season. He got an estimated $70,000 to $80,000 last year from the Phillies.

"I felt I had to sacrifice . . . they had to sacrifice," said the slugger in an interview with the Philadelphia Inquirer. "Nobody gets everything they want, but there is the opportunity to get more. They treated me real swell."

A's Get Another Chance At Giants

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — The Oakland Athletics got plenty of batting practice Wednesday in preparation for today's attempt to avenge an earlier spring training defeat by the San Francisco Giants.

The A's shelled the California Angels 8-3 at Mesa Wednesday, pounding an experimental lively ball for 15 hits, including homers by Rick Monday, Dave Duncan and Tom Reynolds.

The A's, 2-4 for the spring, were expected to start Jim Hunter against Frank Reberger or Gaylord Perry of the Giants. The Giants were 4-1 after their scheduled game Wednesday in Phoenix against the San Diego Padres was called off because of a wet field.

Oakland's worries over the A's two top pitchers, John Odom and Chuck Dobson, were eased a bit Wednesday.

Odom, who had been bothered by bone chips in his right elbow, made his first start of the spring and held the Angels without a hit for three innings. Later, he said he was feeling no pain.

Dobson, 15-13 in 1969, had his elbow problems diagnosed as bursitis and was sent home to Oakland for more tests. He was ordered to rest for several days and was given cortisone shots.

Meanwhile, the A's major holdout, slugger Reggie Jackson, had no comment on a letter from A's owner Charlie Finley, who automatically renewed Jackson's 1969 contract at $45,000, Finley's latest offer. Jackson, who earned $20,000 while hitting 47 homers and driving in 118 runs last season, seeks at least $60,000.

Warriors Hanging In

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It took a double overtime effort against Baltimore, but the San Francisco Warriors have averted for a few more days their mathematical elimination from this year's National Basketball Association playoffs.

That could come Friday in another game here with the Bullets, who went down 115-112 Wednesday night as Fritz Williams and Jeff Mullins teamed up for nine of the 10 Warrior points in the second overtime period.

IMPROBABLE

San Francisco would have to win all of its remaining five games and the Chicago Bulls would have to lose all seven they have left before the Warriors could tie the Bulls for fourth in the NBA Western Division.

Clyde Lee's tip-in of a Jerry Lucas shot in the final second of regulation time was the San Francisco goal that tied the score at 95-all when regulation time ended.

TIP-IN

In the first overtime, Wes Unseld of the Bullets had a tip-in with no time remaining to make it 105-all.

Earl Monroe's free throw for Baltimore started the second overtime period scoring, but then the Warriors ran off the next seven points.

Kerr Stars In Terra Linda Baseball Win

Heavy-hitting Larry Kerr, a triple-sport man for the Trojans, crashed a three-run homer, a double and scored the winning run in leading Terra Linda High School to a 5-4 baseball win over Bishop O'Dowd in Oakland yesterday.

Kerr scored what proved to be the winning run in the fifth inning on Jim Lazzarini's single, after belting a three-run home in the first inning.

In other scheduled prep sports action, wet grounds wiped out both the Terra Linda-Lincoln track meet in San Francisco and the San Marin-Racho Cotate track meet in San Marin. Novato's scheduled meet with Galileo of San Francisco was held last Monday because the Hornets held weigh-ins yesterday. Novato won that Monday meet, 67-57.

Days Of Searching Perry May Be Over

Phoenix—Gaylor Perry is a pitcher to whom success did not come easily. By working doggedly he overcame one frustrating setback after another until he finally became a 20-game winner in 1966. Some say he did it with a pitch that major league baseball banned half a century ago—the spitter.

Perry and other pitchers suspected of throwing the wet one could legally touch their lips for moisture until a few seasons ago with the understanding they dried their fingers before throwing the ball. Then the spitball rule was re-written. The new version forbade lip touching.

When Perry continued to win, the critics still cried foul, now claiming that he was touching the back of his hair for grease. Time and again umpires ran their hands through Perry's hair in searching examinations. They even frisked his uniform, his glove and the inside of his wrists.

It wasn't until last season, when Perry just missed being a 20-game winner for the second time with a 19-14 record, that the searches stopped. Perry felt very relieved, much like a taxpayer whose probity finally has been established following searching examinations by IRS agents.

PERRY NEVER FELT humiliated by the personal searches he underwent in public before friendly Candlestick Park crowds or hostile gatherings in enemy ball parks. The 6-4 righthander of the Giants always maintained a calm personal dignity.

There were times when he seemed momentarily ruffled as an umpire would stride to the mound from home plate after a suspected pitch. "Oh, no, not again," he would protest. "I'm only doing my job," the umpire would say. "Well, it's a cruddy job," Perry would say and the search would begin.

It was Chub Feeney who finally brought an end to the searches of Perry last season. Feeney then was vice president of the Giants and he protested directly to Warren Giles, then president of the National League.

THE UMPIRES, of course, never would have frisked Perry as repeatedly as they did without a directive from Giles or Giles' righthand man, Fred Fleig.

Feeney's lifelong career in baseball was entirely with the Giants prior to his unanimous election as Giles' successor following Giles' retirement last December.

AS PRESIDENT of the league Feeney conceivably could get protests from the managers of clubs against whom Perry pitches. Gil Hodges of the Mets stopped two games in which Perry appeared against the Mets last season, one in Candlestick Park, the other in Shea Stadium.

Hodges held lengthy conferences with the plate umpires in those two games but they refused to search Perry. What will happen if Hodges protests again this season about Perry's super-slider?

Feeney will make the decision.

THE SPORTING GENTRY

Kegling Kingpins

By RALPH CHATOAN

What do a builder, brickyard superintendent and semi-retired automobile dealer have in common?

Why they own a bowling house, naturally.

The three men—builder Ferd Masberg, Laurie Migliore of L. P. McNears Co. in San Rafael, and Leon C. Smith, formerly a San Rafael Dodge dealer—are owners of Country Club Bowl in San Rafael.

Masberg, who holds controlling interest, is one of three original owners and is builder of the Country Club. His partners when the lanes opened in 1959 were former San Francisco supervisor Harold Dobbs and Bert McKillip. Dobbs, at the time, already was in the bowling business in San Jose, and McKillip was a partner of Masberg's in the building industry. Masberg, now 49, later bought out his two partners.

Smith, 70, but still active as a salesman at DeLong Chevrolet in San Rafael, and Migliore, 47, became part owners in 1962.

Masberg feels the "bowling boom" is far from being over. "I think the bowling business will be better in the next 10 years than the last 10," said Masberg. "There are now more than 200,000 people in Marin County and a lot of them bowl. I see no reason the bowling business can't get bigger."

Masberg, because he has been more involved with the business end of Country Club Bowl, admits a partial anonymity with many of the bowlers there. He hasn't done any bowling since a serious operation two years ago.

"I've always had a manager or someone to work the front desk and take care of the bowlers," he said.

Ferd, who was and "Iowa farmboy" in his youth, at one time was a commercial pilot in Portland, Ore. and in the 40's went into the building business. A secretary in the Marin Pilot's Association, Masberg has lived in Marin County since 1955.

Masberg, and wife Lola, who now make their home in Sleepy Hollow, have a daughter, Lynn, 18, and son, John, 12.

Migliore, who has been in the employ of McNear since 1937, used to bowl almost every day of the week before going into the business. At one time he bowled in five leagues and carried a 180 average.

"Then I got in the bowling business and my average went down to 154," he laughed. Migliore, who can almost always be seen with a cigar sticking out of his mouth, was born in San Francisco, but has spent most of his life in San Rafael, since 1929. He has two sons, Laurie Jr., 21, who works at Country Club, and Robert, 24, an auto salesman.

Smith got into the bowling business purely as an investment. General manager of the J. E. French Co. in San Rafael, he had that Dodge dealership more than 30 years. He started his career at the J. E. French Co. in San Francisco in 1922 and then started the San Rafael dealership in 1927. He's the father of two children, both married, Leon Jr. and Susan, and has three grandchildren.

Masberg and Smith met through the Rotary Club and Leon asked to become a partner and was sold some shares. He was put in charge of promotional activities, public relations and advertising.

A native of Minnesota, Smith was graduated from University of Michigan in 1922. He and his wife, Virginia (Nana), live in Novato.

New Furniture Manufacturer To Produce Executive Chairs

A new furniture manufacturer, Woodtex Design, Inc., will commence operations in Marin County next week.

The company, newly organized to manufacture executive office chairs and headed by Christopher Sawyer of the East Bay, has leased 4,608 square feet at 24 Mark Drive, Northgate Industrial Park through William W. Hoey and Co. Eventually the payroll here should extend to about nine employees.

Sawyer, a native of Marin and a former resident of Belvedere, expects to move back to the county. He has been associated with Umphred's, a San Leandro furniture manufacturer, for the past eight years.

HOEY ALSO HAS LEASED 1,536 square feet at 77 Mark Drive to the ordinary agencies division of Prudential Insurance Co. This division is operated separately from the district agencies and is designed to specialize in middle and upper income bracket.

Fred Vetelson of Marin Golf and Country Club will head the Northgate office, which will be headquarters for the territory north to the Oregon border. It will open with an initial staff of six persons and is expected to be expanded eventually to 12 or 15. Vetelson has previously worked at the San Francisco and Santa Rosa ordinary agencies offices.

ARNESON PRODUCTS, INC., San Rafael, now a subsidiary of Castle and Cooke, Inc., is offering dealerships throughout the United States and Hawaii for its automatic pool cleaning product, Pool-Sweep. Heretofore, sales have been concentrated in California direct to consumers and through wholesale distributors (which will be continued). Sterling Kelley, director of marketing at San Rafael office, is handling dealerships.

FRANCIS X. KELLY of San Rafael, a certified public accountant with Garney and Grasshof, San Farncisco, has now become a full partner in the firm. Name has been changed to Carney, Grasshoff and Kelly.

MALCOLM THOMPSON of Mill Valley has been appointed San Francisco sales representative for Applied Logic Corp., a computer time sharing organization.

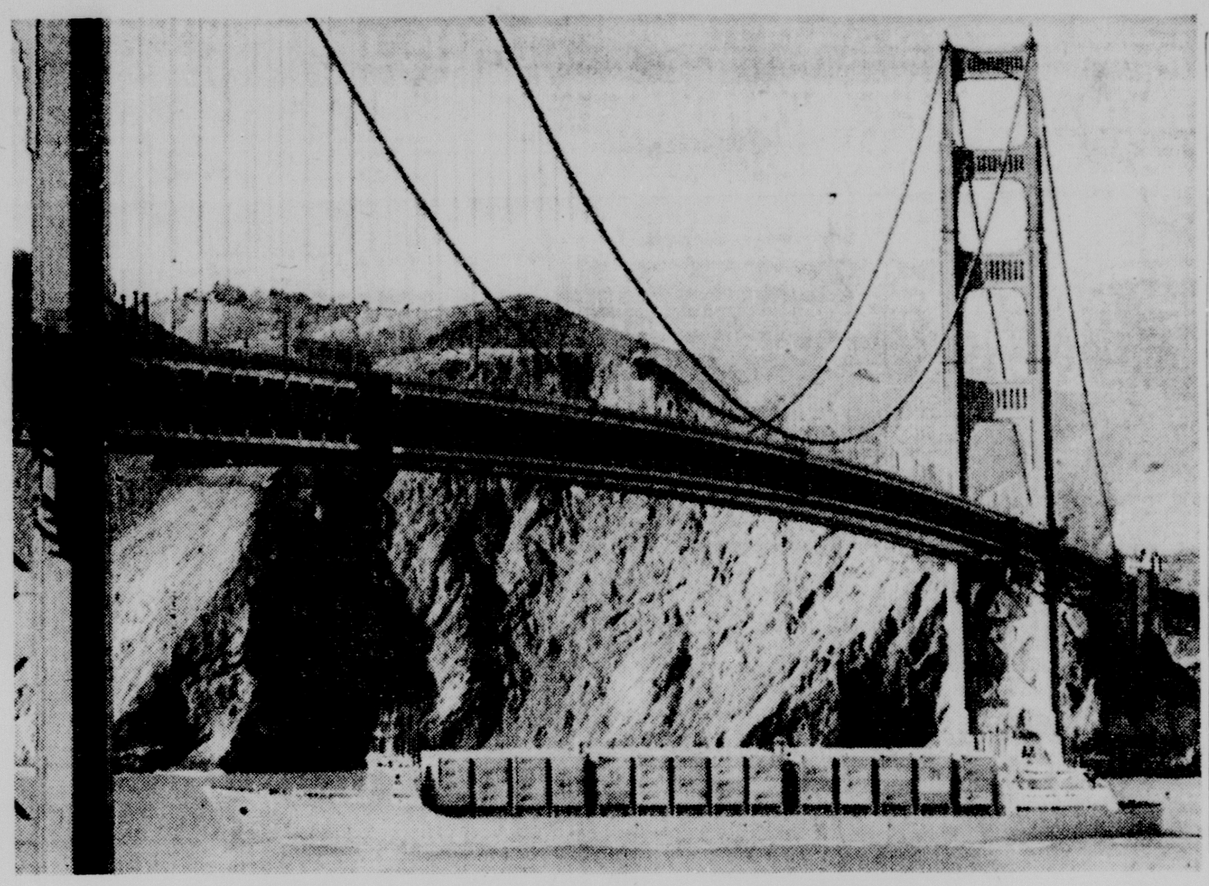
KNOWLES HALL of Tiburon has been appointed general manager of KABL Radio San Francisco. He has been local sales manager for the station for the past nine years.

SAN RAFAEL certified public accountant Norman H. Ruecker was among featured speakers at the Certified Public Accountants Foundation for Education and Research conference in San Francisco on Monday, analyzing the Tax Reform Act. He is a partner in Anderson and Co. and in charge of tax practice for the San Francisco office.

DEMPSEY-TEGELER AND CO., INC., San Francisco investment firm, is distributing a very fine booklet on the drug menace called "Parents Handbook on Drugs and Their Abuse." Vice president James E. Ryan (a resident of Belvedere) is the one to contact for copies.

A ONE-DAY WORKSHOP for prospective small business owners and managers will be held Monday in the Federal Building, 450 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco by the Small Business Administration. Attendance (no fee) is by advance registration. Call Ray Wallace at the San Francisco regional office.

Subjects will include organization, marketing strategy, advertising, financial planning, legal aspects, insurance and business taxes. The afternoon will be divided into groups on special problems in manufacturing, wholesaling, retailing and service.



QUICK CONTAINER CROSSING

The Matson containership Hawaiian Enterprise, largest and most powerful vessel of its type under the U.S. flag, heads out the Golden Gate with a record load of 1,168 freight containers aboard. The 720-foot, 23-knot vessel, which made its maiden voyage last week to Hawaii, is expected to cut almost two days from the usual five-and-a-half day run to the islands.

ROGER C. SPOTTS of Kentfield has been named northwest district sales manager for the CBS Electronic Video Recording Division of the Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc., covering Northern California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Utah and Northern Nevada. He was previously northwestern district manager for Bailey-Film Associates, another CBS division. Previously he was with Electronic Properties International Corp. in San Francisco and Switzerland.

JOSEPH BOWLER of Mill Valley has joined Investment Indicators Fund, San Rafael as marketing director. He was formerly with Bank of America.

CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT certificates have been issued by the state Board of Accountancy to Kenneth B. (Rosenberg of Terra Linda) and Dale R. Schmidt of Lucas Valley.

Prices Back Off Slowly In Another Slow Session

Analysts said the market was waiting for a little more concrete evidence that credit is easing. But they noted that in the meantime there was "no big rush to buy" and the Dow could drift into the 755-765 range before support develops.

Most point-sized swingers in the electronics were in retreat, while oils traded in both directions. Texaco closed at 27-1-4, up 1-2, and Jersey Standard lost 1-4, closing at 54-5-8.

Steels, motors and chemicals generally moved in fractions and without definite direction.

Gold mining issues were firm in a number of instances, while rails, airlines and aircrafts moved over a narrow range.

Technicon Corp. and Tandy Corp. attracted selling pressure. The former reported a sharp increase in earnings for 1969.

Heavily traded stocks were G. D. Searle, American Telephone, Lockheed and Jersey Standard. Searle traded three early blocks amounting to 65,600 shares at levels several points below the previous closing.

Holiday Magic Winners Switch Trip To Nassau

Goodbye Vegas, Hello Nassau.

Twenty-five independent distributors of Holiday Magic, Inc., from all over the country were poised for a three-day weekend at the Satrdust Hotel through Sunday when word was received at corporate headquarters in San Rafael a hotel strike had struck in Las Vegas.

The Hotel called GTS Travel Service of San Rafael, Holiday Magic travel agent, and suggested cancellation.

The winners, who came out on top in the company's Jan. 15-Feb. 15 contest for top retail volume, will be joined in Nassau by executives of Holiday Magic from San Rafael for the three-day festivities.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Apparel Issues Have A Tattered Image

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I have accumulated shares of Russ Togs at 23 ½ and 25 ¼. With the split, I own a sizable amount. Since the shares are now around $14, should I sell and reinvest for more income?—G.C.

A. Apparel issues have a somewhat tattered image at present. And the doldrums, which have hit the group in general, have not been avoided by Russ Togs. On a 4.5 per cent increase in sales, earnings for 39 weeks ended Nov. 1, 1969, declined to $1.10 per share from $1.54 in the previous comparable period.

Product development and acquisitions contributed to improved sales while the drop in earnings reflected higher costs and operational difficulties in one dress division. Wholly owned Andrew Geller Inc., a women's shoe maker, sustained a substantial loss for the period as imports continued to hurt sales.

Broadening of lines through acquisitions and moderate growth in volume may widen margins; however, the earnings outlook remains clouded. I would take the profit you now have available and reinvest for greater income.

Q. Eight years ago I began a 10-year investment plan in Channing Growth Fund. It appears my shares are not worth as much right now. Should I still hold these? What is the difference between the bid and ask price?—E.L.

A. The bid price represents the net asset value of the share being purchased. The ask price is the net asset value plus the commission or sales fee. You buy a share at the ask price and sell a share at the bid price.

In 1969 Channing Growth suffered a substantial loss of 24.9 per cent. This is considerably more than the average fund's decline of 14.2 per cent. You do not specify whether or not distributions have been reinvested. For a person trying to build capital, this is an important means of compounding growth and I strongly advise you to do so if you are not. There is no question that your fund has lost ground. But in an up-market Channing should pull ahead to improve your position.

Flying Tiger Has A Busy February

LOS ANGELES (BW) — Air Cargo traffic on the Flying Tiger line produced another strong increase in February, totaling 30,609,301 ton miles, a gain of 156 per cent over the 11,963,712 ton miles reported for the same month last year.

Missile Contract

WASHINGTON (UPI) — General Dynamics Corp. has received a $4.7 million Navy contract for standard arm missiles (SAM) for both the Navy and the Air Force.

ELDON G. BIRD
Wins Eagle Scout Award

Eagle Rank For Novato Boy Scout

Eldon G. Bird, 15, a ninth grade student at San Jose Junior High School in Novato, has been awarded the Eagle Scout rank, highest in scouting, at court of honor at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Members of Explorer Post 27 formed the honor guard Tuesday night. Air Force Col. (Ret.) M. J. Stublarec, former base commander, made the presentation.

Eldon's scouting career started with a cub pack at Spangdahlem Air Base, Germany in 1962. He joined Troop 27 at Hamilton in 1966. He has been den chief, patrol leader, scribe and instructor in the troop. He has earned the mile swim award twice, the Scout life guard award and the God and Country Award.

When he was patrol leader, his patrol earned the Presidential Award in the Novato District scouting skills competition. He took part last summer in the 12-day 80 mile trek at Philmont Boy Scout Camp at Cimmaron, N.M. He is a member of the Order of the Arrow and Knights of Dunimas.

He organized and led a drive to collect reading material and food for the young people in Marin County Juvenile Hall for his Eagle Community Project.

He is the son of Air Force Col. (Ret.) and Mrs. Grant M. Bird of 70 Corte Alta, Novato.

The first "apple polisher" in recorded history was a Sumerian schoolboy who, some 2,000 years before the Christian era began, buttered up his teacher with a home-cooked meal. Tablets unearthed in Iran related this story.

Announcing the most long awaited gasoline development in history!

BEFORE

"A clear balloon was attached to the exhaust pipe of this car with the engine running. The balloon began to fill with dirty exhaust until it looked like this—showing how exhaust emissions from dirty engines go into the air—and waste mileage."

Scott Carpenter
Astronaut /Aquanaut
Personally witnesses this dramatic demonstration.

AFTER F-310

"The same car—after running on just six tanksful of Chevron with Formula F-310. Dirty exhaust emissions reduced sharply. The balloon remains clear! No dirty smoke. F-310 turns dirty smoke into good clean mileage."

Now, research scientists at Standard Oil Company of California have developed a remarkable new gasoline additive—Formula F-310*—that sharply reduces dirty exhaust from dirty engines. And helps toward cleaner air.

Tests conducted by Scott Research Laboratories, an independent research group, showed that Chevron gasolines with F-310 reduced unburned hydrocarbon and carbon monoxide emissions dramatically. Clearly, this is an important step towards solving one of today's major problems.

What causes an engine to produce dirty exhaust in the first place? Over a period of time, deposits make engines "run rich." They actually consume more gasoline than they can burn efficiently. Result: wasted gasoline goes out the exhaust pipe as unburned hydrocarbons, along with increased carbon monoxide emissions.

You can even see the emissions as dirty smoke. And you can feel—and hear—the rough idling.

It all adds up to a car that is unnecessarily emitting dirty exhaust and wasting gasoline. Just six tanksful with F-310 can correct the condition.

Formula F-310, is now in all three grades of Chevron gasolines, at Standard Stations and independent Chevron Dealers.

In its formula and effectiveness, F-310 is unlike any other additive in any other gasoline.
